Regional Integration A. M. El-Agraa, 1999 Regional Integration provides a comprehensive and critical analysis of both the theoretical and empirical literature in international economic integration initially inspired by the creation of the European Coal and Steel Community in 1951 and enhanced since the 1960s through the proliferation of regional integration schemes Focusing on the pure theoretical and technical empirical work in the field the author covers all developments in abstract modeling and measurement techniques In assessing the experience of regional integration El Agraa addresses the issues of customs unions versus free trade areas customs unilateral tariff reduction regional integration and multilateralism and estimating the benefits of integrated markets Regional Integration fully updates and revises the analysis of the author's very well received The Theory and Measurement of International Economic Integration 1989 to take into account the impact of another decade of rapid integration around the world Regional Integration, Identity & Citizenship in the Greater Horn of Africa Kidane Mengisteab, Redie Bereketeab, 2012 Examines how regional integration can resolve the crises of the Greater Horn of Africa exploring how it can be used as a mechanism for conflict resolution promoting the economy and tackling issues of identity and citizenship The Greater Horn of Africa GHA is engulfed by three interrelated crises various inter state wars civil wars and inter communal conflicts an economic crisis manifested in widespread debilitating poverty chronic food insecurity and famines and environmental degradation that is ravaging the region While it is apparent that the countries of the region are unlikely to be able to deal with the crises individually there is consensus that their chances of doing so improve markedly with collective regional action The contributors to this volume address the need for regional integration in the GHA They identify those factors that can foster integration such as the proper management of equitable citizenship rights as well as examining those that impede it including the region's largely ineffective integration scheme IGAD and explore how the former can be strengthened and the latter transformed explain how regional integration can mitigate the conflicts and examine how integration can help to energise the region's economy Kidane Mengisteab is Professor of African Studies and Political Science at Penn State University Redie Bereketeab is a researcher at the Nordic Africa Institute Sweden

The European Union Illuminated A. El-Agraa, 2015-05-05 The EU is under stress Many believe in the euro's demise because they blame it for the 2008 financial crisis and the unwelcome austerity measures Many resent the immigrants from the new EU member states threatening the survival of the Single European Market Many complain of a Brussels diktat seeking an escape from joint EU decisions Several member states want to unilaterally deal with the enhanced competition from the emerging markets especially China undermining the EU's common commercial policy run by a single EU commissioner And many in the UK want its exit from the EU diluting EU unity and reducing its global influence These concerns are either misguided or require a stronger EU to deal with them this book aims to address these issues by considering the nature importance and future of the European Union
