

Make CONNECTIONS

How do readers make connections?

Good readers make connections by using what they already know to connect a text to their life experiences, another text, or the world.

Text to Self:

This reminds me of when I...

Connecting the story to your life & experiences

Text to Text:

This reminds me of a book I read...

Connecting the story to another book

Text to World:

I heard about this on the news when...

Connecting the story to the real world

Arnold, Macmillan Publishing Company, 1987 Connections: Doorways, 1987 Connections, 1987 Connections : Macmillan Reading Program, 1989 MTSS & Reading: The Middle School Connection Karen Kemp, 2018-02-02 Multi Tier Systems of Support MTSS is a proven research based problem solving process to help struggling learners succeed Having been effectively implemented in many elementary schools in recent years MTSS is gaining popularity as a systematic way to address the needs of underachieving students who are struggling with reading at the middle school level This reference guide is designed to provide educators with critical information about MTSS as a framework for reading instruction in middle school and give teachers practical techniques to implement within the general education classroom

Phonics Connections Teacher's Resource Guide Sharon Vaughn, 2015-01-01 This guide includes lessons that allow you to focus on the foundational skills that are so important to emergent readers as they connect sounds to letters decode words and develop a bank of sight words and academic vocabulary In this guide you will find tools to provide students with explicit and systematic phonemic awareness and phonics instruction Each lesson links to an engaging studentbook that introduces phonics skills and provides a strong text to photo match in order to reinforce comprehension and build content area knowledge The Connection Of Reference Sources And The Students' Achievement In Reading Agustinah, S.Pd., 2021-10-09 This monograph can be used to face learners has trouble The learners think reading book is not important Especially for learners has low interest in reading book And for school has low performance in handling learners low interest in reading This monograph is a written form that can be used in This monograph can be used by all levels of education and is also structured to be accurate information to add knowledge and scientific insights about the relationship between reference sources and learners reading achievement So that the hope is that this monograph will become one of the media in strengthening the values that schools treat to increase reading interest in schools This monograph is still not perfect so we hope that there will be constructive input for its improvement The Home-School Connection Bonnie J. Pryor, 1996 This paper written by a school administrator to parents discusses parents role in creating a positive educational environment from providing a structured home life to volunteering in their child s classroom The paper begins by asserting that a primary cause of behavior problems in the classroom is parent child relationships in which the child rather than the parent is dominant thereby creating students who believe they should be the center of attention Society s focus on instant gratification and working parents guilt are also mentioned as contributors to behavior problems The paper recommends sure firm and consistent discipline inside the classroom and at home as a way to raise children who are well adjusted members of society and who display respect and concern for others The paper then offers suggestions for supporting children s academic success such as talking to children about their goals and the necessary steps to achieve them teaching children empathy for other people promoting assertiveness rather than aggressiveness and being a good role model Finally the paper discusses parent participation at school recommending ways parents can approach teachers about volunteering and tasks parents can do for schools The paper concludes by noting that teacher parent contact not only promotes good will between the two but in most cases promotes a positive attitude in the child EV Continued Connections Denise A. Malach,2002 Abstract

Continued Connections was a summer reading program that specifically targeted first grade students who entered second grade in the fall It differed from conventional summer reading programs in design because the emphasis of this program was a continuation of the guided reading instruction received by those students during the academic year The intent of this structure was to maintain the connection from academic year reading instruction to extended summer instruction This extended summer instruction was provided by professional classroom teachers Undoubtedly another unique element was that the teachers went solely TO the students throughout their neighborhood Building community reaching the hardest to reach students and having fun made this literacy program ONE OF A KIND Handbook on the Science of Literacy in
