From Cotton Mill to Business Empire Elisabeth Köll,2020-08-25 The demise of state owned enterprises the transformation of collectives into shareholding cooperatives and the creation of investment opportunities through stock markets indicate China s movement from a socialist state controlled economy toward a socialist market economy Yet contrary to high expectations that China s new enterprises will become like corporations in capitalist countries management often remains under the control of the onetime bureaucrats who ran the socialist enterprises The concepts definitions and interpretations of property rights corporate structures and business practices in contemporary China have historical institutional and cultural roots In tracing the development under founder Zhang Jian 1853 1926 and his successors of the Dasheng Cotton Mill in Nantong into a business group encompassing among other concerns cotton flour and oil mills land development companies and shipping firms the author documents the growth of regional enterprises as local business empires from the 1890s until the foundation of the People's Republic in 1949 She focuses on the legal and managerial evolution of limited liability firms in China particularly issues of control and accountability the introduction and management of industrial work in the countryside and the integration and interdependency of local national and international markets in Unfinished Business Haruo Iquchi, 2020-03-23 Ayukawa Yoshisuke 1880 1967 was the founder of the Nissan conglomerate and the leader of the Manchuria Industrial Development Corporation one of the linchpins of Imperial Japan's efforts to economically exploit its overseas dependencies Despite his close association with the Japanese government from the 1920s to the 1950s Ayukawa was a proponent of free trade and global economic interdependence He sought to lessen state control of Japan's economy by trying to attract foreign especially American capital and technology in the years surrounding World War II In the postwar era in particular Ayukawa actively pushed the growth of small and medium sized firms yet his efforts were ultimately unsuccessful In Unfinished Business through exploring the reasons for Ayukawa's failure Haruo Iguchi illuminates many of the economic problems of today s Japan Emotions at Work Aviad E. Raz, 2020-03-23 Our work life is filled with emotions How we feel on the job what we say we feel and what feelings we display all these are important aspects of organizational behavior and workplace culture Rather than focusing on the psychology of personal emotions at work however this study concentrates on emotions as role requirements on workplace emotions that combine the private with the public the personal with the social and the authentic with the masked In this cross cultural study of emotion management the author argues that even though the goals of normative control in factories offices and shops may be similar across cultures organizational structure and the surrounding culture affect how that control is discussed and conceived

Writing Margins Terry Kawashima, 2020-10-26 In texts from the mid Heian to the early Kamakura periods certain figures appear to be marginal or removed from centers of power But why do we see these figures in this way This study first seeks to answer this question by examining the details of the marginalizing discourse found in these texts Who is portraying whom as marginal For what reason Is the discourse consistent The author next considers these texts in terms of the predilection of modern scholarship both Japanese and Western to label certain figures marginal She then poses the question Is this predilection a helpful tool or does it inscribe modern biases and misconceptions onto these texts

The Appropriation of Cultural Capital Milena Doleželová-Velingerová, Oldřich Král, Graham Sanders, 2020-03-23 For much of the twentieth century the May Fourth movement of 1919 was seen as the foundational moment of modernity in China Recent examinations of literary and cultural modernity in China have however led to a questioning of this view By approaching May Fourth from novel perspectives the authors of the eight studies in this volume seek to contribute to the ongoing critique of the movement

The essays are centered on the intellectual and cultural historical motivations and practices behind May Fourth discourse and highlight issues such as strategies of discourse formation scholarly methodologies rhetorical dispositions the manipulation of historical sources and the construction of modernity by means of the reification of China's literary past

