Religion And Disability Perspectives In Scripture Theology And Ethics:

Sports, Religion and Disability Nick J. Watson, Andrew Parker, 2016-04-14 This ground breaking book provides a fascinating insight into the relationship between sports and leisure religion and disability In the shadow of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games at which athletes that were both able bodied and disabled provided an extravaganza of sporting excellence and drama this text is a timely and important synthesis of ideas that have emerged in two previously distinct areas of research i disability sport and ii the theology of disability Many of the elite athletes at this global sporting mega event often explicitly displayed their religious beliefs and in turn their importance in the context of sport by observing different religious rituals and or utilising the multi faith sports chaplaincy service This raises a whole range of unanswered questions with regard to the intersections between sports religion and disability which to date has been under researched Examples of subjects addressed in this text include elite physical disability sport Paralympics intellectual disability sport Special Olympics reflections on the illness narrative of the cyclist Lance Armstrong through the lens of the theology of radical orthodoxy the application of biblical athletic metaphors in understanding modern conceptions of disability sport the role of sport and spirituality in the rehabilitation of injured British Military personnel and the importance of sports and leisure in L Arche communities This book begins a critical conversation on these topics and many others for both researchers and practitioners This book was based on two special issues of the Journal of Religion Disability and Health breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice. Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to prove challenge and shift commonly held social understanding of disability in traditional discourses. Frontiers and practices in prominent areas such as international development, disability studies, education, culture, health, religion, gender, sports, tourism, ICT, theatre, media, housing and legislation. This handbook provides a body of interdisciplinary analyses suitable for the development of disability studies in southern Africa. Through drawing upon and introducing resources from several disciplines, theoretical perspectives and personal narratives from disability activists, it reflects on disability and sustainable development in southern Africa. It also addresses a clear need to bring together interdisciplinary perspectives and narratives on disability and sustainable development in ways that do not undermine disability politics advanced by disabled people across the world. The handbook further acknowledges and builds upon the huge body of literature that understands the social, cultural, educational, psychological, economic, historical and political facets of the exclusion of disabled people. The handbook covers the following broad themes: Disability inclusion, ICT and sustainable development, Access to education from early childhood development up to higher education, Disability employment, entrepreneurship and community based rehabilitation, Religion, gender and parenthood, Tourism, sports and accessibility. Compelling narratives from disability activists on societal attitudes toward disability, media advocacy, accessible housing and social exclusion. Thus, this much awaited handbook provides students, academics, practitioners, development partners, policy makers and activists with an authoritative framework for critical thinking and debates that inform policy and practice in incomparable ways with the view to promoting inclusive and sustainable development.

The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa Tsitsi Chataika, 2018-07-27 This comprehensive ground

Religion, Disability, and Sustainable Development in Africa Chioma Ohajunwa, Kudakwashe 'AK' Dube, Ezra Chitando, 2025-02-14. This book investigates the interplay between disability and religion in Africa and what this means in the context of the Sustainable Development Goals. The importance of meeting the needs of people with disabilities is highlighted specifically in several Sustainable Development Goals as well as being emphasised as a cross cutting issue across all the goals. Over 1 billion people are estimated to be living with disabilities and 80% of this population live in the Global South, many within Africa. This book argues that within this context, religion must be considered as people with disabilities often turn to religion for solace in confronting the daily struggles and pains that they face. Drawing on multiple disciplinary lenses, this book reflects on how traditional indigenous Abrahamic and other African minority religions and philosophies interact with disability and how this relates to the Sustainable Development Goals. The book demonstrates how religions in Africa conceptualise, imagine or re-imagine disability in the context of key themes such as gender, ecological justice, health, poverty, education employment entrepreneurship and migration Overall the book invites researchers from across the social sciences to consider how African religious theological and philosophical ideas can help towards the inclusion of people with disabilities in the 2030 development agenda in Africa

Spirituality in Nursing Mary Elizabeth O'Brien, 2014 Spirituality in Nursing Standing on Holy Ground Fifth Edition explores the relationship between spirituality and the practice of nursing from a variety of perspectives including Nursing assessment of patients spiritual needs The nurse's role in the provision of spiritual care The spiritual nature of the nurse patient relationship The spiritual history of the nursing profession Contemporary interest in spirituality within the nursing profession This Fifth Edition includes a new chapter titled Prayer in Nursing which includes information on topics such as the history of prayer in nursing finding time for prayer in nursing prayer and nursing practice and the ethics of praying with patients A second new chapter titled The Spirituality of Caring A Sacred Covenant Model of Caring for Nursing Practice explores the history of spirituality in nurse caregiving and spiritual concepts in nursing theories of caring A concept analysis of nurses caring as a sacred covenant includes the Sacred Covenant Model of Caring for Nursing Practice a model for clinical practice developed by the author

The Hermeneutical Spirit Amos Yong, 2017-11-06 In the contemporary biblical studies climate proposals regarding the theological interpretation of Scripture are contested particularly but not only because they privilege encourage and foster ecclesial or other forms of normative commitments as part and parcel of the hermeneutical horizon through which scriptural texts are read and understood Within this context confessional approaches have been emerging including some from within the nascent pentecostal theological tradition This volume builds on the author's previous work in theological method to suggest a pentecostal perspective on theological interpretation that is rooted in the conviction that all Christian reading of sacred Scripture is post Pentecost meaning after the Day of Pentecost outpouring of the Spirit on all flesh in anticipation of the coming reign of God In that respect such a pentecostal interpretative perspective is not parochially for those within the modern day movement bearing that name but is arguably apostolic in following after the scriptural imagination of the earliest disciples of Jesus the messiah and therefore has ecumenical and missional purchase across space and time The Hermeneutical Spirit thus provides close readings of various texts across the scriptural canon as a model for Christian theological interpretation of Scripture suitable for the twenty first century global context

