Regional Integration And Global Free Trade:

Regional Integration and Global Free Trade Mark S. LeClair, 1997 Recent trade initiatives suggest that there is renewed interest in forming tariff free regional trading zones Running concurrent with this move toward regional integration is the multilateral process of global trade liberalization This text looks at the two issues Chapter one examines the inherent conflict between the two main approaches to reducing barriers to trade economic integration and multilateralism Chapter two provides a theoretical framework for evaluating the relative accomplishments of both regional trading blocs and multilateral free trade Chapter three utilizes a number of theoretical constructs to evaluate the effects of regional trading arrangements and discusses the trade history of the European Union Chapter four provides an analysis of the trade effects of tariff reductions achieved under the GATT system and chapter five provides recommendations for ensuring continued progress in multilateral tariff reductions under the banner of the World Trade Organization

South American Free Trade Area or Free Trade Area of the Americas? Mario Carranza, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This work examines the hemispheric diplomacy after the Summits of the America in Miami December 1994 and Santiago April 1998 focusing on the strengthening of the South American position in the FTAA negotiations and the Brazilian proposal for a South American Free Trade Area SAFTA The book also looks at the implications of the preceding analysis for regional integration theory and international relations theory The conclusion looks beyond open regionalism and considers three scenarios for US South American relations after the Santiago Summit First reassertion of US hegemony and signing of an FTAA agreement on schedule second erosion of US hegemony but continuing negotiations between North and South America for a distant FTAA and finally breakdown of the FTAA negotiations and emergence of SAFTA as an alternative to the FTAA

Regions and Development Sheila Page,2020-12-15 At the 1996 EADI Conference the papers presented in the World Trade and Trade Policy workshop looked at the new trends in regionalism from a variety of points of view for different institutions They considered the effects of regions their implications for policy and performance in the developing countries and for international economic institutions and tried to interpret them in terms of economic and political theory

Building Regions Dr Luk Van Langenhove,2013-03-28 Regions How they emerge and how they are dramatically changing the appearance of the present world of states and its related forms of governance from local to global levels is analysed in this monograph But what are regions Regions can be small or huge They can be part of a single state be composed out of different states or stretched out across borders They can be important recognized economic social or cultural entities or they can be largely ignored by the people who live on a region's territory They can be well defined with clear cut boundaries as is the case in so called constitutional regions or they can be fuzzy as for instance in cross border regions In sum they are not a natural kind and defining regions is not a simple task Luk Van Langenhove advances the concept of region building as an alternative to the construction of regions with three issues of region building being explored Why are regions built in a world of states How do region building processes take place How are regions transforming the present world order Crossing disciplinary boundaries this book is an exercise in theorizing regions and brings together under one conceptual framework different processes and concepts such as regional integration devolution federalism and separatism and refines the social constructionist view on regions
