Regulated Landscape:

Regulatory Delivery Graham Russell, Christopher Hodges, 2019-10-17 This ground breaking book addresses the challenge of regulatory delivery defined as the way that regulatory agencies operate in practice to achieve the intended outcomes of regulation Regulatory reform is moving beyond the design of regulation to address what good regulatory delivery looks like The challenge in practice is to operate a regulatory regime that is both appropriate and effective Questions of how regulations are received and applied by those whose behaviour they seek to control and the way they are enforced are vital in securing desired regulatory outcomes This book written by and for practitioners of regulatory delivery explains the Regulatory Delivery Model developed by Graham Russell and his team at the UK Department for Business Energy and Industrial Strategy The model sets out a framework to steer improvements to regulatory delivery comprising three prerequisites for regulatory agencies to be able to operate effectively Governance Frameworks Accountability and Culture and three practices for regulatory agencies to be able to deliver societal outcomes Outcome Measurement Risk based Prioritisation and Intervention Choices These elements are explored by an international group of experts in regulatory delivery reform with case studies from around the world Regulatory Delivery is the first product of members of the International Network for Delivery of Regulation Regulated Landscape Gerrit Knaap, Arthur C. Nelson, 1992 environmental research organisations national agencies and consultancies The Geography of Opportunity Xavier de Souza Briggs, 2006-03-30 A popular version of history trumpets the United States as a diverse nation of immigrants welcome to all The truth however is that local communities have a long history of ambivalence toward new arrivals and minorities Persistent patterns of segregation by race and income still exist in housing and schools along with a growing emphasis on rapid metropolitan development sprawl that encourages upwardly mobile families to abandon older communities and their problems This dual pattern is becoming increasingly important as America grows more diverse than ever and economic inequality increases Two recent trends compel new attention to these issues First the geography of race and class represents a crucial litmus test for the new regionalism the political movement to address the linked fortunes of cities and suburbs Second housing has all but disappeared as a major social policy issue over the past two decades This timely book shows how unequal housing choices and sprawling development create an unequal geography of opportunity It emerges from a project sponsored by the Civil Rights Project at Harvard University in collaboration with the Joint Center for Housing Studies and the Brookings Institution The contributors policy analysts political observers social scientists and urban planners document key patterns their consequences and how we can respond taking a hard look at both successes and failures of the past Place still matters perhaps more than ever High levels of segregation shape education and job opportunity crime and insecurity and long term economic prospects These problems cannot be addressed effectively if society assumes that segregation will take care of itself Contributors include William Apgar Harvard University Judith Bell PolicyLink Angela Glover Blackwell

 Casey Dawkins Virginia The Regulation of Intelligence Activities under International Law Sophie Duroy, 2023-05-09 Presenting a thorough examination of intelligence activities in international law Sophie Duroy provides theoretical and empirical justifications to support the cutting edge claim that states compliance with international law in intelligence matters serves their national security interests This book theorises the regulation of intelligence activities under international law identifying three layers of regulation a clear legal framework governing intelligence activities legality a capacity to enforce state responsibility accountability and the integration of legality and accountability into responsive regulation by the international legal order compliance Whose Dog Are You? Martin Wallen, 2017-09-01 The intriguing question in the title comes from an inscription on the collar of a dog Alexander Pope gave to the Prince of Wales When Pope wrote the famous couplet I am his Highness Dog at Kew Pray tell me Sir whose Dog are You the question was received as an expression of loyalty That was an era before there were dog breeds and not coincidentally before people were generally believed to develop affectionate bonds with dogs This interdisciplinary study focuses on the development of dog breeds in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Beginning with the Foxhound the first modern breed it examines the aesthetic political and technological forces that generate modern human canine relations These forces have colluded over the past two hundred years to impose narrow descriptions of human canine relations and to shape the dogs physically into acceptable and recognizable breeds The largest question in animal studies today how alterity affects human animal relations cannot fully be considered until the two approaches to this question are understood as complements of one another one beginning from aesthetics the other from technology Most of all the book asks if we can engage with dogs in ways that allow them to remain dogs