Religion and Disability Marilyn Bishop, 1995 In the opening essay noted scripture scholar Donald Senior identifies certain themes often associated with scripture such as the distinction between clean and unclean and the notion that sin and guilt somehow cause sickness and disability that contribute to non welcoming attitudes to the disabled

A Transformatory Ethic of Inclusion Jayne Clapton, 2009-01-01 Inclusion is a topical notion which underpins contemporary human service practices and policies within Western Judeo Christian societies Inclusion is most often considered within socio historical and socio political contexts whereby technical and legislative responses are sought However this book explores the question How ethically defensible is the notion of inclusion in relation to people with intellectual disability The book contends that inclusion is a multifaceted complex concept in a dualistic and dichotomous relationship with exclusion It is argued that historical and contemporary conceptualisations of exclusion for people with intellectual disability have been constructed from various philosophical and theological matrices imbued with particular values about personhood Furthermore it is proposed that the ethical significance of inclusion and exclusion in the context of intellectual disability is defined and perpetuated by expressions of a particular socio symbolic order underpinned by patriarchy and kyriarchy and subjected to two controlling ethics an Ethic of Normalcy and an Ethic of Anomaly Inclusion and exclusion are conceived as phenomena relating to how membership is defined legitimated or repelled by concealed occluding boundaries acting within a patriarchal socio ethical fabric The book argues that Ethical Inclusion is only possible through the rupture of these boundaries by a conceptual tool A Transformatory Ethic of Inclusion This conceptual instrument of rupture embraces the scholarship of feminist ethics and feminist theology Such a rupture requires examining the ways traditional ethical frameworks themselves have conceptually diminished and devalued the authenticity of people with intellectual disability A concept of integrality becomes imaginable Conceptual analysis is framed using a crafting metaphor of a patchwork quilt which is infused with narrative and by which such an ethical exploration is undertaken and impaired traditional ethical theorising is confronted and transformed

Reaching out and Bringing In David W Anderson, 2013-04-17 Reaching Out and Bringing In is designed to help pastors and church leaders develop a biblical perspective on disability and the church's role in ministering to individuals and families affected by disability a must read for those who minister to and with persons with disabilities and even as a Bible study for all Christians Dana Croxton founder of Enable Ministries Dr Anderson's book challenges the church community to reach out to people and families affected by disability and to consider ways the church can minister to and with people with disabilities The book includes insightful and relevant questions at the end of each chapter making it perfect for reading and discussion by church staff church boards and in small group or Sunday school settings Brian Funk area director Joni and Friends Eastern Pennsylvania Lancaster Dr Anderson sounds a wakeup call to the church The book's call for personal heart change is coupled with a challenge to the church to greater action and intentional outreach Vonn Dornbush DMin pastor of missions and outreach Calvary Church Roseville Minnesota

Spirituality in Nursing Mary O'Brien, 2010-10-25 This book explores the relationship between spirituality and the practice of nursing providing students and professionals with invaluable insights from a variety of perspectives Although an effort has been made to include examples of patient needs supported by both data and literature relative to other religious affiliations the overall orientation of the work is derived primarily from the Judeo Christian tradition Preface

A Nurse's Handbook of Spiritual Care Mary Elizabeth O'Brien, 2004 Provides guidance for the spiritual care of all patients with varying ailments

Disability and Community Living Policies Arie Rimmerman, 2017-07-14 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the roots of institutionalization deinstitutionalization legislation and policies of the twentieth century and twenty first century efforts to promote community living policies domestically and internationally particularly through the role of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities UNCRPD a landmark treaty adopted on 13 December 2006 Rimmerman shows that deinstitutionalization and community living cannot be examined only in terms of the number of institutions closed but also through the substantial change in values legislation and policies supporting personalization as well as the social participation of people with disabilities The book includes a significant exploration of United States legislation and important Supreme Court decisions compared with European policies toward community living Finally it discusses the importance of Articles 12 and 19 of the convention and demonstrates the case of Israel that has used the convention as a road map for proposing a new community living policy

Critical Terms for Religious Studies, Second Edition Sarah Hammerschlag, 2025-05-21 A new edition of a classic resource composed of twenty three essays written specifically for this volume First published nearly thirty years ago Critical Terms for Religious Studies proved a vital resource for an emerging interdisciplinary conversation We still use much of the same language in the study of religion but fresh concerns have both changed the meaning of terms and given rise to new terms altogether This edition consists of twenty three entirely new essays that offer students and scholars alike the tools to historicize and evaluate the shifting role of familiar and emerging critical terms in religious studies These are critical terms both because they are important in our cultural moment and because thinking through them reveals how religions are embedded in and shaped by material social economic and political forces A shared conviction unites contributors from a range of traditions and methodologies a recognition that our world is saturated by the persistence of religious traditions as shape shifting not static or transcendent forces of authority as powerful today as ever before
