Relaxation A Comprehensive Manual For Adults Children And Children With Special Needs:

Relaxation June Groden, Leslie Weidenman, Amy Diller, 2016-07-20 This new expanded edition focuses on teaching relaxation procedures to an often underserved and overlooked population individuals with autism and other developmental disabilities Drawing on their 35 years of experience with these individuals the authors provide numerous illustrations and simple descriptions of relaxation procedures so therapists parents and teachers can without prior training learn relaxation themselves and teach it to others Relaxation Joseph R. Cautela, June Groden, 1978 This unique contribution to the field of relaxation training presents 1 self relaxation techniques designed for adults 2 methods for teaching relaxation to adults and older children and 3 procedures for teaching relaxation to young children and children with developmental disabilities The clear concise text is supplemented by over 100 helpful illustrations Girls Growing Up on the Autism Spectrum Shana Nichols, 2009-01-15 This book covers the concerns faced by girls with ASDs and their parents from periods and puberty to friendships and fitting in Looking at these issues within the context of specific areas of difficulty for girls with ASDs the authors provide families with the knowledge and advice they need to help the whole family through the teenage years

Programming Effective Human Services Walter Christian, 2012-12-06 Human service programming has been the focus of much public scrutiny legislative action and applied research in recent years As a result human service providers have learned to exhibit greater respect for the needs and legal rights of their consumers the appropriateness and cost effectiveness of treatment procedures and service programs and the personnel and facilities involved in providing services to consumers Despite this encouraging trend many human service agencies are still trying unsuccessfully to meet the two fundamental criteria of effective programming 1 providing services that are effective in meeting the needs of the consumer and 2 equipping consumers to function independently of the human service system to the extent possible For example there appears to be a general acceptance of the notion that custodial institutional service programs are needed despite the fact that they are ineffective in rehabilitating and transitioning clients to the community and that they are difficult to change In addition although community based service programs have been developed as alternatives to institutional placement there is rarely sufficient transitional planning and programming to facilitate the client's progress from the institution to the community Although these problems generally are acknowledged most human service managers and practitioners are ill equipped to deal with them Specifically the technology of human service management is in need of improvement It is more theoretical than practical and it lacks sufficient field testing and empirical validation Understanding and Treating Self-Injurious Behavior in Autism Stephen M. Edelson, Jane Johnson, 2016-05-05 A complete guide for parents and practitioners on understanding and treating self injury in autism ASD With contributions by top experts the book explains various forms of self injury discusses the treatment options available including medical psychiatric and nutritional treatments and considers the effectiveness of integrated approaches The Sierras Weight-Loss Solution for Teens and Kids
