Modernization and Social Change: Studies in Modernization, Religion, Social Change and Development in South-East Asia Hussein Alatas (Syed), 1972      Modernization Trends in Southeast Asia Terence Chong, 2005

This book discusses and identifies the modernizing trends which have changed Southeast Asian countries in varying ways After an overview of current concepts of modernity the following chapters introduce issues of education citizenship and ethnicity religion the emergence of the middle class and mass consumption in Southeast Asia This book concludes by profiling the characteristics of Southeast Asian modernity      Confucian Traditions in East Asian Modernity Weiming Tu, 1996

Seventeen scholars from varying fields here consider the implications of Confucian concerns self cultivation regulation of the family social civility moral education well being of the people governance of the state and universal peace in industrial East Asia      Modernization, Democracy, and Islam Shireen T. Hunter, Huma Malick, 2005-01-30

The Islamic world has a poor record in terms of modernization and democracy However the source of this situation is not religion but factors including colonialism international economic and trading systems and the role of the military among others Recognizing these themes allows the consideration of possible remedies for change in the Muslim world The Islamic world has a poor record in terms of modernization and democracy However the source of this situation is not religion Islam but rather factors including colonialism international economic and trading systems and the role of the military among others Recognizing these themes allows the consideration of possible remedies for change in the Muslim world The distinguished scholars contributing to this volume identify key factors some intrinsic to the Muslim world and some external that contribute to Islam s current predicament Contrary to much prevailing thought and opinion Islam is neither monolithic nor impervious to change It is neither anti democratic nor inherently anti modernization Islam itself as this book shows is not the root cause of the malaise of the Islamic world      Syed Hussein Alatas and Critical Social Theory, 2022-11-21

Known for his most famous works such as The Myth of the Lazy Native 1977 and The Problem of Corruption 1986 as well as his concept of the captive mind Syed Hussein Alatas 1928 2007 has made significant contributions to decolonization theory social theory and other forms of thought critical of the current neo colonial and neoliberal world Although Edward Said acknowledged his debt to Syed Hussein Alatas work especially its influence on Edward W Said s most famous book Orientalism Syed Hussein Alatas work has long been overlooked by Western academia trapped in its Eurocentric perspective Spurred by the commitment to continue the development of Syed Hussein Alatas work this edited volume attempts to demonstrate the relevance of Syed Hussein Alatas to numerous academic fields and the potential for his thought to be transformative in the international socio political realm Twenty authors from various disciplines and countries have contributed to Syed Hussein Alatas and Critical

The Perception of Christianity as a Rational Religion in Singapore Clive S. Chin, 2017-03-23 This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized Since the 1980s Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of Western theology is responsible for the Western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia Yet in Singapore the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism which are viewed as irrational or superstitious Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion but they do not regard Christianity as a Western religion at the point of their conversion. What accounts for those recent developments? This study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in Singapore. Personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one's religion of choice. In facilitating effective mission, one must qualify the use of the categories Asian and Western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap. What matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of Jesus Christ engages the self-understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings.

The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen, 1986. Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts. Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia. Part II provides the setting of space and time. Part III features the people and Part IV the many facets of culture and society: language, ideas, beliefs, values, institutions, creative expression and social and cultural change. Within each section, the arrangement is geographical, beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole followed by the various countries in alphabetical order.

The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English Rajeev S. Patke, Philip Holden, 2009-09-10. The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English traces the development of literature in the region within its historical and cultural contexts, establishing connections from the colonial activity of the early modern period through to contemporary writing across nations such as Thailand, China, Malaya, Singapore and Hong Kong.

Religion and Regulation in Indonesia Ismatu Ropi, 2017-01-05. This book analyses the relation between state and religion in Indonesia, considering both the philosophical underpinning of government intervention on religious life but also cases and regulations related to religious affairs in Indonesia. Examining state regulation of religious affairs, it focuses on understanding its origin, history and consequences on citizens' religious life in modern Indonesia, arguing that while Indonesian constitutions have preserved religious freedom, they have also tended to construct wide-ranging discretionary powers in the government to control religious life and oversee religious freedom. Over more than four decades, Indonesian governments have constructed a variety of policies on religion based on constitutional legacies interpreted in the light of the norms and values of the existing religious majority group. A cutting-edge examination of the tension between religious order and harmony on one hand and protecting religious freedom for all on the other, this book offers a cutting-edge study of how the history of regulating religion has been about the constant negotiation for the boundaries of authority between the state and the religious majority group.

The Politics of Nation Building and Citizenship in Singapore Michael Hill, Kwen Fee Lian, 2013-06-17. Since independence in 1965, Singapore has strengthened its own national identity through a conscious process of nation building and promoting the active role of the citizen within society. Singapore is a state that has firmly rejected welfarism but whose political leaders have maintained that collective values instead of those of autonomous individuals are essential to its very survival. The book begins by examining basic concepts of citizenship, nationality and the state in the context of Singapore's arrival at independence. The theme of nation building is explored and how the creation of a national identity through building new institutions has been a central feature of political and social life in Singapore Of great importance has been education and a system of multilingual education that is part of a broader government strategy of multiculturalism and multiracialism both have served the purpose of building a new national identity Other areas covered by the authors include family planning housing policy the creation of parapolitical structures and the importance of shared Asian values amongst Singapore's citizens Asian Rethinking on Development
