Containing Community Greg Bird, 2016-09-21 Analyzes the role of community in the writings of Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and Jean Luc Nancy Community has been both celebrated and demonized as a fortress that shelters and defends its members from being exposed to difference Instead of abandoning community as an antiquated model of relationships that is ill suited for our globalized world this book turns to the writings of Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and Jean Luc Nancy in search for ways to rethink community in an open and inclusive manner Greg Bird argues that a central piece of this task is found in how each philosopher rearticulates community not as something that is proper to those who belong and improper to those who are excluded or where inclusion is based on one's share in common property We must return to the forgotten dimension of sharing not as a sharing of things that we can contain and own but as a process that divides us up and shares us out in community with one another This book traces this problem through a wide array of fields ranging from biopolitics communitarianism existentialism phenomenology political economy radical philosophy and social theory
