Economic Development and Inequality in China Hong Yu, 2017-09-29 The conventional belief that all regions have equally benefited from China's remarkable development over the last three decades is subjected to criticism in this book as Hong Yu systematically analyses the issue of regional inequality during the post 1978 period using the case of Guangdong Guangdong is one of the key industrial centres and economic powerhouses in China and as a pioneer province instigating economic reform as China opened up to the world it offers an ideal focus upon which to question and enrich the Western theories of economic geography and regional disparity Based on field research analysis of geographic characteristics and regression models this book illustrates how Guangdong's impressive development record has been marred by its rising regional disparity investigates the main causes of this disparity and draws conclusions regarding the lessons China can learn from it Economic Development and Inequality in China will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese economics Chinese regional studies economic geography and China Studies Hong Yu is a Visiting Research Fellow at the National University of Singapore His research interests lie in the field of regional economy He is the author of a chapter on China's two delta regions in the book China and The Global Economic Crisis

Except-Africa Emery Roe, It is a commonplace that the problems of African rural development are becoming increasingly complex that is they have grown more numerous interrelated and varied This complexity has generated a multitude of development scenarios Among these is the doomsday scenario applied to every nation on the continent best captured in the phrase Everything works except in Africa Emery Roe argues that crisis scenarios generated by an expert usually non African elite are self serving and counterproductive Except Africa takes up the challenge of devising development scenarios that do justice to the continent s variegated reality The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koehn Cheruiyot,2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book s focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region s Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South Moved by the State Tina Loo,2019-06-01 Why don t they just move This reductive question is asked whenever reports surface of the all too common lack of social services and economic opportunities in Canada s rural and urban communities But why are certain people and places vulnerable And who is responsible for a remedy From the 1950s to the 1970s the Canadian government relocated people often against their will in order to improve their lives Moved by the State offers a completely new interpretation of this undertaking seeing it as part of a larger project of development and focusing on the bureaucrats and academics who designed implemented and monitored the relocations rather than on those who were uprooted In this finely crafted history Tina Loo explores the contradiction between intention and consequence as diverse communities across Canada were resettled In the process she reveals the optimistic belief underpinning postwar relocations the power of the interventionist state to do good The Digital Economy and the European Labour Market Maria Urbaniec,2022-07-21 With a focus on the European labour market this book seeks to understand how digital transformation affects changes in employee employer relations These consequences include shifts in job security and job flexibility as well as alternative work arrangements in the digital economy This phenomenon has both positive and negative implications for employees and employers The book presents a theoretical conceptual and empirical analysis of employment relations in the digital economy which are manifested among others in flexible or non standard forms of employment contract work and a radical shift from position based to skill based work The approach taken in the book provides researchers and students of economics business and other social sciences with an overview of interdisciplinary theoretical and conceptual perspectives and frameworks on labour market and employment relations In particular it presents a comprehensive range of research on flexible forms of employment in the digital economy The range of issues covered is also tailored to business practitioners who wish to understand the ongoing changes in employment relations and the emergence of new forms of work as a result of digital transformation It will also be of value to representatives of labour market institutions involved in implementing new forms of work and employer employee relationships in Industry 4 0

Visiting Grandchildren Donald Savoie,2006-03-04 During his successful campaign to become Conservative Party leader in the spring of 2004 Stephen Harper said of the Maritime provinces We will see the day when the region is not the place where you visit your grandparents but instead more often than not the place where you visit your grandchildren In Visiting Grandchildren esteemed policy analyst and scholar Donald J Savoie explores how Canadian economic policies have served to exclude the Maritime provinces from the wealth enjoyed in many other parts of the country especially southern Ontario and calls for a radical new approach in how Canadian governments determine policies that affect the different regions Savoie advocates a ratchet effect for national economic policies whereby regions take turns at high growth with the slow growth region of one period becoming the high growth region of the next with none moving from slow growth to decline He demonstrates how this pattern has been effective in countries undergoing long term regional convergence and how it would recognize that what is good for the Maritimes is good for Canada no less than what is good for Ontario is good for Canada Visiting Grandchildren looks to history accidents of geography and to the workings of national political and administrative institutions to explain the relative underdevelopment of the Maritime provinces Savoie argues that the region must strive to redefine its relationship with the national government and with other regions that it must ask fundamental questions of itself about its own responsibility for its present underdevelopment develop a cooperative mindset and embrace the market if it is to prosper in the twenty first century Savoie s work serves as the blueprint for a new way of envisioning the Maritime region
