Extending current scholarship on South Asian Urban and Literary Studies this volume examines the role of the discontents of the South Asian city The collection investigates how South Asian literature and literature about South Asia attends to urban margins regardless of whether the definition of margin is spatial psychological gendered or sociopolitical That cities are a site of profound paradoxes is nowhere clearer than in South Asia where urban areas simultaneously represent both the frontiers of globalization as well as the deeply troubling social and political inequalities of the global south Additionally because South Asian cities are defined by the palimpsestic confluence of among other things colonial oppression anticolonial nationalism postcolonial governance and twenty first century transnational capital they are sites where the many faces of empowerment and disempowerment are elaborated The volume brings together essays that emphasize myriad critical approaches geospatial urban theoretical diasporic subaltern and others United in their critical empathy for urban outcasts the chapters respond to central questions such as What is the relationship between the politico economic narratives of globally emerging South Asian cities and the dispossessed How do South Asian cities stand in relationship to the nation and conversely how might South Asians in diaspora construct these cities within larger narratives of development globalization or as sources of authentic ethnic identities How is the very skeleton the space the territory of South Asian cities marked with and by exclusionary politics How do the aesthetic and formal choices undertaken by writers determine the potential for and limit to emancipation of urban outcasts from their oppressive circumstances Considering fiction nonfiction comics and genre fiction from India Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka literature from the twentieth and the twenty first century and works that are Anglophone and those that are in translation this book will be valuable to a range of disciplines Stories of women Elleke Boehmer, 2013-07-19

This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license Elleke Boehmer's work on the crucial intersections between independence nationalism and gender has already proved canonical in the field Stories of women combines her keynote essays on the mother figure and the postcolonial nation with incisive new work on male autobiography daughter writers the colonial body the trauma of the post colony and the nation in a transnational context Focusing on Africa as well as South Asia and sexuality as well as gender Boehmer offers fine close readings of writers ranging from Achebe Okri and Mandela to Arundhati Roy and Yvonne Vera shaping these into a critical engagement with theorists of the nation like Fredric Jameson and Partha Chatterjee This edition will be of interest to readers and researchers of postcolonial international and women's writing of nation theory colonial history and historiography of Indian African migrant and diasporic literatures and is likely to prove a landmark study in the field Ritual, Family and Therapy in Anglophone

Literatures Lars Heiler, 2025-03-10 This book investigates the triadic constellations between ritual family and therapy in literature in English Many rituals so called rites of passage in particular are strongly associated with the changing status of individuals as members of a family unit Traditional healing rituals were often designed to have a therapeutic effect sometimes mentally but also physically whereas modern psychotherapies often include ritual elements in order to enhance the efficacy of their treatment Families on the other hand can be the site of therapeutic activity by providing protection stability and emotional comfort yet difficult family constellations may also be the origin of emotional distress and the reason why a person needs counselling and therapeutic support in the first place Modern therapies such as family systems therapy have expanded their range of interest and influence in order to look at the whole family unit not just the symptomatic individual as client This study discusses nine literary texts six novels one literary memoir and two plays in which the three dimensions intersect and mutually influence each other

Compromise and Resistance in Postcolonial Writing Alberto Fernández Carbajal, 2014-02-20 Compromise and Resistance in Postcolonial Writing offers a new critical approach to E M Forster's legacy It examines key themes in Forster's work homosexuality humanism modernism liberalism and their relevance to post imperial and postcolonial novels by important contemporary writers

The Gothic and Twenty-First-Century American Popular Culture, 2024-05-13 The Gothic and Twenty First Century American Popular Culture examines the gothic mode deployed in a variety of texts that touch upon inherently US American themes demonstrating its versatility and ubiquity across genres and popular media The volume is divided into four main thematic sections spanning representations related to ethnic minorities bodily monstrosity environmental anxieties and haunted technology The chapters explore both overtly gothic texts and pop culture artifacts that despite not being widely considered strictly so rely on gothic strategies and narrative devices

Emerging African Voices, Haram in the Harem Mohanalakshmi Rajakumar, 2009 Haram in the Harem focuses on the differences in nationalist discourse regarding women and the way female writers conceptualized the experience of women in three contexts the middle class Muslim reform movement the Algerian Revolution and the Partition of India During each of these periods the subject of women their behavior bodies and dress were discussed by male scholars politicians and revolutionaries The resonating theme amongst these disparate events is that women were believed to be best protected when they were ensconced within their homes and governed by their families particularly male authority whether they were fathers brothers or husbands The threat to national identity was often linked to the preservation of womanly purity Yet for the writers of this study Ismat Chughtai 1915 1991 Assia Djebar 1936 and Khadija Mastur 1927 1982 the danger to women was not in the public sphere but embedded within a domestic hierarchy enforced by male privilege In their fictional texts each writer shows how women resist subvert and challenge the normative behaviors prescribed in masculine discourse In their writings they highlight the different ways women negotiated private spaces between intersecting masculine hegemonies of power including colonialism and native patriarchy They demonstrate distinct literary viewpoints of nation home and women s experiences at particular historical moments The choice of these various texts reveals how fiction provided a safe space for female writers to contest traditional systems of power Bringing into focus the voices and experiences of women who existed as limited cultural icons in the nationalist discourse is a common theme throughout the selected stories This book showcases the fluidity of literature as a response to the intersections of gender race and nation
