Interpersonal Relationships Martha Peaslee Levine, 2022-07-27 Relationships are a necessary part of life This has always been true community helped keep us safe as dangerous animals prowled outside our caves We are now even more interconnected with each other What do we know about interpersonal relationships How do we develop the skills to connect with each other Relationships can bring value and meaning to our lives but sometimes they can have negative effects and impair our view of ourselves and others We need to find ways to keep hope even if some relationships have scarred us We need to recognize skills that we can use to form closer relationships in both our professional and personal lives This book examines interpersonal relationships from many different angles It will allow the reader to look at relationships in new ways and perhaps find tools to enhance and deepen connections within their lives

Employment Security Review , 1951      The Relationship of Organizational Trust and Job Satisfaction Phuong Callaway, 2007 The issues of trust and job satisfaction have taken on a greater strategic importance in organizations since the post Enron scandal Without trust or the lack of it among organizational members and between management and employees organizational communication knowledge management organizational performance and involvement may tend to close down Trust has been identified as a crucial ingredient for organizational effectiveness A linkage between trust and job satisfaction in private organizations has been established by researchers however in the U S federal government the linkage between organizational trust and job satisfaction has not yet been studied This study therefore explores the relationship between organizational trust and job satisfaction in seven selected small medium and large U S federal agencies This study indicated that there are no significant differences between males and females however significant differences in attitudes between supervisors and nonsupervisors were found regarding what good communications meant and how they interpret the question top management truly listens to employees concerns Nonsupervisors tend to disagree more frequently than supervisors The study also found that there are significant association between gender age group job location position and occupation and agency The differences in attitudes between supervisors and nonsupervisors about what would make communications seem good and what would contribute to the belief that top management listens to employees concerns lead to the conclusion that there is a disconnection among organizational members and among management and employees This disconnection may lead to mistrust job dissatisfaction and the difficulty in attracting and retention of human talents     Opening Doors to Truth and Love S.
