to printing beginning in the mid nineteenth century and the well known fascination with series in biology mathematics music art or literature. The new media culture of the late nineteenth century very much shaped by these serialized formats sees itself confronted with guestions of truthfulness in new and profound ways just as perhaps the accelerated rhythm anonymity and broadened accessibility of new media today have created new possibilities for the dissemination of misinformation and conversely give us cause to interrogate anew our notions of truthfulness By examining both the formal operations of both aesthetic and scientific objects in a series form and the historical context of their publication or presentation the contributions in this volume examine the often strained but yet immensely productive relationship between the way in which a series negotiates questions of truthfulness both by reference to the rules established in its series form or by means of its serial format This volume provides ten detailed cases of the series form from the history of science and journalism and the history of painting photography and literature as well Contemporary World Fiction Juris Dilevko, Keren Dali, Glenda Garbutt, 2011-03-17 This much needed guide to translated literature offers readers the opportunity to hear from learn about and perhaps better understand our shrinking world from the perspective of insiders from many cultures and traditions In a globalized world knowledge about non North American societies and cultures is a must Contemporary World Fiction A Guide to Literature in Translation provides an overview of the tremendous range and scope of translated world fiction available in English In so doing it will help readers get a sense of the vast world beyond North America that is conveyed by fiction titles from dozens of countries and language traditions Within the guide approximately 1 000 contemporary non English language fiction titles are fully annotated and thousands of others are listed Organization is primarily by language as language often reflects cultural cohesion better than national borders or geographies but also by country and culture In addition to contemporary titles each chapter features a brief overview of earlier translated fiction from the group The guide also provides in depth bibliographic essays for each chapter that will enable librarians and library users to further explore the literature of numerous languages and cultural traditions Conversations with a Mathematician Gregory I. volume also provides in depth and up to date coverage of these emerging areas of study Contemporary Migrant Families Paula Pustułka, Magdalena Ślusarczyk, Justyna Struzik, 2018-10-12 Despite extensive and continuous academic interest in migrant and transnational families a stereotypical view that those leading mobile lives are somehow beyond the contours of normativity is still prevalent Such a perspective concerns both kinship and family practices of familyhood across borders and the bi or multicultural settings of providing or offering care Consequently we primarily hear about migration leading to broken relationships the dissolution of families and bonds substandard provisions of care abandonment exploitation of employees and so on In this climate of public imagination of migrants either being dangerous or concurrently stealing one s job and scrounging off the welfare state it is no small feat to be a migration scholar Trying to overcome the universalising views that essentialise human experience requires a wholly different point of departure one which is represented in this volume This is because a now well established transnational paradigm allows for a more nuanced analysis originating with the premise that not only normalises mobility but also proves that various ties and relationships can be continued in the long term despite spatial distance On the whole the transnational lens provided here showcases how new family practices are devised and deployed in mobile family lives thus allowing the argument that migration enriches certain dimensions of contemporary family life and caregiving This book plays on the dichotomy of migration as the new normal and mobility as a continuous source of challenges The core issues examined here concern such problems as maintaining kinship ties across borders new patterns of mothering and fathering children's sense of belonging and identifications and social capital and engagement in community life It reveals that doing family in the migration context often eludes simple definitions of national space or typical family Instead it offers a transnational understanding of how a person practically and pragmatically arranges one s family and kinship strategically choosing pathways of care child rearing relationships at home maintaining traditions Track Tales Mercedes Webb-Pullman, 2017-07-08 Reading Track Tales is like key holing a personal diary that and so forth gives the human drum on the racing industry in Australia during the early 1980s The poems perversely honour the men women horses and dogs that were the industry at the time the poems jostle at the starting gate Suddenly they re off and running A totally absorbing read Martin Christmas author of Immediate Reflections Preface, by Adolf Friedrich, duke of Mecklenburg, From the Congo to the Shari, by Captain von Wiese und Kaiserswaldau.
