Reflections In A Bloodshot Lens The Communication Gap Between American And The Worlds Muslims:

Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Lawrence Pintak, 2006-01-25 There exists today a tragic rift between Americans and the world's Muslims. Each views the other with suspicion and anger. Yet in the immediate aftermath of 9/11 there was widespread sympathy for the U.S. in the great arc of Muslim nations from West Africa to Southeast Asia. This book explores what happened. It examines the disconnect that leads Americans and Muslims around the world to view the same words and images in fundamentally different ways. Partly a result of a centuries-old us against them dichotomy and an essential difference in worldview, the problem is exacerbated by an increasingly polarised media and by leaders on both sides who either don't understand or don't care what impact their words and policies have in the world at large. Journalist scholar Lawrence Pintak, a former CBS News Middle East correspondent, argues that the Arab media revolution and the rise of patriot journalists in the US marginalized voices of moderation, distorting perceptions on both sides of the divide with potentially disastrous results. Built on the author's extensive journalistic experience, the book is carefully grounded in contemporary academic scholarship including Orientalism, othering, worldview, media effects theory, and framing theory, amongst others, giving it broad appeal to policymakers, students of such fields as media studies, Middle East studies, and Islamic studies, and general current affairs readers. Muslims and the News Media Elizabeth Poole, John E.

Richardson, 2010-11-05 Muslims have featured in many of the more significant news stories of the past few years, yet shockingly very few of these stories have been about anything other than the war on terror. This urgently relevant book examines the role and representations of Muslims in the news media, particularly within a climate of threat, fear, and misunderstanding. Written by both academic authorities and media practitioners, Muslims and the News Media is designed as a comprehensive and critical textbook and is set in both the British and international context. Bringing together a range of insightful perspectives on the subject into a coherent whole, the book clearly establishes the links between context, content, production, and audiences, thus reflecting the entire cycle of the communication process. It reveals both the ways in which meaning is produced and reproduced in the news media and the ways in which audiences themselves, both Muslim and non-Muslim, use or consume this media. Significant too and discussed here is the role of Muslims themselves in the processes of news production. Clarifying the circumstances and politics surrounding the representation of Muslims across a range of journalistic genres, Muslims and the News Media provides crucial insights into the representation and misrepresentation of Islam and Muslims today. Terrorism Democracy A. Rashid Moten, Noraini Mohd. Noor, 2007 This book is primarily addressed to the Muslim and non-Muslim intelligentsia, professionals, teachers, students, and political activists residing in the West as well as in the Muslim world. It contains chapters that will enable them to wrestle with the multitude of problems inhibiting a cordial relationship between the West and the Muslim World. This book, containing edited papers presented in a conference, hopefully will open serious dialogues for a just, peaceful world order. The Publishers Weekly, 2005 Image

Politics in the Middle East Lina Khatib, 2012-10-22 Politics in the Middle East is now seen and the image is playing a central part in processes of political struggle This is the first book in the literature to engage directly with these changing ways of communicating politics in the region and particularly with the politics of the image its power as a political tool Lina Khatib presents a cross country examination of emerging trends in the use of visuals in political struggles in the Middle East from the Cedar Revolution in Lebanon to the Green Movement in Iran to the Arab Spring in Egypt Syria and Libya She demonstrates how states activists artists and people on the street are making use of television the social media and mobile phones as well as non electronic forms including posters cartoons billboards and graffiti to convey and mediate political messages She also draws attention to politics as a visual performance by leaders and citizens alike With a particular focus on the visual dynamics of the Arab Spring and based on case studies on the visual dimension of political protest as well as of political campaigning and image management by political parties and political leaders Image Politics in the Middle East shows how visual expression is at the heart of political struggle in the Middle East today It is a hard hitting enjoyable groundbreaking book challenging the traditional ways in which politics in the Middle East is conceived of and analysed

