Focusing on the strategic position of towns in rural development this book explores how they act as hotspots for knowledge creation diffusion for vital business life and innovation and social networks and community bonds By doing so towns even the smallest can cope with processes of socio economic decline and promote a geographically balanced income distribution and sustainable production structure The contributors to this volume examine how to take advantage of the great potential offered by urban areas in the rural world to favour competitiveness and encourage economic activity Taking a European perspective the authors identify the main socio economic advantages generated by urbanized population settlements that small and medium sized rural towns can provide Although much attention is currently focused on the efficient use of scarce natural resources and land they argue that towns have an increasingly important economic and social role to play in rural areas Strategic Management - New Rules for Old Europe Christian Scholz,Joachim Zentes,2007-11-05 Perhaps it was not really meant the way it was said but when Donald Rumsfeld used the term Old Europe in his famous speech of January 22 2003 he coined a phrase to depict not the birthplace of modern society but a graveyard of old and outdated ideas Even though it is legitimate for many of us in Europe to oppose the underlying message of going to war in Iraq it makes absolute sense to examine the rules of the game which Europe is currently playing and which it will play in the future In doing so it becomes obvious that important changes are taking place Strategic Management New Rules for Old Europe makes the hidden rules governing strategic management in Europe transparent The book follows a from to logic and takes the reader along the course of changing conditions and contingencies Europe has not only witnessed major transformations such as the dramatic fall of the Iron Curtain economic and monetary integration and the incorporation of new member states Fundamental change can also be perceived with respect to the corporate responses to these ongoing dynamic changes Strategic Management New Rules for Old Europe is divided into four parts Each of these consists of several contributions starting with the focus on people then on culture then on systems
