Region Nationality And Religion:

History and Religion Bernd-Christian Otto, Susanne Rau, Jörg Rüpke, 2015-08-31 History is one of the most important cultural tools to make sense of one's situation to establish identity define otherness and explain change This is the first systematic scholarly study that analyses the complex relationship between history and religion taking into account religious groups both as producers of historical narratives as well as distinct topics of historiography Coming from different disciplines the authors of this volume ask under which conditions and with what consequences religions are historicised How do religious groups employ historical narratives in the construction of their identities What are the biases and elisions of current analytical and descriptive frames in the History of Religion The volume aims at initiating a comparative historiography of religion and combines disciplinary competences of Religious Studies and the History of Religion Confessional Theologies History History of Science and Literary Studies By applying literary comparison and historical contextualization to those texts that have been used as central documents for histories of individual religions their historiographic themes tools and strategies are analysed The comparative approach addresses circum Mediterranean and European as well as Asian religious traditions from the first millennium BCE to the present and deals with topics such as the origins of religious historiography the practices of writing and the transformation of narratives

The Logic of Ethnic and Religious Conflict in Africa John F. McCauley, 2017-04-27 This book explains why conflicts in Africa are sometimes ethnic and sometimes religious and why a conflict might change from ethnic to religious even as the opponents remain fixed Conflicts in the region are often viewed as either tribal or Muslim Christian seemingly rooted in deep seated ethnic or religious hatreds Yet as this book explains those labels emerge as a function of political mobilization It argues that ethnicity and religion inspire distinct passions among individuals and that political leaders exploit those passions to achieve their own strategic goals when the institutions of the state break down To support this argument the book relies on a novel experiment conducted in Cote d'Ivoire and Ghana to demonstrate that individual preferences change in ethnic and religious contexts It then uses case illustrations from Cote d'Ivoire Nigeria and Sudan to highlight the strategic choices of leaders that ultimately shape the frames of conflict from low to high productivity sectors is increasingly perceived as inextricably linked with the sustainable development agenda. In the pursuit of structural change, policymakers have pinned their hopes on targeted policy tools such as special economic zones (SEZs). These geographically demarcated spaces designed to attract investment with a wide set of advantages have become de rigueur; however, a systematic evaluation of evidence-informed policymaking is scarce due to conceptual and practical challenges. This book fills that gap and shows that SEZs are no shortcut to economic development; their success in driving economic transformation depends on the complex interplay of sociopolitical, economic, and strategic factors. This book contributes to the burgeoning literature on SEZs by providing the first systematic evaluation of the SEZ policy. It adopts the policy cycle approach to organise policy evaluation into three hierarchical layers: input evaluation, agenda building, output evaluation, policy designs, and outcome evaluation. Immediate effects of SEZs on firms' behaviour and performance, with special reference to South Asian countries, are also examined. The strategy is to bring together the findings of microeconomic evaluations to draw macro inferences on the contribution of SEZs to the broader objectives of structural transformation and competitiveness. Part I of the book delves into development challenges facing the region, lays out theoretical foundations underlying the relevance of SEZs in addressing them, and examines the relevance of SEZs in the context of South Asia. Part II evaluates the policy first at the systemic level to gauge whether and how the policy is rooted in broader development goals and then at the design level to examine the fit between the policy goals and designs. Part III presents a counterfactual evaluation of the impact of SEZs on investment climate, export competitiveness of firms, technology and innovation, and knowledge linkages of SEZ firms with the wider economy. The final chapter concludes by discussing the emerging challenges and the way forward. This will be a useful reference for academics, researchers, policymakers, and professionals in international trade and business, public policy, industrial economics, and regional integration.

Theoretical Study of Ethnogeography Yanbo Guan, 2025-05-29. This book conducts a systematic research on the basic theoretical system of ethnogeography, area differentiation, and spatial changes of ethnic community. It also presents a national ecological outlook on human-land relations, geographical distribution of various nationalities in the world, and historical geographical background of regional ethnic composition. From the perspective of the development of the discipline, through a comprehensive review of the basic materials, development process, and research status of ethnogeography, the book reveals the basic theoretical issues of the basic concepts, subject attributes, research objects, contents, and methods of ethnogeography and initially sets up the basic framework for the study of ethnogeography.

Geography, Institutions and Regional Economic Performance Riccardo Crescenzi, Marco Percoco, 2012-12-13. The book aims to present traditional features of regional science as geographical concepts and institutions, as well as relatively new topics such as innovation and agglomeration economies. In particular, it demonstrates that, contrary to what has been argued by recent economics literature, both geography and institutions (or culture) are relevant for local development. In fact, these phenomena, along with the movement of goods and workers, are among the main reasons for persisting development differentials These intriguing relationships are at the heart of the analysis presented in this book and form the conceptual basis for a promising institutional approach to economic geography

Decentralization, Regional Diversity, and Conflict Hanna Shelest, Maryna Rabinovych, 2020-07-28 This edited volume focuses on the links between the ongoing crisis in and around Ukraine regional diversity and the reform of decentralization It provides in depth insights into the historical constitution of regional diversity and the evolution of center periphery relationships in Ukraine the legal qualification of the conflict in Eastern Ukraine and the role of the decentralization reform in promoting conflict resolution as well as modernization democratization and European integration of Ukraine Particular emphasis lies on the securitization of both regional diversity issues and territorial self government arrangements in terms of Russia's support for self proclaimed Donetsk and Luhansk People's Republics The volume captures the complexity of contemporary hybrid conflicts involving both internal and external aspects and the hybridization and securitization of territorial self governance solutions It thus provides an important contribution to the debate on territorial self government and conflict resolution
