Regulating Cartels In Europe A Study Of Legal Control Of Corporate Delinquency:

Regulating Cartels in Europe Christopher Harding, Julian Joshua, 2003 One of the most contentious and high profile aspects of European Community competition law and policy has been the regulation of what may be described as serious antitrust violations typically involving large and powerful corporate producers and traders operating across Europe if not also in a wider international context Such hard core cartels characteristically engage in practices such as price fixing bid rigging market sharing and limiting production in order to ensure market stability and maintain and increase profits There is little doubt now in terms of competition theory and policy at both international and national levels about the damaging effect of such trading practices on public and consumer interests and such cartels have been increasingly strongly condemned in the legal process of regulating and protecting competition Indeed a number of legal systems are now following the American lead in criminalizing such activity This may therefore be seen as the hard end of the enforcement of competition policy requiring more confrontational and aggressive methods of regulation yet also presenting considerable challenges to effective enforcement on account of the economic power sophistication and determination of the typical participants in such cartels The focus of this study is a critical evaluation of the way in which European level regulation has evolved to deal with the problem of anti competitive cartels It traces the historical development of cartel regulation in Europe comparing the pragmatic and empirical approach traditional in Europe with the more dogmatic and uncompromising American policy on cartels and asks whether a fully fledged criminal proceeding with its attendant level of legal safeguards is the most appropriate approach to legal regulation

Legitimacy in EU Cartel Control Ingeborg Simonsson, 2010-02-23 This book examines the law developed by the EU to control cartels The law including case law is carefully documented and analysed against a standard of legitimacy which questions the EU's enforcement measures its institutional structures policy choices substantive law evidentiary standards and procedures and sanctions It includes a unique catalogue of over 150 EU cartel decisions as well as novel analyses of difficult borderline issues such as mixed horizontal and vertical cartels single brand dealer cartels and buyer cartels The effect on trade in cartel cases is analysed with reference to established law and deterrence theory Throughout the book the author asks whether EU law also applies at the national level or whether certain assessments need to be made according to national law This approach makes the book particularly helpful for national authorities courts and private practitioners The book includes in depth comparisons with US law as well as a comprehensive survey of the secondary academic literature on cartels As such it presents not only a comprehensive practical view but also a sound theoretical framework for better understanding cartel law This is a work which will be of utmost importance to those working in competition authorities and competition courts in the EU Member States as well as those working for EU institutions and in private practice and academia

European Competition Law Annual 2008 Claus-Dieter Ehlermann, Mel Marquis, 2010-01-02 This is the thirteenth in a series on EU Competition Law and Policy produced under the auspices of the Robert Schuman Centre of the European University Institute in Florence The volume contains the written contributions of numerous competition policy experts together with the transcripts of a roundtable debate which examined the subject of settlements between enforcers of competition law and defendant companies in cartel cases and in other types of antitrust cases The Workshop participants included senior judges from major jurisdictions the European Union Germany and the United States senior enforcement officials and policy makers from the European Commission from the national competition authorities of certain EU Member States and from the US Department of Justice and the US Federal Trade Commission and renowned international academics legal practitioners and professional economists In an intense intimate environment this group of experts debated a number of legal and economic issues pertaining to two broad lines of discussion 1 settlements and plea agreements in cartel cases including their links with leniency programs and with private enforcement and 2 settlements in commitment cases decided under Article 9 of Regulation 1 2003 and under comparable procedures of national law

