Reflections On The Word In Black And White:

Reflections on the Word in Black and White Christina Alexandra, 2002-02-01 Critical Reflections on Black History William D. Wright, 2002-03-30 Wright presents this collection of six essays on aspects of black history. Each essay is based upon a critical historical methodology that is comprised of among other things a racial analysis, an intersectional analysis, rigorous logic, conceptual integrity, and a critical analysis of ideas, words, and images. Critical of the romantic approach to the subject, Wright seeks to uncover a deeper analysis, knowledge, and truth regarding aspects of black history, even when it involves the presentation of material and viewpoints that some might find objectionable. He predicates these pieces on the idea that history is still a valuable subject, firmly rejecting the postmodern view that it has lost its validity. Wright demonstrates that black history is a vital and necessary subject, not only for black people but for all Americans. A critical black history is itself. Wright contends a device to evaluate American history in a critical manner to get into the subject more deeply and to adduce deeper knowledge and truths about it. These essays show the author's interest in strengthening that critical capacity of black historical writing and his belief that this is a primary and necessary means to maintain the viability and productivity of the academic discipline and to ward off its detractors.

Reflections III George Manus, 2018-01-25 A reflection is an afterthought. While things are happening, we only think about the here and now. It's only afterwards that we have the opportunity to rethink, analyse, consider, and REFLECT. The author, George Manus, has through all his life reflected over large and small. This has already resulted in two books in this genre: the first, REFLECTIONS I in words and pictures, and the second, REFLECTIONS II in words and proverbs. This third book got the title REFLECTIONS III in words and fantasy images, as many of the reflections stories are related to fantasy. The images are supplied by the Danish architect and visual artist Jan Arnts pictorial series FANTASIES. The book contains no less than 52 reflections stories where the author, among others, treats subjects like LIGHT and SHADOWS, WITH MY BACK AGAINST THE WALL, and FEELING OF GUILT. Yes, even a TYPEWRITER is taken with loving care. All are reflections stories which can only make you wiser. Happy reading. Revised 2nd edition published in 2018.

The Word in Black and White Dana D. Nelson, 1994 Dana Nelson provides a study of the ways in which Anglo American authors constructed race in their works from the time of the first British colonists through the period of the Civil War. She focuses on some eleven texts ranging from widely known to little considered that deal with the relations among Native African and Anglo Americans and places her readings in the historical, social, and material contexts of an evolving U.S. colonialism and internal imperialism. Nelson shows how a novel such as The Last of the Mohicans sought to reify the Anglo historical past and simultaneously suggested strategies that would serve Anglo Americans against Native Americans as the frontier pushed farther west. Concluding her work with a reading of Harriet Jacobs's Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl, Nelson shows how that text undercuts the racist structures of the pre-Civil War period by positing a revised model of sympathy that authorizes alternative cultural perspectives and requires Anglo Americans to question their own involvement with racism Reflections of the Self Sandeep Trichal, 2018-11-16 It needs immense focus and determination to write a memoir not to mention the discipline and a routine However the most difficult part of writing a memoir is coming to terms with the self And discovering the self is such a complex process There are layers and layers of the self that have to be exposed and the end product is the nakedness that is described in the form of words in this memoir Sometimes it is easy to peel off these layers of prejudices and memories some biases and some emotions but the final outcome is not something that is the gospel truth It is so because there is nobody to question you on the sort of line of thinking and words that you choose to represent the body of a memoir in the sense that everything preordained by the way one's neural networks are wired That's why I titled this memoir as reflections of the self as the true nature of the self cannot possibly be determined merely by words and just by living one life It takes several iterations when one truly understands the real self and perhaps that is what liberation or Moksha is all about Reflections on Fanon: The Violences of Colonialism and Racism, Inner and Global—Conversations with Frantz Fanon on the Meaning of Human Emancipation (Proceedings of the Fourth Annual Social Theory Forum, March 27-28, 2007, UMass Boston) Mohammad H.