On Sacred Grounds Thomas A. Wilson, 2020-03-23 The sacred landscape of imperial China was dotted with Buddhist monasteries Daoist temples shrines to local deities and the altars of the mandarinate Prominent among the official shrines were the temples in every capital throughout the empire devoted to the veneration of Confucius Twice a year members of the educated elite and officials in each area gathered to offer sacrifices to Confucius his disciples and the major scholars of the Confucian tradition The worship of Confucius is one of the least understood aspects of Confucianism even though the temple and the cult were highly visible signs of Confucianism's existence in imperial China To many modern observers of traditional China the temple cult is difficult to reconcile with the image of Confucianism as an ethical humanistic rational philosophy The nine essays in this book are an attempt to recover the meaning and significance of the religious side of Confucianism Among other subjects the authors analyze the social cultural and political meaning attached to the cult its history the legends images and rituals associated with the worship of Confucius the power of the descendants of Confucius the main temple in the birthplace of Confucius and the contemporary fate of temples to Confucius Death and Social Order in Tokugawa Japan Nam-lin Hur, 2020-03-23 Buddhism was a fact of life and death during the Tokugawa period 1600 1868 every household was expected to be affiliated with a Buddhist temple and every citizen had to be given a Buddhist funeral The enduring relationship between temples and their affiliated households gave rise to the danka system of funerary patronage This private custom became a public institution when the Tokugawa shogunate discovered an effective means by which to control the populace and prevent the spread of ideologies potentially dangerous to its power especially Christianity Despite its lack of legal status the danka system was applied to the entire population without exception it became for the government a potent tool of social order and for the Buddhist establishment a practical way to ensure its survival within the socioeconomic context of early modern Japan In this study Nam lin Hur follows the historical development of the danka system and details the intricate interplay of social forces political concerns and religious beliefs that drove this economy of death and buttressed the Tokugawa governing system With meticulous research and careful analysis Hur demonstrates how Buddhist death left its mark firmly upon the world of the Tokugawa Japanese A Time of Crisis Kerry Smith, 2020-05-11 This study of Japan's transformation by the economic crises of the 1930s focuses on efforts to overcome the effects of the Great Depression in rural areas particularly the activities of local activists and policymakers in Tokyo The reactions of inhabitants of rural areas to the depression shed new light on how average Japanese responded to the problems of modernization and how they re created the countryside War Memory and Social Politics in Japan, 1945-2005 Franziska Seraphim, 2020-03-23 Japan has long wrestled with the memories and legacies of World War II In the aftermath of defeat war memory developed as an integral part of particular and divergent approaches to postwar democracy In the last six decades the demands placed upon postwar democracy have shifted considerably from social protest through high economic growth to Japan's relations in Asia and the meanings of the war shifted with them This book unravels the political dynamics that governed the place of war memory in public life Far from reconciling with the victims of Japanese imperialism successive conservative administrations have left the memory of the war to representatives of special interests and citizen movements all of whom used war memory to further their own interests Franziska Seraphim traces the activism of five prominent civic organizations to examine the ways in which diverse organized memories have secured legitimate niches within the public sphere The history of these domestic conflicts over the commemoration of the war dead the manipulation of national symbols the teaching of history or the articulation of relations with China and Korea is crucial to the current discourse about apology and reconciliation in East Asia and provides essential context for the global debate on war memory The Book of Korean Shijo Kevin O'Rourke, 2020-03-23 The Korean genre known as shijo is short song lyrics Originally meant to be sung rather than recited these short poems are light personal and very often conversational The language is simple direct and devoid of elaboration or ornamentation. The shijo poet gives a firsthand account of his personal experience of life and emotion the rise and fall of dynasties friendship love parting the pleasures of wine the beauty and transience of life the inexorable advance of old age In this anthology of translations of 612 shijo Kevin O Rourke introduces the English reader to this venerable and witty style of verse The anthology covers the entire range of shijo production from the tenth century to the modern era

Metamorphosis of the Private Sphere Xiaoshan Yang, 2020-05-11 The Chinese garden has been explored from a variety of angles Much has been written about its structural features as well as its cosmological religious philosophical moral aesthetic and economic underpinnings This book deals with the poetic configurations of the private garden in cities from the ninth to the eleventh century in relation to the development of the private sphere in Chinese literati culture It focuses on the ways in which the new values and rhetoric associated with gardens and the objects found in them helped shape the processes of self cultivation and self imaging among the literati as they searched for alternatives to conventional values at a time when traditional political moral and aesthetic norms were increasingly judged inapplicable or inadequate The garden was also an artifact and a locus for material culture and social competition Focusing on a series of anecdotes about private transactions involving objects in gardens the author dissects the intricate nexus between the exchange of poetry and the poetry of exchange In tracing the development of the private urban garden through the writings of Bai Juyi Su Shi Sima Guang and their contemporaries the author argues that this private space figured increasingly as a place of disengagement for those out of political power and hence was increasingly invaded by political forces

China Made Karl Gerth, 2020-05-11 Chinese people should consume Chinese products This slogan was the catchphrase of a movement in early twentieth century China that sought to link consumption and nationalism by instilling a concept of China as a modern nation with its own national products From fashions in clothing to food additives from museums to department stores from product fairs to advertising this movement influenced all aspects of China's burgeoning consumer culture Anti imperialist boycotts commemorations of national humiliations exhibitions of Chinese products the vilification of treasonous consumers and the promotion of Chinese captains of industry helped enforce nationalistic consumption and spread the message patriotic Chinese bought goods made of Chinese materials by Chinese workers in factories owned and run by Chinese In China Made Karl Gerth argues that two key forces shaping the modern world nationalism and consumerism developed in tandem in China Early in the twentieth century nationalism branded every commodity as either Chinese or foreign and consumer culture became the place where the notion of nationality was articulated institutionalized and practiced Based on Chinese Japanese and English language archives magazines newspapers and books this first exploration of the historical ties between nationalism and consumerism reinterprets fundamental aspects of modern Chinese history and suggests ways of discerning such ties in all modern nations