America, Islam and the War of Ideas Larry Pintak, 2006 Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Larry Pintak, 2006 Former CBS correspondent explores the abyss of misunderstanding and mis reporting in both the US and Arab media Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Lawrence Pintak, 2006-01-20 There exists today a tragic rift between Americans and the world s Muslims Yet in the immediate aftermath of 9 11 there was widespread sympathy for the US throughout the Muslim world This book explores what happened It examines the disconnect that leads Americans and Muslims to view the same words and images in fundamentally different ways Partly a result of a centuries old us against them dichotomy the problem is exacerbated by an increasingly polarised media and by leaders on both sides who either don t understand or don t care what impact their words and policies have in the world at large Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens argues that the Arab media revolution and the rise of patriot journalists in the US marginalised voices of moderation distorting perceptions on both sides of the divide with potentially disastrous results Seeds of Hate Lawrence Pintak, 2003-10-20 In the aftermath of 9 11 America has been haunted by one question why do they hate us This book answers that question tracing the roots of the crisis back to American s involvement in the Middle East and in particular Lebanon Journalist Lawrence Pintak was a correspondent for CBS in Beirut in the 1980s where he witnessed the birth of the current terror In Seeds of Hate he explores how America s flawed policy in the Lebanon transformed Muslim perceptions of the US from impartial peacekeeper to hated enemy of the Lebanese Muslims Pintak explores the links between those who carried out the terror war in Lebanon and the current wave of terror examining the role played by key figures behind the Beirut bombings He considers how the template for shaping would be terrorists is being replicated from Saudi Arabia to Indonesia and speaks with victims of the earlier wave of terror Fueling Our Fears Brigitte Lebens Nacos, Oscar Torres-Reyna, 2007 After September 11 many in the American public and media zeroed in on Muslims in America and the world irresponsibly linking intentionally or not Muslims at large with terrorism This well researched book explores this focus and its implications At the same time the authors do not leave out the opinion of Muslim Americans exploring their views about the American media and its influence their attitudes toward non Muslim Americans and just as important their opinions on post9 11 U S counterterrorist policies and practices This book not only serves students and scholars in the fields of Middle East studies media studies and international communication but is also an enlightening read to anyone interested in mainstream America s perception of Muslims

Bayoumi reveals what the War on Terror looks like from the vantage point of Muslim Americans highlighting the profound effect this surveillance has had on how they live their lives To be a Muslim American today often means to exist in an absurd space between exotic and dangerous victim and villain simply because of the assumptions people carry about you In gripping essays Bayoumi exposes how contemporary politics movies novels media experts and more have together produced a culture of fear and suspicion that not only willfully forgets the Muslim American past but also threatens all of our civil liberties in the present From publisher s website

Muslim American Renaissance Project Souheil Ghannouchi, 2012-05 This is more than a book it is a manifesto It advocates a project through which participants will launch an American renaissance movement inspired by a new revitalized and uniquely American expression of Islam This book is the product of more than twenty years of extensive research and interaction with communities across America That background preparation has given the author Dr Souheil Ghannouchi a deep understanding of Islam of history and of the reality in which all Americans including Muslim Americans live Additionally the text benefits from Dr Ghannouchi s careful study and observation of world events and from his comprehension of the universal rules that govern the rise and fall of both nations and movements This volume was originally meant to be the intellectual foundation for a renaissance movement for all Americans and it was to be aimed at reviving the American Dream and restoring America s fundamental values based on the founding fathers vision The idea of recruiting all Americans to the task was inspired by serious concerns about America s current situation and future risks and by a firm belief that America can and should be the world s foremost champion for compassion peace justice and prosperity At the same time the book was intended to spearhead the renaissance of the Muslim American community so that it would begin to play a meaningful role in making the needed change in America However even though both the entire country and more specifically the Muslim community are in dire need of fundamental change it became clear to the author that the two objectives could not be adequately advocated with one publication Thus this book focuses mainly on Muslim Americans and it constitutes a manifesto for a renaissance in the American Muslim community and a blueprint for our full integration into the greater American society Stemming from the author s firm conviction that both our nation and our community are experiencing a severe crisis this book is prompted by his grave concern for the future as well as his unshakable resolve to significantly contribute towards the fundamental change that is needed right now within our society His concerns and his resolve are shared by other Muslim Americans who will join in launching this project We invite all Americans to participate Even though Islam and Muslims have been present in the U S in one form or another for a long time the Muslim American community is still regarded as a newcomer One reason is that the connections with the greater American society have been weak and complicated The Nation of Islam which is largely comprised of United States born African American Muslims is widely viewed as a Black nationalist movement rather than an Islamic phenomenon And even though immigrant Muslims began to establish Islamic centers as early as the beginning of the 20th century and also despite the establishment of the first chapter of the Muslim Student Association MSA in 1963 the organized presence of orthodox Islam did not truly emerge in America until the 1970 s The real proliferation of mosques schools and Islamic organizations took place as recently as the 80 s and 90 s Furthermore the integration of the Muslim American community into the greater American society stalled because of some typical factors that were exacerbated by religious and political issues and by some domestic and global events As a result the Muslim community was plunged into a deep crisis and became for other Americans a puzzle and a source of major challenge especially after the 9 11 catastrophe A huge divide was established between the community and American society at large and a vicious action reaction cycle is only reinforcing the divide and widening the gap Moreover the attempts at healing undertaken by both sides are not really improving the situation because the efforts made are too few and too i
