Pink Fits Sex Subcultures And Discourses In The Asiapacific:

Youth, Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region Usha M. Rodrigues, Belinda Smaill, 2009-05-05 Youth Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region presents an analysis of youth media activities in a diverse but geographically connected Asia Pacific region. The region which is spatially connected by its colonial and imperial past is becoming a significant player in the globalized world. In this context, youth situated in these economically, politically, and socially structured communities are redefining their locales through their patterns of media use. The discourse of youth in this disparate region is manifest in the media through their identity articulations and social activism. The book illustrates that these youth subcultures in the Asia Pacific are part of the well-marketed global consumerism culture and yet at other times independent of the commodifying impetus of global capital. It draws on case studies to examine some of the media practices youth in the region are engaged in and elucidates the process of social change taking place in some Asia Pacific nations. This book contributes to the important and growing field of youth media studies. The regionalization of media research is necessarily recuperated here, bringing large populations of media users into a frame of reference that allows critical reflection on the new waves of use and sociality in the Asia Pacific region. Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Professor of International Studies, UTS. Pink Fits Alison J. Murray, 2001. Murray examines sex work and sexuality as they exist in diverse urban subcultures of Southeast Asia. She considers changing sexualities, street prostitutes, global gay styles, lesbian communities, and responses to the AIDS crisis.

Sex and Sexualities in Contemporary Indonesia Linda Rae Bennett, Sharyn Graham Davies, 2014-12-05. Winner of the 2015 Ruth Benedict Prize for Outstanding Edited Volume. Sex, sexuality, and sexual relationships are hotly debated in Indonesia, triggering complex and often passionate responses. This innovative volume explores these issues in a variety of ways. It highlights historical and newer forms of sexual diversity as well as the social responses they provoke. It critiques differing representations of sexuality, pointing to the multiplicity of discourses within which sexuality and the sexual are understood in modern-day Indonesia. Placing sexuality centre stage and locating it within the specific historical context of the Reformasi era, this landmark volume explores understandings and practices across a wide variety of sites, focusing in on a diverse group of Indonesian actors and the contested meanings that sexuality carries. Beginning with a substantive introduction and concluding with a scholarly reflection on key issues, the volume is framed around the four themes of sexual politics, health, diversity, and representations. It seeks both to present new empirical findings as well as to add to existing theoretical analysis. This work fills an important gap in our understanding of the evolution and contemporary dynamics of Indonesian sexualities. It will be of interest to scholars and academics from disciplines including gender and sexuality studies, global health, sexual and reproductive health, anthropology, sociology, and Asian studies. Women and Sex Work in Cambodia Larissa Sandy, 2014-08-27. Prostitution is strongly embedded in local cultural practices in Cambodia. Based on extensive original research, this book explores the nature of prostitution in Cambodia, providing explanations of why the phenomenon is so widely tolerated It outlines the background of the French colonial period with its filles malades considers the contemporary legal framework and analyses the motivations for sex work examining in particular how women become locked into debt bondage Overall the book provides significant contributions to wider debates about sex work sex trafficking and the constrained nature of women s choices Sex, Love and Money in Cambodia Heidi Hoefinger,2013-07-04 Dealing with the complex and discomfiting grey area where sex love and money collide this book highlights the general materiality of everyday sex that takes place in all relationships In doing so it draws attention to and destigmatizes the transactional elements within many normative partnerships be they transnational inter ethnic or otherwise Focusing on Cambodia and on a subculture of young women employed in the tourist bar scene referred to as professional girlfriends the book shows that the resulting transnational relationships between Cambodian women and their foreign partners are complex and multi layered It argues that the sex for cash prostitution framework is no longer an appropriate model of analysis Instead a new vocabulary of professional girlfriends and transactional sex is used with which the nuanced complexities of these transnational partnerships are analysed Interdisciplinary in nature the book inspires new understandings of gender power sex love desire political economy and materiality within everyday relationships around the globe It is a useful contribution for students and scholars of Anthropology Sociology Southeast Asian Studies Gender and Sexuality Studies and Cultural Studies
