Modern Societies & the Science of Religions Gerard Wiegers, 2018-11-13 This book brings together studies by seventeen specialists in the science of religions in which they relate the changes in their discipline to the changes which have occurred in a select number of modernising societies worldwide. It attempts to study these developments in their relation to and as conditioned and constrained by cultural change, changes in educational systems, technology, population, for example, migration, economic patterns, politics, and last but not least religious systems. The essays focus on resp. France, Germany, the Netherlands, Spain, the USA, Turkey, Israel, Morocco, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Indonesia, Japan, and China. Written in honour of Dr Lammert Leertouwer, professor of History of Religions and the Comparative Study of Religions at Leiden University from 1979 until his retirement in 1997, the book is particularly important for all those who are interested in the religious, social, and political contexts of the academic Study of Religions in general and in the various countries dealt with in particular.

Tertullian the African David E. Wilhite, 2011-06-24 Who was Tertullian and what can we know about him? This work explores his social identities, focusing on his North African milieu. Theories from the discipline of social cultural anthropology, including kinship, class, and ethnicity, are accommodated and applied to selections of Tertullian's writings. In light of postcolonial concerns, this study utilizes the categories of Roman colonizers, indigenous Africans, and new elites. The third category, new elites, is actually intended to destabilize the other two, denying any essential Roman or African identity. Thereafter, samples from Tertullian's writings serve to illustrate comparisons of his own identities and the identities of his rhetorical opponents. The overall study finds Tertullian's identities to be manifold, complex, and discursive. Additionally, his writings are understood to reflect antagonism toward Romans, including Christian Romans, which is significant for his so-called Montanism and Romanized Africans. While Tertullian accommodates much from Graeco-Roman literature, laws, and customs, he nevertheless retains a strongly stated non-Romanness and an Africanity which is highlighted in the present monograph.
