Professional Health Regulation in the Public Interest John Martyn Chamberlain,Mike Dent,Mike Saks,2018-06-06 There are significant variations in how healthcare systems and health professionals are regulated globally One feature that they increasingly have in common is an emphasis on the value of including members of the public in quality assurance processes While many argue that this will help better serve the public interest others question how far the changing regulatory reform agenda is still dominated by medical interests Bringing together leading academics worldwide this collection compares and critically examines the ways in which different countries are regulating healthcare in general and health professions in particular in the interest of users and the wider public It is the first book in the Sociology of Health Professions series      Leadership For Nursing And Allied Health Care Professions Bishop, Veronica,2009-03-01 The aim of this book is to empower would be leaders of nursing and allied health professions to be effective The text examines differences between leadership and management inspirational education to support would be leaders and a major UK programme to promote politically aware leaders      Annual accountability hearing with the General Medical Council Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Health Committee,2011-07-26 The Health Committee reports on the annual accountability hearings with the General Medical Council GMC HC 1429 and Nursing and Midwifery Council NMC HC 1428 The reports call for doctors and nurses to develop a wider responsibility for the overall quality of care delivered to patients and they have an obligation as professionals to report to their professional body any concerns they have about the quality of care being delivered by their colleagues The GMC and the NMC must give a strong lead in this area and ensure that failure to act on this responsibility is regarded as a serious breach of professional obligation The Committee stresses that both regulators need to have effective revalidation processes in place so that they can periodically check on how doctors and nurses are performing Whilst the GMC is recognised as a high performing medical regulator the report calls for greater transparency in the process for doctors seeking to remove themselves from the medical register stronger performance management of fitness to practice panellists involved in adjudication of complaints a clear right of appeal for the GMC so that it can challenge adjudication panel decisions it feels are unduly lenient Government and both regulators must speed up efforts to resolve the serious problems posed by doctors and nurses who qualify elsewhere in Europe and earn the right to work in the UK without having their language or medical skills tested The UK and European law that underpins the workings of both regulators needs a complete overhaul
