Seeing Things Television In An Age Of Uncertainty:

Seeing Things John Ellis, Television the author argues responds to two powerful desires of our age it makes us witnesses of often traumatic events and it tries and fails to provide us with narratives that make sense of the world The author makes sense of modern television both by exploring its processes and in terms of its dynamic relationships with the cultures that provide it with raw material Television he proposes offers us multiple ways of understanding the world yet does not arbitrate between them He explores this process as one of working through whereby television news takes in the chaos and conflict of the world and subsequent programmes of all kinds offer diverse ways of unravelling its confusions from the psychobabble of talk shows to the open narratives of soaps documentaries and dramas By means of this working through problems are exhausted rather than resolved The author demonstrates how television's function in its new era is no longer that of building consensus rather it uses all the means at its disposal including sophisticated computer graphics to mediate between conflicting approaches to our age of uncertainty

Fernsehen: Europäische Perspektiven Elizabeth Prommer, Susanne Eichner, 2014-10-01 Für den vorliegenden zweisprachigen Band deutsch englisch haben sich Wissenschaftlerinnen und Wissenschaftler aus acht europäischen Ländern mit den Produktionskontexten der Entwicklung von neuen Genres und einer neuen Fernsehästhetik aber auch mit Publikumperspektiven beschäftigt um so eine Vielfalt an europäischen Perspektiven auf das alte und gleichzeitig neue Medium Fernsehen zu bieten Vor dem Hintergrund von Digitalisierung Globalisierung Second und Multi Screen Umgebungen und der ständigen zeitlichen und räumlichen Verfügbarkeit der bewegten Bilder schreibt sich das Fernsehen mit seinen multiplen Facetten kontinuierlich weiter. Es reflektiert dabei aktuelle gesellschaftliche Entwicklungen und verleiht diese ein. Das Fernsehen mit seiner populären Anziehungskraft ist dabei sowohl nationales als auch transnationales Phänomen. Dies ist Anlass sich mit dem Medium Fernsehen aus einer aktuellen und europäischen Perspektive zu beschäftigen. The Handbook of European Communication History Klaus Arnold, Paschal Preston, Susanne Kinnebrock, 2019-10-15. A groundbreaking handbook that takes a cross-national approach to the media history of Europe of the past 100 years. The Handbook of European Communication History is a definitive and authoritative handbook that fills a gap in the literature to provide a coherent and chronological history of mass media, public communication and journalism in Europe from 1900 to the late 20th century. With contributions from teams of scholars and members of the European Communication Research and Education Association, the Handbook explores media innovations, major changes and developments in the media systems that affected public communication as well as societies and culture. The contributors also examine the general trends of communication history and review debates related to media development. To ensure a transnational approach to the topic, the majority of chapters are written not by a single author but by international teams formed around one or more lead authors. The Handbook goes beyond national perspectives and provides a basis for more cross-national treatments of historical developments in the field of mediated communication. Indeed, this important Handbook offers fresh insights on the development of media alongside key differences between countries, regions or media systems over the past century. Takes a fresh cross-national approach to European media history. Contains contributions from leading international scholars in this rapidly evolving area of study. Explores the major innovations, key developments, differing trends and the important debates concerning the media in the European setting. Written for students and academics of communication and media studies as well as media professionals. The Handbook of European Communication History covers European media from 1900 with the emergence of the popular press to the professionalization of journalists and the first wave of multimedia with the advent of film and radio broadcasting through the rapid growth of the Internet and digital media since the late 20th century. The End of Television? Elihu Katz, Paddy Scannell, 2009-09-17. Is television dead? The classic television era of the 1950s and 1960s, characterized by limited choices of programs broadcast on over-the-air channels to families as if they were seated around a hearth and to a nation as if gathered around a campfire, has indeed ended. That early stage of sharedness and scarcity gave way to the television of plenty when satellite and cable and competition reigned; choice was suddenly expanded and every room in the home had its own television set. And now television offers infinite choices where we can view what we like when we like where we like on a variety of screens, telephones and Web sites. Some researchers assert that television is not dead but has merely moved from a collectivist to an individualist phase. Throughout the drastic evolution of this media, thousands of studies have examined the short-term effects of television such as the evaluation of persuasion campaigns. Yet there is scant research on the overreaching sociological impacts of television and its centrality to Western culture over the past 60 years This compelling volume of The ANNALS is the first collection of rigorous articles devoted to studying ways in which television has impacted our values ideologies institutions social structure and culture Focusing on classic television these leading experts in media studies delve into the effects on social institutions namely family and politics and its effects on values and everyday behavior These seminal articles lay the groundwork for innovative studies of the numerous ways that television has impacted democracy social integration nation and family trust and suspiciousness materialism and identity social and physical Students and researchers will find a wealth of inspiration for new research projects It is a must have resource for social scientists interested in media studies

An Introduction to Television Studies Jonathan Bignell, 2013 An Introduction to Television Studies is a comprehensive introduction to the field It provides resources for thinking about key aspects and introduces institutional textual cultural economic production and audience centred ways of looking at television

Transmedia Television Elizabeth Evans, 2011-02-25 Transmedia Television uses empirical audience research to explore attitudes towards the dramatic changes that television has undergone since the turn of the twenty first century due to the development of digital technologies It asks to what extent audiences are embracing these changes and what television means in a multiplatform media landscape

Installation and the Moving Image Catherine Elwes, 2015-05-12 Film and video create an illusory world a reality elsewhere and a material presence that both dramatizes and demystifies the magic trick of moving pictures Beginning in the 1960s artists have explored filmic and televisual phenomena in the controlled environments of galleries and museums drawing on multiple antecedents in cinema television and the visual arts This volume traces the lineage of moving image installation through architecture painting sculpture performance expanded cinema film history and countercultural film and video from the 1960s 1970s and 1980s Sound is given due attention along with the shift from analogue to digital issues of spectatorship and the insights of cognitive science Woven into this genealogy is a discussion of the procedural political theoretical and ideological positions espoused by artists from the mid twentieth century to the present Historical constructs such as Peter Gidal s structural materialism Maya Deren s notion of vertical and horizontal time and identity politics are reconsidered in a contemporary context and intersect with more recent thinking on representation subjectivity and installation art The book is written by a critic curator and practitioner who was a pioneer of British video and feminist art politics in the late 1970s Elwes writes engagingly of her encounters with works by Anthony McCall Gillian Wearing David Hall and Janet Cardiff and her narrative is informed by exchanges with other practitioners While the book addresses the key formal theoretical and historical parameters of moving image installation it ends with a question What s in it for the artist

Television as Digital Media James Bennett, Niki Strange, 2011-02-11 Collection of essays that consider television as a digital media form and the aesthetic cultural and industrial changes that this shift has provoked
