A Cross-Cultural Dialogue on Health Care Ethics Harold Coward, Pinit Ratanakul, 2006-01-01. The ethical theories employed in health care today assume in the main a modern Western philosophical framework. Yet the diversity of cultural and religious assumptions regarding human nature, health and illness, life and death, and the status of the individual suggest that a cross-cultural study of health care ethics is needed. A Cross Cultural Dialogue on Health Care Ethics provides this study. It shows that ethical questions can be resolved by examining the ethical principles present in each culture, critically assessing each value, and identifying common values found within all traditions. It encourages the development of global awareness and sensitivity to and respect for the diversity of peoples and their values and will advance understanding as well as help to foster a greater balance and a fuller truth in consideration of the human condition and what makes for health and wholeness.

Nursing Ethics Associate Professor in the Department of Human Genetics, Michael J. Deem, Michael J. Deem, Jennifer H. Lingler, 2024. This edited volume brings together a wide-ranging set of original interdisciplinary essays on nursing ethics, filling a significant gap in the literature. The volume provides focused, in-depth treatments of the foundations of nursing ethics, the identities and roles of nurses in clinical care and research, and challenging ethical and practical questions arising in nursing practice. The volume pushes these topics and boundaries beyond what is typically found in broad, comprehensive introductory texts, providing an essential resource to academics, clinicians, and nursing researchers.
