Gender and Power in Indonesian Islam Bianca J. Smith, Mark Woodward, 2013-09-23 The traditional Islamic boarding schools known as pesantren are crucial centres of Muslim learning and culture within Indonesia but their cultural significance has been underexplored This book is the first to explore understandings of gender and Islam in pesantren and Sufi orders in Indonesia By considering these distinct but related Muslim gender cultures in Java Lombok and Aceh the book examines the broader function of pesantren as a force for both redefining existing modes of Muslim subjectivity and cultivating new ones It demonstrates how as Muslim women rise to positions of power and authority in this patriarchal domain they challenge and negotiate normative Muslim patriarchy while establishing their own Muslim authenticity The book goes on to question the comparison of Indonesian Islam with the Arab Middle East challenging the adoption of expatriate and diasporic Middle Eastern Muslim feminist discourses and secular western feminist analyses in Indonesian contexts Based on extensive fieldwork the book explores configurations of female leadership power feminisms and sexuality to reveal multiple Muslim selves in pesantren and Sufi orders not only as centres of learning but also as social spaces in which the interplay of gender politics status power and piety shape the course of life American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences 21:4 Carool Kersten,Ahmad F. Indonesian Muslims understanding of their own religion which may suggest the betterment of their commitment to doctrinal beliefs and religious practices Therefore this study will also examine the ways in which Indonesian Islam noticeably grows more orthodox through these forms of religious commitment Drawing upon an Indonesian term the growth of orthodox Islam is known as the santri cultural expansion which has been characterized by the vertical and horizontal mobility of devout Muslims in political cultural and economic enterprises A discussion of the theological thought underlying that santri cultural expansion is also included Islam and Political Legitimacy Shahram Akbarzadeh, Abdullah Saeed, 2003-09-02 Explores one of the most challenging issues facing the Muslim world the Islamization of political power It presents a comparative analysis of Muslim societies in West South Central and South east Asia Negotiating Malay Identities in Singapore Rizwana Abdul Azeez, 2016-03-01 Singapore Malays subscribe to mostly traditional rather than modern interpretations of Islam Singapore state officials however wish to curb the challenges such interpretations bring to the country's political social educational and economic domains Thus these officials launched a programme to socially engineer modern Muslim identities amongst Singapore Malays in 2003 which is ongoing Negotiating Muslim Identities documents a variety of ethnographic encounters that point to the power struggles surrounding two basic and very different ways of living While the Singapore state has gained some successes for its project it has also faced significant and multiple setbacks Amongst them state officials have had to contend with traditional Islamic authority that Malay elders carry and who cannot be ignored because these elders are time entrenched authority figures in their community One of the book's significant contributions is that it documents how Singapore an avowedly secular state has now turned to Islam as a tool for governance Just as significant are the insights the study provides on another aspect of Singapore state governance one usually described as authoritarian The book demonstrates that even authoritarian states can face serious obstacles in the face of religion's influence over its followers The academic literature on Singapore Malays is sparse this work not only fills gaps in the existing academic literature but provides new and original research data Its data rich ethnographic and anthropological approach show the complexities of Malay and Muslim social contexts and complements other works that examine Southeast Asian states management of Islam which has attracted much scholarship given the global interest in Islam based politics and social organisation From Isfahan to Ayutthaya Muhammad Ismail Marcinkowski, 2005 Ayutthaya was known among 17th century foreign mariners under the Persian epithet of Shahr e Nav Utilising parts of the Ship of Sulayman and works by European explorers the writer unfolds the circumstances influences and impact resulting from contacts between the Safavid and Siamese Kingdoms and the visible effects in present day Thailand Presentation Outlines and Reading List, 1968 Law and Development and the Global Discourses of Legal Transfers John Gillespie, Pip Nicholson, 2012-06-28 This volume of essays contributes to the understanding of global law reform by questioning the assumption in law and development theory that laws fail to transfer because of shortcomings in project design and implementation It brings together leading scholars who demonstrate that a synthesis of law and development comparative law and regulatory perspectives disciplines which to date have remained intellectually isolated from each other can produce a more nuanced understanding about development failures Arguing for a refocusing of the analysis onto the social demand for legal transfers and drawing on empirically rich case studies contributors explore what recipients in developing countries think about global legal reforms This analytical focus generates insights into how key actors in developing countries understand global law reforms and how to better predict how legal reforms are likely to play out in recipient countries
