

Peter and Jane are at home.
They want to make a cat to play with. They want to make a cat like Daddy's.
Jane helps Peter. "It looks good," she says.
"We can make him
with it."

"I want to make it
red," says Peter.
"Yes," says Jane.
"We can make it red."
You and I are red.

Dialogic Oriented Shared Book Reading Practices for Immigrant Children in German Kindergartens Maria Teodora Ping, 2012-04 This book describes a doctoral research project which aims at investigating actual practices of dialogic oriented shared book reading targeting immigrant children in German kindergartens In this particular research project the potential contributions of these practices to children s German as second language learning were also assessed The participants of the study were five native German speaking kindergarten teachers Erzieherinnen and five groups of four to six children ages 3 6 years old The data sources were videotaped shared book reading sessions which were afterwards transcribed and analysed by using content analysis method The analysis phases of the study revealed the following findings 1 there were three different forms of interactions found during the observed shared book reading situations 2 there were various educators strategies and children s behaviours observed during the videotaped shared book reading situations which to some extent were congruent 3 there were potential contributions of different forms of interactions to children s second language learning Eventually the findings of this study are expected to give theoretical and methodological contributions to the field of early childhood second language learning Moreover it is also expected to be a solid empirical basis to support the improvement of language promotion programs for immigrant children in German kindergartens

The Practice and Representation of Reading in England James Raven, Helen Small, Naomi Tadmor, 1996-03-14 Developments in cultural history and literary criticism have suggested alternative ways of addressing the interpretation of reading How did people read in the past Where and why did they read How were the manner and purpose of reading envisaged and recorded by contemporaries and why Drawing on fields as diverse as medieval pedagogy textual bibliography the history of science and social and literary history this collection of fourteen essays highlights both the singularity of personal reading experiences and the cultural conventions involved in reading and its perception An introductory essay offers an important critical assessment of the various contributions to the development of the subject in recent times This book constitutes a major addition to our understanding of the history of readers and reading

Reading Practices, Postcolonial Literature, and Cultural Mediation in the Classroom Ingrid Johnston, Jyoti Mangat, 2012-03-24 In this book Johnston and Mangat consider ways in which particular postcolonial and multicultural literary texts are able to provide a space of cultural mediation for readers from various backgrounds The studies described in the five chapters of the book explore the spaces of convergence of identity culture and literature with students and teachers in high school contexts and undergraduates in university settings In each study readers are responding to texts that are culturally distant from their own literary and experiential histories An objective of each study was to consider the nature of the cultural locations of the reader and the text and the interstitial spaces between these locations The book interrogates readers attempts to negotiate cultural difference in literary contexts and questions how this negotiation requires reading practices traditionally ignored in North American classrooms The book will offer educators at the secondary and post secondary levels rich material to draw upon for a rethinking of the school curriculum and will be of interest to scholars of postcolonial and literary studies

Queer Reading Practices and Sexology in Fin-de-Siècle Literature Zsolt Bojti, 2025-07-28 This book scrutinises the production and transnational distribution of sexological knowledge at the turn of the century The works of three transnationally mobile authors are in the focus The Picture of Dorian Gray 1890 1891 and Teleny 1893 by and attributed to Oscar Wilde The True Story of a Vampire 1894 by Count Stanislaus Eric Stenbock and Imre A Memorandum 1906 by Edward Prime Stevenson The textual analysis is governed by references in all four works to Hungarian culture to demonstrate how they conceptualised Hungarianness and same sex desire simultaneously in the light of the new classificatory science of sexualities coming from German speaking Central Europe By foregrounding a timely literary angle and a culturalist approach this book offers non Anglocentric insights not bound by either language or nationality to shed new light on the interdisciplinary reading practices of late Victorian subjects and the ways they contributed to the emergence of fin de si cle queer fiction Essentials of Assessing, Preventing, and Overcoming Reading Difficulties David A. Kilpatrick,2015-09-08 Practical effective evidence based reading interventions that change students lives Essentials of Understanding and Assessing Reading Difficulties is a practical accessible in depth guide to reading assessment and intervention It provides a detailed discussion of the nature and causes of reading difficulties which will help develop the knowledge and confidence needed to accurately assess why a student is struggling Readers will learn a framework for organizing testing results from current assessment batteries such as the WJ IV KTEA 3 and CTOPP 2 Case studies illustrate each of the concepts covered A thorough discussion is provided on the assessment of phonics skills phonological awareness word recognition reading fluency and reading comprehension Formatted for easy reading as well as quick reference the text includes bullet points icons callout boxes and other design elements to call attention to important information Although a substantial amount of research has shown that most reading difficulties can be prevented or corrected standard reading remediation efforts have proven largely ineffective School psychologists are routinely called upon to evaluate students with reading difficulties and to make recommendations to address such difficulties This book provides an overview of the best assessment and intervention techniques backed by the most current research findings Bridge the gap between research and practice Accurately assess the reason s why a student struggles in reading Improve reading skills using the most highly effective evidence based techniques Reading may well be the most important thing students are taught during their school careers It is a skill they will use every day of their lives one that will dictate in part later life success Struggling students need help now and Essentials of Understanding and Assessing Reading Difficulties shows how to get these students on track
