Ph.D.,2010-10-29 This authoritative overview serves as a comprehensive resource on Eritrea s history politics economy society and culture Located in eastern Africa bordering the Red Sea between Djibouti and Sudan Eritrea is a poor but developing East African country the capital of which is Asmara Formerly a province of Ethiopia Eritrea became independent on May 24 1993 following a 30 year struggle that culminated in a referendum vote for independence Written materials on most aspects of Eritrean history and culture are quite scarce Eritrea fills that gap with an exhaustive thematically organized overview It examines Eritrean geography the history of Eritrea since the ancient period and the government politics economy society cultures and people of the modern nation Though based largely on the documentary record the book also recognizes the value of oral history among the people of Eritrea and incorporates that history as well Leading sources are quoted at length to provide analysis and perspective Cultural Heritage Preservation for Vulnerable Territories Francesco Augelli,Susanna Bortolotto,2025-10-12 This book frames the many sided fragilities of the Ghoufi Canyon Aur s region Algeria s heritage It originates from a long international cooperation between Politecnico di Milano Italy dealing with architectural preservation and adaptive reuse s teaching and research activities and Biskra University Algeria From the preservation of landscape heritage to historical cities and settlements preservation and ancient and modern architecture preservation the tangible and intangible cultural heritage protection and valorization from the social repercussions to the environmental issues this book introduces different aspects of Ghoufi territory s cultural richness and fragility The common aim of the rich mosaic of case studies presented at different scales is mapping understanding and considering the weaknesses of sites to be addressed sustainably This is done while seeking cultural resilience driven preservation solutions regarding operational guidelines and policies risk assessment social awareness and teaching innovation There is also a focus on virtuous multi scale management of advanced digital technologies used to describe the current conditions and to drive the compatible design methodology on cultural heritage

Biopolitics, Militarism, and Development David O'Kane, Tricia Redeker Hepner, 2009-03-01 Bringing together original contemporary ethnographic research on the Northeast African state of Eritrea this book shows how biopolitics the state led deployment of disciplinary technologies on individuals and population groups is assuming particular forms in the twenty first century Once hailed as the African country that works Eritrea's apparently successful post independence development has since lapsed into economic crisis and severe human rights violations This is due not only to the border war with Ethiopia that began in 1998 but is also the result of discernible tendencies in the high modernist style of social mobilization for development first adopted by the Eritrean government during the liberation struggle 1961 1991 and later carried into the post independence era The contributions to this volume reveal and interpret the links between development and developmentalist ideologies intensifying militarism and the controlling and disciplining of human lives and bodies by state institutions policies and discourses Also assessed are the multiple consequences of these policies for the Eritrean people and the ways in which such policies are resisted or subverted This insightful comparative volume places the Eritrean case in a broader global and transnational context

Soldiers, Martyrs, Traitors, and Exiles Tricia M. Redeker Hepner, 2009-08-11 The first ethnography of the Eritrean struggle for independence documents the transnational dimensions of revolution and nation building from the dual perspective of both Eritrea and its U S diaspora

Maritime Sector, Institutions, and Sea Power of Premodern China K. Gang Deng, 1999-10-30 Challenging the stereotype of premodern China as an agricultural nation this book examines the development of the maritime sector maritime institutions and sea power in the premodern era Initially discussing topics related to China's exports such as ship design and construction goods produced solely for export capital accumulation and investment in the maritime sector and trade networking the volume goes on to consider the impact of maritime institutions governmental trade and non trade policies and Confucian attitudes toward maritime activities Finally the book shows how China obtained technological economic and naval supremacy in Asian waters until the 18th century and goes on to discuss the reasons for the decline of the maritime sector in the 19th century

Charting Twentieth-Century Monetary Policy Silvano A. Wueschner, 1999-04-30 Herbert Hoover as Secretary of Commerce and Benjamin Strong as Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York played a critical role in the formulation of American monetary policy during the 1920s Yet little attention has been given to the relationship between them at first cooperative then increasingly one of conflict and factionalism or to the impact of that relationship on policy formulation This book sheds new light on their roles in policy making and relates those roles to larger conflicts over where policy should be made how the Federal Reserve System should be structured and the balance that should be struck between international national and regional considerations Focusing on the Hoover Strong relationship from a political rather than a purely economic perspective the book's scope includes both domestic and international aspects of Federal Reserve policy formulation. New sources have enabled the author to provide both fresh details and a broader interpretation. Elaborating on the belief that the Depression resulted from policies developed during the autumn of 1927, the author contends that the foundation for those policies was laid with America's decision to underwrite the Dawes plan, the decision to underwrite England's return to the gold standard, and the involvement in European monetary stabilization, all issues over which Hoover and Strong disagreed.

Multicultural America Ronald H. Bayor, 2011-07-22 This encyclopedia contains 50 thorough profiles of the most numerically significant immigrant groups now making their homes in the United States, telling the story of our newest immigrants and introducing them to their fellow Americans. One of the main reasons the United States has evolved so quickly and radically in the last 100 years is the large number of ethnically diverse immigrants that have become part of its population. People from every area of the world have come to America in an effort to realize their dreams of more opportunity and better lives, either for themselves or for their children. This book provides a fascinating picture of the lives of immigrants from 50 countries who have contributed substantially to the diversity of the United States, exploring all aspects of the immigrants' lives in the old world as well as the new. Each essay explains why these people have come to the United States, how they have adjusted to and integrated into American society, and what portends for their future. Accounts of the experiences of the second generation and the effects of relations between the United States and the sending country round out these unusually rich and demographically detailed portraits.

