a sustained argument against the French Revolution Though Burke is in many ways not interested in rational close analysis of the arguments in favour of the revolution he points out a crucial flaw in revolutionary thought upon which he builds his argument For Burke that flaw was the sheer threat that revolution poses to life property and society Sceptical about the utopian urge to utterly reconstruct society in line with rational principles Burke argued strongly for conservative progress a continual slow refinement of government and political theory which could move forward without completely overturning the old structures of state and society Old state institutions he reasoned might not be perfect but they work well enough to keep things ticking along Any change made to improve them therefore should be slow not revolutionary While Burke s arguments are deliberately not reasoned in the rational style of those who supported the revolution they show persuasive reasoning at its very best Let Youth But Know William Archer,1905 Sea Life in Nelson's Time John Masefield,1905 The English Catalogue of Books Sampson Low,1906 Volumes for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers
