Lee, 2010-01-13 In the Graeco Roman world the cosmic order was enacted in part through bodies The evaluative divisions between for example women and men humans and animals barbarians and civilized people slaves and free citizens or mortals and immortals could all be played out across the terrain of somatic difference embedded as it was within wider social and cultural matrices This volume explores these thematics of bodies and boundaries to examine the ways in which bodies lived and imagined were implicated in issues of cosmic order and social organisation in classical antiquity It focuses on the body in performance especially in a rhetorical context the erotic body the dressed body pagan and Christian bodies as well as divine bodies and animal bodies The articles draw on a range of evidence and approaches cover a broad chronological and geographical span and explore the ways bodies can transgress and dissolve as well shore up or even create boundaries and hierarchies This volume shows that boundaries are constantly negotiated shifted and refigured through the practices and potentialities of embodiment

Festivals in Latin Literature Anke Walter, 2025-04-26 Festivals feature prominently in Latin literature even in works that are not explicitly dedicated to festive days like Ovid's Fasti Festivals in Latin Literature explores the role of festivals in elegiac lyric and epic poetry as well as historiography In all of these festivals play a more pervasive role than has so far been realised Tibullus elegiac oeuvre rests on an interplay between amatory and festive poetics that even has a political meaning to it and Propertius uses festivals in his fourth book of elegies to question from an amatory perspective the memory typically associated with some key Roman festivals In the poetry of Sulpicia and Ovid's Tristia festivals allow voices that are otherwise marginalised to shape their own fame and commemoration Horace's Odes and the Carmen saeculare rest on an intriguing interplay of festivity in the private sphere which forms but a fleeting and precious moment and the monumentality of public festivals in which the poet styles himself as a master of Roman time Post Vergilian Latin epicists use festivals to explore the fragility of human identity in a world dominated by the gods in Ovid's Metamorphoses and to question

further the commemoration connected with festive days In particular Statius in his Thebaid undermines the foundational importance of festivals in the Aeneid vividly staging the problematic meaning of festivals that convey a premature commemoration of an epic conflict that is unspeakable nefas Finally in Livy's ab urbe condita and Tacitus Histories festivals both provide structure and capture long term developments in Roman history including Rome's rise to power and the collapse of its morals while situating both works in broader historiographical and intertextual dialogues The book sheds new light on these authors and works uncovering their unique festive poetics It demonstrates that Latin literature adds important new aspects to our general understanding of festivals which as seen throughout the book offer even richer avenues of creating meaning and shaping or questioning commemoration than is often assumed Classical Tradition: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Oxford University Press,2010-06-01 This ebook is a selective guide designed to help scholars and students of Islamic studies find reliable sources of information by directing them to the best available scholarly materials in whatever form or format they appear from books chapters and journal articles to online archives electronic data sets and blogs Written by a leading international authority on the subject the ebook provides bibliographic information supported by direct recommendations about which sources to consult and editorial commentary to make it clear how the cited sources are interrelated related This ebook is a static version of an article from Oxford Bibliographies Online Renaissance and Reformation a dynamic continuously updated online resource designed to provide authoritative guidance through scholarship and other materials relevant to the study of European history and culture between the 14th and 17th centuries Oxford Bibliographies Online covers most subject disciplines within the social science and humanities for more information visit www.oxfordbibliographies.com Journal of Neo-Latin Studies Gilbert Tournoy,2002 Volume 51
