Metropolitan Museum of Art website Rembrandt's Passion Series Simon McNamara, 2015-05-13 Rembrandt's Passion Series is the name given to five paintings of similar size and format executed over a six year time frame 1633-39. The works were commissioned by Frederick Hendrick Prince of Orange and Stadtholder of the United Provinces for his gallery at The Hague. Although each of the paintings depicts a traditional scene from the Passion of Christ they do not form anything like a complete Passion Cycle. Seven years later Hendrick ordered a further two works of the same size and format of subjects from the Nativity of Christ. Six of the seven paintings now hang in the Alte Pinakothek Munich. As the works were executed between Rembrandt's well documented early Leiden period and his rapid rise to prominence as a portraitist in Amsterdam the works have not attracted the scholarly attention they might although the commission was undoubtedly the most prestigious of the young Rembrandt's career. Rembrandt's Passion Series is the first monograph to focus solely on this important group of paintings by the most famous artist of the Dutch Golden Age. In it Simon McNamara traces the history of the commission by way of extant documentation, places the works in a seventeenth century Dutch religious milieu and shows how the series is both reflective of contemporary theological exegesis and embedded in theoretical artistic debates of the age. The book also highlights the extraordinary nature of the self-images seen in three of the paintings and discusses the legacy of the series in later graphic works by Rembrandt and in paintings by his pupils. In doing so Rembrandt's Passion Series presents a series of unifying factors both stylistically and thematically for the works that allows the Passion Series to be properly and finally called a series.

Rubens Joost vander Auwera, 2007 Over the past four years the Royal Fine Arts Museums of Belgium have undertaken a huge research Defining the Holy Sarah Hamilton, 2016-12-05 Holy sites both public churches, monasteries, shrines and more private domestic chapels, oratories populated the landscape of medieval and early modern Europe, providing contemporaries with access to the divine. These sacred spaces thus defined religious experience and were fundamental to both the geography and social history of Europe over the course of 1 000 years. But how were these sacred spaces both public and private defined? How were they created, used, recognised and transformed? And to what extent did these definitions change over the course of time and in particular as a result of the changes wrought in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries? Taking a strongly interdisciplinary approach, this volume tackles these questions from the point of view of archaeology, architectural and art history, liturgy and history to consider the fundamental interaction between the sacred and the profane. Exploring the establishment of sacred space within both the public and domestic spheres as well as the role of the secular within the sacred sphere, each chapter provides fascinating insights into how these concepts helped shape and were shaped by wider society. By highlighting these issues on a European basis from the medieval period through the age of the reformation, these essays demonstrate the significance of continuity as much as change in definitions of sacred space and thus identify long term trends which have hitherto been absent in more limited studies. As such, this volume provides essential reading for anyone with an interest in the ecclesiastical development of western Europe from the thirteenth to the eighteenth centuries
