Reinventing Yourself Today Sharon Ball, 2011-04-14 Life is a journey and sometimes we need a roadmap to get exactly where we want to go Reinventing Yourself Today presents a step by step program that walks you through identifying and reprogramming unconscious beliefs self talk and other issues that lead to the learned behaviors and habits that have created your present reality With the help of the workbook exercises at the end of each chapter you are led through self discovery and goal setting to create your ideal life vision and then to deal with the many obstacles in your path such as stress poor self esteem etc while you bring your vision of ideal life to reality We must always change renew rejuvenate ourselves otherwise we harden Johann Wolfgang von Goethe Its never too late to be what you might have been George Eliot The

Feminization of Quest-Romance Dana A. Heller, 2014-03-19 What happens when a woman dares to imagine herself a hero Questing she sets out for unknown regions Lighting a torch she elicits from the darkness stories never told or heard before The woman hero sails against the tides of great legends that recount the adventures of heroic men legends deemed universal timeless and essential to our understanding of the natural order that holds us and completes us in its spiral Yet these myths and rituals do not fulfill her need for an empowering self image nor do they grant her the mobility she requires to imagine enact and represent her quest for authentic self knowledge The Feminization of Quest Romance proposes that a female quest is a revolutionary step in both literary and cultural terms Indeed despite the difficulty that women writers face in challenging myths rituals psychological theories and literary conventions deemed universal by a culture that exalts masculine ideals and universalizes male experience a number of revolutionary texts have come into existence in the second half of the twentieth century by such American women writers as Jean Stafford Mary McCarthy Anne Moody Marilynne Robinson and Mona Simpson all of them working to redefine the literary portrayal of American women s quests They work in part by presenting questing female characters who refuse to accept the roles accorded them by restrictive social norms even if it means sacrificing themselves in the name of rebellion In later texts female heroes survive their lighting out experiences to explore diverse alternatives to the limiting roles that have circumscribed female development This study of The Mountain Lion Memories of a Catholic Girlhood Coming of Age in Mississippi Housekeeping and Anywhere but Here identifies transformations of the quest romance that support a viable theory of female development and offer literary patterns that challenge the male monopoly on transformative knowledge and heroic action How To Pilot When We Were Raised to BE Stewardesses; Reinventing Your Life with Passion and Purpose Bobbi Govanus, 2014-04-27 Twelve Women authors bring you tips and techniques for overcoming stereotypes and discovering your purpose and passion Each of their stories will give you new insights into tackling life's toughest challenges Abuse Bankruptcy Cancer and Death to name a few of the situations our presenters have had to face Their experiences and suggestions will encourage you to find and make your own way They have been able to pilot and land safely even though they were raised to be stewardesses Our hope is that you will grab the throttle of your own life and start to soar

Literature and the Writer, 2016-08-09 Literature and the Writer was first conceived with the hope the essays would shed light on several dimensions of the authorial craft It was the hope of the editor that the selected essays would examine not only writers' choice of vocabulary but also their deliberate selection of grammatical constructions and word order and their seamless weaving together of plots and imagery Moreover the analyses would also draw attention to how the writing process impacts the development of characters and the formulation of thematic strands in fiction Thus a wide variety of authors are deliberately selected to give the text depth writers of popular fiction as well as modern classics are included and contrasts are established between traditional writers and those who prefer to follow experimental trends Modernists are set against postmodernists absurdists vs realists minority ethnicities vs majority cultures and dominant genders appear in contrast to subordinated ones Clearly the major tenet of the collection is that the writing profession provides an unending dilemma that deserves to be explored in more detail as readers try to determine how authorial voices confuse while simultaneously elucidating their audience how texts are constructed by authors and yet deconstructed by the very words they choose to include how silence functions as inaudible yet audible discourse and how authorial self concept shapes not only itself but is also echoed in the fictional characters writers who appear in the texts

