Reflections on Process Sociology and Sport Joseph Maguire, 2013-09-13 The book focuses on the distinctive contribution that Joseph Maguire has made to process sociology and the study of sport. Maguire's work over the past three decades highlights how process sociology has a unique perspective on the relationship between sport culture and society and to the body, globalisation and civilisational analysis. Reflecting on this body of work and the use of process sociology, Maguire captures the research dynamic of walking the line between involvement and detachment, theory and observation and engagement and critique. The book is structured around four broad sections: Theory, Sport and Society; The Meaning of Sport; Body and Society; Case Studies in Sport and Process Sociology; Globalisation; Sport and Civilisational Analysis. Providing an introduction to and key examples of a process sociology approach to the study of sport, the body, civilising processes and globalisation, this book will appeal to undergraduates, postgraduates and researchers in sport studies, sports science, degrees in sociology, cultural studies and to those studying migration, globalisation and cross-cultural civilisation relations. This book was previously published as a Special Issue of Sport in Society.

Reflections on Polarisation and Inequalities in Brexit Pandemic Times Katharine Tyler, Susan Banducci, Cathrine Degnen, 2025-03-05 This is the first interdisciplinary edited collection that examines the manifestation of social inequalities and polarisations in Britain throughout the dual crises of the Brexit vote and the Covid 19 pandemic. The volume demonstrates that Brexit and the pandemic are not self-contained events but rather are major ongoing processes that have impacted all aspects of British social and political life. Drawing on an array of empirical case studies conducted in the wake of the Brexit vote and during pandemic lockdowns, chapters trace how these processes illuminate, consolidate and amplify existing and entrenched social inequalities and polarisations that shape the fabric of British society, including racial, ethnic, class, migrant, national and gendered inequalities. The volume is divided into three parts centred on a) the nation, b) the community and c) the media. Each section draws on diverse analytical frameworks and methodological approaches from across the social sciences, arts and humanities to provide empirically grounded critiques of reductive media-led narratives with the goal of accounting for and explaining the reproduction of social inequalities and emergence of polarisations in these Brexit pandemic times. In so doing, the case studies include critical analysis of lockdown novels, the speeches of political elites from across the political spectrum, ordinary people's everyday traditional and social media practices as well as their opinions based on the findings of large-scale surveys and in-depth place-based ethnographic fieldwork conducted across rural, urban and suburban areas of England. Each chapter also includes artwork by contemporary artist Helen Snell that complements, develops and extends the book's core themes and arguments. This collection will be insightful reading for students and academics across the social sciences, arts and humanities, especially from the disciplines of sociology, politics, social anthropology, human geography, sociolinguistics, contemporary art and literature concerned with questions of social inequality and polarisation Chapters 1 2 7 and 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
