forces of capitalism and biases in international and development communication messages provides a historical perspective and a contemporary analysis of the field of international communication and its application to development communication. The book examines how communication media and telecommunications are considered central to globalization and to national development and discusses globalization in history, the role of media, changes in structural biases of media and telecommunication institutions, national forces of capitalism and biases in international and development communication messages. The book is divided into two parts revolving around media institutions and the conditions under which they have been used by the state and private capital. Part One covers international communication and presents the thinking of several well-known authors from areas such as South Asia, East Asia, Europe and North America. Part Two focuses on development communication applications by various active researchers and professors drawn from Latin America, South Asia and North America. With contributions from experts in the field, each part of the book begins with a chapter on theories and closes with one on issues. Chapters within each part examine the distinct and broadly recognized topics of research within each area, such as media corporations in the age of globalization, transnational advertising, the global local dialectic and polysemic effects, development communication campaigns, communication technology and development, and international development communication.

Asia Media and Conflict includes works both on the traditional print and electronic media and on new media including the Internet It explores the role media play in different phases of conflict determined by goal and structure including conflict management conflict resolution and conflict transformation Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint The Routledge Companion to News and Journalism Stuart Allan,2009-10-20 The Routledge Companion to News and Journalism presents an authoritative comprehensive assessment of diverse forms of news media reporting past present and future Including over 50 chapters written by an outstanding team of internationally respected authors the Companion provides scholars and students with a reliable historically informed guide to news media and journalism studies The Companion has the following features It is organised to address a series of themes pertinent to the on going theoretical and methodological development of news and journalism studies around the globe The focus encompasses news institutions production processes texts and audiences Individual chapters are problem led seeking to address real world concerns that cast light on an important dimension of news and journalism and show why it matters Entries draw on a range of academic disciplines to explore pertinent topics particularly around the role of journalism in democracy such as citizenship power and public trust Discussion revolves primarily around academic research conducted in the UK and the US with further contributions from other national contexts thereby allowing international comparisons to be made The Routledge Companion to News and Journalism provides an essential guide to key ideas issues concepts and debates while also stressing the value of reinvigorating scholarship with a critical eye to developments in the professional realm Contributors G Stuart Adam Stuart Allan Chris Atton Brian Baresch Geoffrey Baym W Lance Bennett Rodney Benson S Elizabeth Bird R Warwick Blood Tanja Bosch Raymond Boyle Bonnie Brennen Qing Cao Cynthia Carter Anabela Carvalho Deborah Chambers Lilie Chouliaraki Lisbeth Clausen James R Compton Simon Cottle Ros Coward Andrew Crisell Mark Deuze Roger Dickinson Wolfgang Donsbach Mats Ekstr m James S Ettema Natalie Fenton Bob Franklin Herbert J Gans Mark Glaser Mark Hampton Joseph Harker Jackie Harrison John Hartley Alfred Hermida Andrew Hoskins Shih Hsien Hsu Dale Jacqueline Bengt Johansson Richard Kaplan Carolyn Kitch Douglas Kellner Lars ke Larsson Justin Lewis Jake Lynch Mirca Madianou Donald Matheson Heidi Mau Brian McNair Kaitlynn Mendes M ire Messenger Davies Toby Miller Martin Montgomery Marguerite Moritz Mohammed el Nawawy Henrik rnebring Julian Petley Shawn Powers Greg Philo Stephen D Reese Barry Richards David Rowe Philip Seib Jane B Singer Guy Starkey Linda Steiner Daya Kishan Thassu John Tulloch Howard Tumber Silvio Waisbord Gary Whannel Andrew Williams Barbie Zelizer Radical Communications Michael Tsangaris,2021-11-08 Radical Communications explores unauthorized messages we see in the cities we live in and their impact on the construction of social reality Michael Tsangaris treats the city as a text and examines the political slogans graffiti and street art of Athens as complex visual signs in an alternative communication system He argues that the legitimacy aesthetic value and social acceptability of these expressions depend on the time place and social group or individual that interprets them Finally his analysis reveals the contradictory character of the contemporary city It shows a city of social inequalities cultural diversity multinational encounters of conflicts between age groups and political economic and epidemic crises a city of one dimensional thinking apathy and consumer fetishism but also a city that aspires to the dream of a better society and holds utopian promise

Activism on the Web Veronica Barassi,2015-05-22 Activism on the Web examines the everyday tensions that political activists face as they come to terms with the increasingly commercialized nature of web technologies and sheds light on an important yet under investigated dimension of the relationship between contemporary forms of social protest and internet technologies Drawing on anthropological and ethnographic research amongst three very different political groups in the UK Italy and Spain the book argues that activists everyday internet uses are largely defined by processes of negotiation with digital capitalism These processes of negotiation are giving rise to a series of collective experiences which are defined by the tension between activists democratic needs on one side and the cultural processes reinforced by digital capitalism on the other In looking at the encounter between activist cultures and digital capitalism the book focuses in particular on the tension created by self centered communication processes and networked individualism by corporate surveillance and data mining and by fast capitalism and the temporality of immediacy Activism on the Web suggests that if we want to understand how new technologies are affecting political participation and democratic processes we should not focus on disruption and novelty but we should instead explore the complex dialectics between digital discourses and digital practices between the technical and the social between the political economy of the web and its lived critique
