At a time of extraordinary challenges confronting the world this book analyses some of the profound changes occurring in the development of cities and regions It discusses the uncertainties associated with the stalling of hyper globalization and asks whether this creates opportunities for resurgent regional economies driven by local capabilities resource efficiencies and domestic production Theory and evidence on socio economic and environmental transitions underway in many regions are brought together Implications of the shifting balance of global power towards emerging economies in the East are explored along with the consequences of urbanization in the global South for politics and democracy Dilemmas surrounding migration are also discussed including whether incomers displace local workers and depress wages or bring benefits in the form of know how new technology and investment More integrative concepts of the region and theories of regional development are analysed recognising the role of human capital knowledge innovation finance infrastructure and institutions This was originally published as a special issue of Regional Studies OECD

Regional Development Studies Regional Innovation in Piedmont, Italy From Innovation Environment to Innovation Ecosystem OECD, 2021-12-16

To make the most of its longstanding tradition of manufacturing and innovation Piedmont Italy is undertaking a process of industrial transition the success of which may be linked to an updated approach to its regional innovation policy This should include promoting technology and non technology driven innovation building the innovation competences of micro and small enterprises in addition to medium and large ones better connecting regional innovation actors and ensuring that innovation contributes to the region's broader development goals such as sustainable regional development

New Directions in Regional Economic Development Charlie Karlsson, Ake E. Andersson, Paul C. Cheshire, Roger R. Stough, 2009-07-28 This book examines emerging hypotheses, new methods and theoretic developments in regional economic development. It offers a diverse set of case studies ranging from a focus on Europe Central and East Asia and North America.

New Anthropologies of Italy Paolo Heywood, 2024 Anthropologists working in Italy are at the forefront of scholarship on several topics including migration, far right populism, organised crime and heritage. This book heralds an exciting new frontier by bringing together some of the leading ethnographers of Italy and placing together their contributions into the broader realm of anthropological history, culture and new perspectives in Europe.

Regional Economics Roberta Capello, 2015-11-10 The second edition of Regional Economics provides a comprehensive and up to date treatment of regional economics. This fully revised edition includes key theoretical developments of the last ten years. Topics included span from the earliest location theories to the most recent regional growth theories. It is also enriched by the recent debate on smart specialization strategies recently developed by the EU for the design of new cohesion policies. Key elements covered in the new edition include proximity and innovation theories, the concept of territorial capital, the debate on the role of agglomeration economies in urban growth. This textbook is for undergraduate students in regional and urban economics as well as spatial planning courses.

Higher Education in Regional and City Development: Lombardy, Italy 2011 OECD, 2011-11-03 This review finds that Lombardy is the most prosperous region in Italy. But the region faces long term challenges emerging from an ageing population, immigration and slow adaptation of practices and technologies to enhance productivity.

Regional Problems and Policies in Italy and France Kevin Allen, M. C. MacLennan, 2024-11-01 First published in 1970, Regional Problems and Policies in Italy and France examines the problem of regional imbalance in two important countries of Western Europe and emphasizes that policies aimed at promoting regional development must form an integral part of national economic policies. The book is divided into three parts: Part I: Regional Problems and Policies in Italy; part II: Regional Problems and Policies in France; and part III: Regional Policy. Three Issues: Part I and II analyze how regional policy in France and Italy has moved away from the public assistance type of intervention into new broader approaches which require reorganization of traditional procedures, change in economic structures, introduction of new products and methods of production, movement of workers between areas and occupations and shifts in geographical distribution of population and employment. Part III explores regional planning and growth centres or growth areas in the light of French and Italian experiences. It further analyses the regional effects of the EEC and gives a brief account of how British regional problems and policies would be affected by the membership of Community. This volume is an essential reading for students of Western European governmental policy and the European Economic Community.
