Reforming the United Nations United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,2011 Reforming the United Nations [electronic resource] Joachim Müller,2006 The United Nations is in need of reform There has always been widespread agreement that this is the case indeed throughout the 60 year history of the Organization Differences over the best cure reflect the political confrontation between its 191 member states The institution has been criticized to lack legitimacy to need accountability and to be inefficient with a bloated bureaucracy Recently allegations of mismanagement and corruption in the Oil for Food Program have led to a crisis of confidence The public debate followed reform initiatives for enlarging the Security Council achieving the Millennium Development Goals and establishing new collective mechanisms to protect human rights counter terrorism and respond to crimes against humanity Strengthening oversight governance and management practices aimed at introducing fundamental institutional changes The publication describes the reform process leading to the United Nations Summit in September 2005 The achievements remain disappointing with the failure to approve a grand bargain A number of recommendations are put forward to facilitate the reform process in the United Nations realising however that this will remain cumbersome and a lengthy step by step effort      Reforming the United Nations: New Initiatives and Past Efforts Joachim Müller, This three volume set describes and brings together 50 key reform proposals originating inside and outside the United Nations The documentation contained in this publication touches upon all aspects of the United Nations and covers the full spectrum of proposals and initiatives It is hoped that the information provided will assist those involved in current efforts in reassessing and reshaping the Organization and will serve as a useful reference set for policy makers researchers and the interested public      United Nations reforms progressing, but comprehensive assessments needed to measure impact. ,2004      Reforming International Institutions UBUNTU Forum Secretariat,2009-09-02 There is now considerable unanimity that international organizations such as the United Nations the World Trade Organization WTO Bretton Woods Institutions and the international economic architecture need to be reformed in order to achieve greater democratic governance to tackle the myriad of challenges facing the world Written by leading members of the international community under the auspices of the World Forum of Civil Society Networks UBUNTU this book provides a diverse and rich resource on all aspects of the reform of international organizations The book introduces the reader to the main organizations of the international multilateral system presents proposals for reform and provides an analysis of the political action required to achieve global democratic governance      Reforming the United Nations United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations,2005      Reforming the Prophet Wilfred Reid Clement,2002 Many people in the West have difficulty gaining a deeper understanding of what is going in the Middle East The conflicts in Israel and the West Bank for example appear to be random when viewed solely through the lens of current media reports Offshoots of Middle East conflicts like the September 11 terrorist attacks in New York can appear to have occurred without reason In this important book well regarded consultant and ex policy analyst W R Clement proposes that these conflicts are part of a larger change underway in the Islamic world He argues that Islam is in the early stages of a religious reformation not unlike the Protestant Reformation of sixteenth century Europe According to Clement what we are witnessing is the beginning of a long and bloody religious struggle into which the West is being drawn whether it likes it or not      Legal Reforms and Deprivation of Liberty in Contemporary China Elisa Nesossi,Sarah Biddulph,Flora Sapio,Susan Trevaskes,2016-06-03 The volume presents an extensive investigation into the process of reforms of detention powers in today s China and offers an in depth analysis of the debates surrounding the reformist attempts The chapters in this collection demonstrate that legislative and institutional reforms in this area result from political opportunities openings and tensions at the central institutional levels of political authority and contingent social and political factors The book examines legal and institutional reforms to institutions of detention and imprisonment that have occurred since the 1990s with a particular focus on the 21st century Its content follows three particular lines of enquiry concerning the issue of deprivation of liberty in contemporary China The first deals with the academic and theoretical debates on the subject of imprisonment and detention The related chapters explain the difficulties encountered in this area of research and understandings of the discourses of reform through labour in Western and Chinese scholarship The second deals with the specific issues of criminal and administrative forms of deprivation of liberty examining in particular the institutional and legislative dimensions considering the relationship between reforms and criminal justice policy agendas The third assesses the meaning of institutional reforms in the context of the changing state society relationship in contemporary China Minorities, Peoples And Self-determination Nazila Ghanea-Hercock,Alexandra Xanthaki,Patrick Thornberry,2005 This volume presents new thinking on minority and indigenous rights in international law Debates that receive attention in this volume include self determination definitional issues collective rights and rights to natural resources Other chapters unravel challenges that have not attracted sufficient attention to date such as multiculturalism integration colour as a ground for discrimination and the economic and social rights of minorities The volume also looks critically at the work of the World Bank the African Union the Council of Europe and the OSCE in this arena Finally case studies highlight the regrettable similarities in the suffering of groups in different parts of the world as well as the stark contrast between state claims and their actual practice Legal and Political Reforms in Saudi Arabia Joseph A. Maintaining Peace and Security? Trudy Fraser,2014-11-20 The security concerns of the United Nations today extend far beyond what the writers of the 1945 Charter could have imagined As a result the UN has been compelled to reconsider the parameters of what constitutes a threat to international peace and security and what it means to be safe and secure in the twenty first century This text critically assesses the capacity of the UN to evolve in response to changing notions of security and examines the complex history of people places and politics that have helped shape this important global actor

United Nations Reform Spencer Zifcak,2009-06-05 This book evaluates Kofi Annan s endeavor to reform the United Nations seeking to understand why it was unsuccessful in so many cases but also how global politics and ideological divisions played so forcefully into the many intra institutional debates      Transitional Justice in Rwanda Gerald Gahima,2013-02-15 Transitional Justice in Rwanda Accountability for Atrocity comprehensively analyzes the full range of the transitional justice processes undertaken for the Rwandan genocide Drawing on the author s extensive professional experience as the principal justice policy maker and the leading law enforcement officer in Rwanda from 1996 2003 the book provides an in depth analysis of the social political and legal challenges faced by Rwanda in the aftermath of the genocide and the aspirations and legacy of transitional justice The book explores the role played by the accountability processes not just in pursuing accountability but also in shaping the reconstruction of Rwanda s institutions of democratic governance and political reconciliation Central to this exploration will be the examination of whether or not transitional justice in Rwanda has contributed to a foundational rule of law reform process While recognizing the necessity of pursuing accountability for mass atrocity the book argues that a maximal approach to accountability for genocide may undermine the promotion of core objectives of transitional justice Taking on one of the key questions facing practitioners and scholars of transitional justice today the book suggests that the pursuit of mass accountability particularly where socio economic resources and legal capacity is limited may destabilize the process of rule of law reform endangering core human rights norms Moreover the book suggests that pursuing a strategy of mass accountability may undermine the process of democratic transition particularly in a context where impunity for crimes committed by the victors of armed conflicts persists Highlighting the ongoing democratic deficit in Rwanda and resulting political instability in the Great Lakes region the book argues that the effectiveness of transitional justice ultimately hinges on the nature and success of political transition
