Space Race Martin J. Collins, 1999 The space race grew out of the Cold War between the United States and the Soviet Union the most powerful nations after World War II For a half century they competed for primacy in a global struggle Space was a crucial arena for this rivalry Before a watchful world each side sought to demonstrate its superiority through impressive feats in rocketry and space flight Meanwhile secret satellites were developed to keep a war eye on the adversary At the Cold War s end the United States and Russia agreed to build a space station and pursue other joint ventures in space A contest that had begun in fear and enmity ended in partnership Drawing on recently declassified material and featuring a wide variety of U S and Soviet artifacts Space race examines the spectacular publicly celebrated milestones of our first steps into space as well as highly secret efforts to spy on adversaries from high above the Earth In compelling photographs and terse informed text this book tells the story of time when the superpowers sought to make the heavens inseparable from the earth

Critical Terms for Religious Studies, Second Edition Sarah Hammerschlag,2025-05-21 A new edition of a classic resource composed of twenty three essays written specifically for this volume First published nearly thirty years ago Critical Terms for Religious Studies proved a vital resource for an emerging interdisciplinary conversation We still use much of the same language in the study of religion but fresh concerns have both changed the meaning of terms and given rise to new terms altogether This edition consists of twenty three entirely new essays that offer students and scholars alike the tools to historicize and evaluate the shifting role of familiar and emerging critical terms in religious studies These are critical terms both because they are important in our cultural moment and because thinking through them reveals how religions are embedded in and shaped by material social economic and political forces A shared conviction unites contributors from a range of traditions and methodologies a recognition that our world is saturated by the persistence of religious traditions as shape shifting not static or transcendent forces of authority as powerful today as ever before

Reclaiming Travel Ilan Stavans,Joshua Ellison,2015-05-09 Based on a controversial opinion piece originally published in the New York Times Reclaiming Travel is a provocative meditation on the meaning of travel from ancient times to the twenty first century Ilan Stavans and Joshua Ellison seek to understand why we travel and what has come to be missing from our contemporary understanding of travel Engaging with canonical and contemporary texts they explore the differences between travel and tourism the relationship between travel and memory the genre of travel writing and the power of mapmaking Stavans and Ellison call for a rethinking of the art of travel which they define as a transformative quest that gives us deeper access to ourselves Tourism Stavans and Ellison argue is inauthentic choreographed sterile shallow and rooted in colonialism They critique theme parks and kitsch tourism such as the shantytown hotels in South Africa where guests stay in shacks made of corrugated metal and cardboard yet have plenty of food water and space Tourists they assert are merely content with escapism thrill seeking or obsessively snapping photographs Resisting simple moralizing the authors also remind us that people don t divide neatly into crude categories like travelers and tourists They provoke us to reflect on the opportunities and perils in our own habits In this powerful manifesto Stavans and Ellison argue that travel should be an art through which our restlessness finds expression a search for meaning not only in our own lives but also in the lives of others It is not about the destination rather travel is about loss disorientation and discovering our place in the universe The Unique States of America Lonely Planet,2019-09-01 From the tiny gold rush town of Chicken Alaska to Las Vegas dazzling Neon Museum and