Rivers of Light Miriam Kalman Friedman, 2019-04-04 Growing up in a conservative middle class family in Texas Claire Myers Owens sought adventure and freedom at an early age At twenty years old she left home and quickly found a community of like minded free spirits and intellectuals in New York's Greenwich Village There Owens wrote novels and short stories including the controversial novel The Unpredictable Adventure A Comedy of Woman's Independence which was banned by the New York Public Library for its risqué content Drawn to ideals of self-actualization and creative freedom Owens became a key figure in the Human Potential Movement along with founder Abraham Maslow and Aldous Huxley and became an ardent follower of Carl Jung In her later years Owens devoted her life to the practice of Zen Buddhism moving to Rochester NY where she joined the Zen Center and studied under Roshi Philip Kapleau She published her final book Zen and the Lady at the age of eighty three Friedman's rediscovery of Owens brings well deserved attention to her little known yet extraordinary life and passionate spirit Drawing upon autobiographies letters journals and novels Friedman chronicles Owens's robust intellect and her tumultuous private life and along the way shows readers what makes her story significant With very few role models in the early twentieth century Owens blazed her own path of independence and enlightenment

Somethin' Extra Patty Rice, 2003 In this vibrant sexy debut novel a woman meets the one man who makes her second guess her life for the first time

Voice of Her Own Marlene A. Schiwy, 1996-05-27 As writers such as Virginia Woolf Audre Lorde and Anais Nin recognized keeping a journal is a powerful tool of creative expression and self healing In A Voice of Her Own a companion for both new and longtime diarists Marlene Schiwy shows that journal writing is the ideal way to find one s individual voice an opportunity for women to explore feelings intuitions perceptions and ideas often suppressed in our society and to record the truths of their own experience Schiwy invites readers to share the journeys other women have made toward selfhood and encourages them to begin a journey of their own. She weaves together passages from published and unpublished journals from works of literature, psychology, and women's studies with her personal insights. A Voice of Her Own is a treasure chest of inspiration for every woman seeking deeper self-awareness and new outlets for creativity. Reinventing Romantic Poetry Diana Greene, 2004-01-15 Reinventing Romantic Poetry offers a new look at the Russian literary scene in the nineteenth century. While celebrated poets such as Aleksandr Pushkin worked within a male-centered Romantic aesthetic, the poet as a bard or sexual conqueror, nature as a mother or mistress, the poet's muse as an idealized woman, Russian women attempting to write Romantic poetry found they had to reinvent poetic conventions of the day to express themselves as women and as poets. Comparing the poetry of fourteen men and fourteen women from this period, Diana Greene revives and redefines the women's writings and offers a thoughtful examination of the sexual politics of reception and literary reputation. The fourteen women considered wrote poetry in every genre from visions to verse tales from love lyrics to metaphysical poetry as well as prose works and plays. Greene delves into the reasons why their writing was dismissed, focusing in particular on the work of Evdokiia Rostopchina, Nadezhda Khvoshchinskaia, and Karolina Pavlova. Greene also considers class as a factor in literary reputation, comparing canonical male poets with the work of other men whose work like the women's was deemed inferior at the time. The book also features an appendix of significant poems by Russian women discussed in the text. Some found in archival notebooks are published here for the first time, and others are reprinted for the first time since the mid-nineteenth century. Hail Mary? Maurice Hamington, 2014-04-23 Hail Mary examines the sexist and misogynist themes that underlie the socially constructed religious imagery of Mary, the mother of Jesus. Maurice Hamington explores the sources for three prominent Marian images: Mary as the blessed Virgin, Mary the Mediatrix, and Mary the second Eve. Hamington critiques these images for the valorization of sexist forces with the Catholic Church that serve to maintain systems of oppression against women. In challenging dominant religious representations of Mary, Hamington surveys a variety of emerging reinterpretations of Mary. He then provides a framework for further study of non-alienating images of Mary. Reinventing Community Jane Hiddleston, 2005 A cultural study of identity and difference in contemporary French writing The Routledge Companion to Fashion Studies Eugenia Paulicelli, Veronica Manlow, Elizabeth Wissinger, 2021-09-19 This collection of original essays interrogates disciplinary boundaries in fashion, gathering fashion studies research across disciplines and from around the globe. Fashion and clothing are part of material and visual culture, cultural memory, and heritage; they contribute to shaping the way people see themselves, interact, and consume. For each of the volume's eight parts, scholars from across the world and a variety of disciplines offer analytical tools for further research. Never neglecting the interconnectedness of disciplines and domains, these original contributions survey specific topics and critically discuss the leading views in their areas. They include discursive and reflective pieces as well as discussions of original empirical work.