Keynes David Felix, 1999-03-30 Only a person of Keynes's unique character could have achieved what he did. After teaching neoclassical economics for two decades, he developed an extraordinary theory, extraordinary in that it built upon the theoretical complex he intended to overthrow and extraordinary in that it provided the best guidance for defeating the Depression of the 1930s and managing an economy thereafter. This biography shows how Keynes's personality left its stamp on his ideas, the connections between his all too human quirks and his theorizing, between his dominating personality and his success as a policymaker. Although sympathetic to the man, his aims, and his accomplishments, this is the first critical biography of John Maynard Keynes. Based on the mass of material Keynes left behind, including hundreds of letters, the book shows how he thought, rationalized, and acted, as well as the connections between the fallible human and the abstract theory. It shows his transformation from an active homosexual to a contented married man, the relationship giving him a personal and social stability that was important to his achievement. It shows his superb confidence that he was right, even when he completely reversed his previous position, and his unshakable resolution to see his ideas carried out. This is A Critical Life, critical because Keynes's life had a critical impact and because the book takes a critical look at that life.

Vegetal Entwinements in Philosophy and Art Giovanni Aloisi, Michael Marder, 2023-07-04 The first reader in critical plant studies, exploring a rapidly growing multidisciplinary field, the intersection of philosophy with plant science and the visual arts. In recent years, philosophy and art have testified to how anthropocentrism has culturally impoverished our world leading to the wide destruction of habitats and ecosystems In this book Giovanni Aloï and Michael Marder show that the field of critical plant studies can make an important contribution offering a slew of possibilities for scientific research local traditions Indigenous knowledge history geography anthropology philosophy and aesthetics to intersect inform one another and lead interdisciplinary and transcultural dialogues Vegetal Entwinements in Philosophy and Art considers such topics as the presence of plants in the history of philosophy the shifting status of plants in various traditions what it means to make art with growing life forms and whether or not plants have moral standing In an experimental vegetal arrangement the reader presents some of the most influential writing on plants philosophy and the arts together with provocative new contributions as well as interviews with groundbreaking contemporary artists whose work has greatly enhanced our appreciation of vegetal being Contributors Catriona A H Sandilands Giovanni Aloï Marlene Atleo Monica Bakke Emily Blackmer Jodi Brandt Teresa Castro Dan Choffness D Denenge Duyst Akpem Mark Dion Elisabeth E Schussler Braden Elliott Monica Gagliano Elaine Gan Prudence Gibson James H Wandersee Manuela Infante Luce Irigaray Nicholas J Reo Jonathon Keats Zayaan Khan Robin Wall Kimmerer Eduardo Kohn Stefano Mancuso Michael Marder Anguezomo Mba Bikoro Elaine Miller Samaneh Moafi Uriel Orlow Mark Payne Allegra Pesenti pela Petri Michael Pollan Darren Ranco Angela Roothaan Marcela Salinas Diana Scherer Vandana Shiva Linda Tegg Maria Theresa Alves Krista Tippet Anthony Trewavas Alessandra Viola Eduardo Viveiros de Castro B W Mathai Wangari Lois Weinberger Kyle Whyte David Wood Anicka Yi Ecology and the World-System Walter L. Northeast African Studies, 1998 The Politics of Economic Restructuring and Democracy in Africa Obioma M. Iheduru, 1999-06-30 In a bold attempt to develop an innovative theory of political change arising from dual economic and political transformations Iheduru maintains that economic structural adjustment policies have unintended political consequences leading to democratic liberalization in post colonial African states Using classical dependency and neoliberal approaches as a backdrop he demonstrates that structural adjustment policies shaped by conditionality measures foster the operation of free enterprise market forces As a social consequence of the reform effort winners and losers organize to protect their interests first in the economy and later in the political arena Thus the structural reorientation of African economies leads not only to the ascendancy of the market and economic growth but also to the political opening of the African state thereby facilitating the participation of excluded groups In conclusion Iheduru predicts that structural adjustment is the best policy alternative for initiating and sustaining meaningful economic changes in Africa Moreover he claims it may be a deciding factor in the possible democratizing of the African continent which would provide an auspicious atmosphere for a properly functioning market economy Energy and the Rise and Fall of Political Economy Bernard C.

Beaudreau,1999-08-30 The First and Second Industrial Revolutions were about energy steam power revolutionized 19th century Great Britain and electric power revolutionized 20th century America Yet political economy the science of wealth born of the First Industrial Revolution is devoid of energy focusing instead on machinery or capital According to basic mechanics tools per se are not productive as they are not source of energy This book uses basic mechanics and thermodynamics to reexamine the rise of political economy as the science of wealth in the 19th and 20th centuries The study shows that the failure of generations of political economists to formally incorporate energy into their models of production and distribution has led to the unfortunate state in which economics currently finds itself With the inclusion of energy important insights result For instance the Solow Residual in both 19th century Great Britain and 20th century America disappears Unlike previous critiques of political economy this analysis is constructive in nature using past shortcomings and oversights as a springboard to a more consistent model of economic activity especially production The book is the first of its kind to use basic physics and thermodynamics as a guide to the First and Second Industrial Revolutions and more importantly to show how political economists from Smith to Fisher have attempted to understand these two energy based Industrial Revolutions
