on the subject of terrorism Winning the Right War Philip H. Gordon, 2005-04-16 A new strategy for American foreign policy that looks beyond Iraq and changes the way we think about the war on terror Six years into the war on terror are the United States and its allies better off than we were before it started Sadly we are not and the reason is that we have been fighting and losing the wrong war In this paradigm shifting book Philip H Gordon presents a new way of thinking about the war on terror and a new strategy for winning it He draws a provocative parallel between the world today and the world of the Cold War showing how defense development diplomacy and the determination to maintain our own values can again be deployed alongside military might to defeat a violent and insidious ideology Drawing on the latest scholarly research his own experience in the White House and visits to more than forty countries he provides fresh insights into the nature of the terrorist challenge and offers concrete and realistic proposals for confronting it Gordon also asks the question What would victory look like a topic sorely missing from the debate today He offers a positive vision of the world after the war on terror which will end not when we kill or capture all potential terrorists but when their hateful ideology collapses around them when extremists become isolated in their own communities and when Americans and their allies will again feel safe His vision for promoting these goals is achievable and realistic but only if the United States changes course before it is too late As we look beyond the presidency of George W Bush we must seize the opportunity to chart a new course to security for America the West and the world at large The stakes could not be higher The Five Front War Daniel Byman, 2008 A comprehensive look at the War on Terror and the best way to a safer future Scholar Daniel Byman offers a new approach to fighting the war on terrorism He convincingly argues that two of the main solutions to terrorism offered by politicians military intervention and the democratization of the Arab world shouldn't even be our top priorities Instead he presents a fresh way to face intelligence and law enforcement challenges ahead conduct counterinsurgency operations undermine al Qaeda's ideology selectively push for reforms and build key lasting alliances Daniel Byman Washington DC directs the Security Studies Program and the Center for Peace and Security Studies at Georgetown University He is a Senior Fellow at the Saban Center for Middle East Policy at the Brookings Institution and also served on the 9/11 Commission He regularly writes about terrorism and the Middle East for the Washington Post Slate and other publications Conflict, Identity, and Reform in the Muslim World Daniel Brumberg, Dina Shehata, 2009 Conflict Identity and Reform in the Muslim World highlights the challenges that escalating identity conflicts within Muslim majority states pose for both the Muslim world and for the West an issue that has received scant attention in policy and academic circles God's Troublemakers Katharine Rhodes Henderson, 2008-03-15 This is a book about women who are changing the world as leaders in the public arena Whether Christian Jewish or Muslim their work is religiously or spiritually motivated They are religious or socio ethical entrepreneurs who have invented organizations or movements to repair the world What shaped and formed them How do they integrate a progressive social agenda with their faith How do they exercise public leadership in a world where women's public roles are sometimes still suspect The book is thematically organized and touches on many of the most relevant topics being discussed today separation of church and state the intersection of politics and religion the silence of the progressive left and the embodiment of authentic religious pluralism This book claims space for progressive forms of religion in an area dominated by the Religious Right God s Troublemakers is based on extensive interviews with 11 women social entrepreneurs The 3 best known are Sr Helen Prejean the anti death penalty activist Ruth Messenger former Manhattan Borough President and now executive director of American Jewish World Service and Helen LaKelly Hunt who has been a national activist funding women s causes and a leader in persuading secular feminists to make common cause with religious women