Prayer and Play in Late Tokugawa Japan Nam-lin Hur, 2020-03-23 The unique amalgam of prayer and play at the Sens ji temple in Edo is often cited as proof of the degenerate Buddhism of the Tokugawa period This investigation of the economy and cultural politics of Sens ji however shows that its culture of prayer and play reflected changes taking place in Tokugawa Japan particularly in the city of Edo Hur's reappraisal of prayer and play and their inherent connectedness provides a cultural critique of conventional scholarship on Tokugawa religion and shows how Edo commoners incorporated cultural politics into their daily lives through the pursuit of prayer and play Superstitious Regimes Rebecca Nodostup, 2010-07-01 We live in a world shaped by secularism the separation of numinous power from political authority and religion from the political social and economic realms of public life Not only has progress toward modernity often been equated with secularization but when religion is admitted into modernity it has been distinguished from superstition That such ideas are continually contested does not undercut their extraordinary influence These divisions underpin this investigation of the role of religion in the construction of modernity and political power during the Nanjing Decade 1927 1937 of Nationalist rule in China This book explores the modern recategorization of religious practices and people and examines how state power affected the religious lives and physical order of local communities It also looks at how politicians conceived of their own ritual role in an era when authority was meant to derive from popular sovereignty The claims of secular nationalism and mobilizational politics prompted the Nationalists to conceive of the world of religious association as a dangerous realm of superstition that would destroy the nation This is the first superstitious regime of the book s title It also convinced them that national feeling and faith in the party state would replace those ties the second superstitious regime

Wretched Rebels Lucien Bianco, 2020-03-17 This book a condensed translation of the prize winning Jacqueries et r volution dans la Chine du XXe si cle focuses on spontaneous rural unrest uninfluenced by revolutionary intellectuals Yet it raises issues inspired by the perennial concerns of revolutionary leaders such as peasant class consciousness and China s modernization The author shows that the predominant forms of protest were directed not against the landowning class but against agents of the state Foremost among them resistance to taxation had little to do with class struggle By contrast protest by poor agricultural laborers and heavily indebted households was extremely rare Other forms of social protest were reactions less to social exploitation than to oppression by local powerholders Peasant resistance to the late Qing new policy reforms did indeed impede China's modernization Decades later peasant efforts to evade conscription while motivated by abuses and inequities weakened the anti Japanese resistance The concluding chapter stresses persistent features of rural protest It suggests that twentieth century Chinese peasants were less different from seventeenth or eighteenth century French peasants than might be imagined and points to continuities between pre and post 1949 rural protest with a Cold War Face Xiaojue Wang, 2020-05-11 The year 1949 witnessed China divided into multiple political and cultural entities How did this momentous shift affect Chinese literary topography Modernity with a Cold War Face examines the competing converging and conflicting modes of envisioning a modern nation in mid twentieth century Chinese literature Bridging the 1949 divide in both literary historical periodization and political demarcation Xiaojue Wang proposes a new framework to consider Chinese literature beyond national boundaries as something arising out of the larger global geopolitical and cultural conflict of the Cold War Examining a body of heretofore understudied literary and cultural production in mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and overseas during a crucial period after World War II Wang traces how Chinese writers collected artistic fragments blended feminist and socialist agendas constructed ambivalent stances toward colonial modernity and an imaginary homeland translated foreign literature to shape a new Chinese subjectivity and revisited the classics for a new time Reflecting historical reality in fictional terms their work forged a path toward multiple modernities as they created alternative ways of connection communication and articulation to uncover and undermine Cold Competing Discourses Maram Epstein, 2001 In the traditional Chinese symbolic vocabulary War dichotomous antagonism the construction of gender was never far from debates about ritual propriety desire and even cosmic harmony Competing Discourses maps the aesthetic and semantic meanings associated with gender in the Ming Qing vernacular novel through close readings of five long narratives Marriage Bonds to Awaken the World Dream of the Red Chamber A Country Codger's Words of Exposure Flowers in the Mirror and A Tale of Heroic Lovers Epstein argues that the authors of these novels manipulated gendered terms to achieve structural coherence These patterns are however frequently at odds with other gendered structures in the texts and authors exploited these conflicts to discuss the problem of orthodox behavior versus the cult of feeling
