Wilson, 2013-09-13 When marketing managers and financial managers join forces within any business the result can often be poor communication on financial criteria and goals The risk of this situation occurring is inevitably present when those with different professional backgrounds and roles are working in accordance with their own norms In his seminal 1956 paper on general systems theory the economist Kenneth Boulding referred to the phenomenon of specialised ears and generalised deafness which can be seen to exist when marketing managers are financially illiterate or when financial managers lack the necessary insights to design implement and operate accounting systems which are useful to marketing managers in carrying out their roles It is increasingly difficult to attach credence to the idea of marketing managers who lack financial skills or financial managers who fail to relate to the context in which marketing managers operate Understanding the marketing accounting interface is therefore important in generating emergent properties from the interaction of marketers and accountants whereby the whole is greater than the sum of the parts The chapters in this volume seek to address this challenge This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management Advances in Applied Economic Research Nicholas Tsounis, Aspasia Vlachvei, 2017-06-07 This proceedings volume aims to provide new research methods theories and applications from various areas of applied economic research Featuring papers from the 2016 International Conference on Applied Economics ICOAE organized by the University of Nicosia and the Western Macedonia University of Applied Sciences this volume presents cutting edge research from all areas of economic science that use applied econometrics as the method of analysis It also features country specific studies with specific economic policy analyses and proposals Applied economics is a rapidly growing field of economics that combines economic theory with econometrics to analyse economic problems of the real world usually with economic policy interest ICOAE is an annual conference started in 2008 with the aim to bring together economists from different fields of applied economic research in order to share methods and ideas The goal of the conference and the enclosed papers is to allow for an exchange of