Eurolegalism R. Daniel Kelemen, 2011-04-01 Despite western Europe's traditional disdain for the United States adversarial legalism the European Union is shifting toward a similar approach to the law according to Daniel Kelemen Coining the term eurolegalism to describe the hybrid he shows how the political and organizational realities of the EU make this shift inevitable The Oxford Handbook of Business and Government David Coen, Wyn Grant, Graham K. Wilson, 2010-02-25 Business is one of the major power centres in modern society The state seeks to check and channel that power so as to serve broader public policy objectives However if the way in which business is governed is ineffective or over burdensome it may become more difficult to achieve desired goals such as economic growth or higher levels of employment In a period of international economic crisis the study of how business and government relate to each other in different countries is of more central importance than ever These relationships have been studied from a number of different disciplinary perspectives business studies economics economic history law and political science and all of these are represented in this handbook The first part of the book provides an introduction to the ways in which five different disciplines have approached the study of business and government The second section on the firm and the state looks at how these entities interact in different settings emphasising such phenomena as the global firm and varieties of capitalism The third section examines how business interacts with government in different parts of the world including the United States the EU China Japan and South America The fourth section reviews changing patterns of market governance through a unifying theme of the role of regulation Business government relations can play out in divergent ways in different policy and the fifth section examines the contrasts between different key arenas such as competition policy trade policy training policy and environmental policy The volume provides an authoritative overview with chapters by leading authorities on the current state of knowledge of business government relations but also points to ways in which this work might be developed in the future e.g. through a political theory of the firm

Human Rights in the Market Place Christopher Harding, Uta Kohl, 2016-05-13

The ideology of human rights protection has gained considerable momentum during the second half of the twentieth century at both national and international level and appears to be an effective lever for bringing about legal change This book analyzes this strategy in economic and commercial policy and considers the transportation of the public law discourse of basic human rights protection into the commercial law context of economic policy business activity and corporate behaviour The volume will prove indispensable for anyone interested in human rights international law and business and commercial law

Competition Law and Policy in the EC and UK Barry Rodger, Angus MacCulloch, 2008-10-03 Competition law at both the EC and UK levels plays an important and ever increasing role in regulating the conduct of businesses Based on the premise that open and fair competition is good for both consumers and businesses competition law prevents businesses from entering into anti competitive agreements and from abusing their dominant market position Competition Law and Policy in the EC and UK looks at how competition law affects business including co ordinated actions pricing behaviour take overs and mergers and state subsidies It provides a clear guide to and outline of the general policies behind and the main provisions of EC and UK competition law Information is presented within a structured framework complete with a glossary of useful terminology This fourth edition has been revised and updated to take into account developments since publication of the previous edition including expanded coverage of the regulation of cartels the development of private enforcement the consideration of IP issues in Microsoft and extended discussion of UK competition Law

Evidence, Proof and Judicial Review in EU Competition Law Fernando Castillo de la Torre, Eric Gippini Fournier, 2024-03-14 In this thoroughly revised new edition of what quickly became the authoritative work when first published in 2017 Fernando Castillo de la Torre and Eric Gippini Fournier two of the most experienced litigators in EU competition law update their systematic analysis of the case law of the EU Courts on the rules of evidence proof and judicial review as they are applied in EU competition law

The Politics of European Competition Regulation Hubert Buch-Hansen, Angela Wigger, 2011-03-07 The Politics of European Competition Regulation provides an original and theoretically informed account of the political power struggles that have shaped the evolution of European competition regulation over the past six decades Applying a critical political economy perspective this book analyses the establishment and development of competition regulation at European Community and national level since the 1950s It puts forth the central argument that competition regulation came to reflect the broader shift towards a neoliberal order since the 1980s Buch Hansen and Wigger argue that this shift which took place against the background of the gradual transnationalisation of capitalist production and the economic crisis of the late 1970s was driven by the European Commission in alliance with the emerging transnational capitalist class The authors examine the political responses to the current global economic crisis in the fields of state aid cartel prosecution and merger control and conclude that an alternative type of competition regulation which forms part of a much broader transformation of the current socioeconomic order is needed This book will be of interest to students and scholars of global political economy European integration and competition law

Cases and Materials on UK and EC Competition Law Kirsty Middleton,2009-08-27 This title should equip students with a broad range of materials case extracts statutory extracts and relevant academic writings to enable them to study and make sense of this fast developing and often complex area of law Global Price Fixing John M.

Connor,2007-05-24 I have devoted myself to studying the economic organization of industries for thirty years It has been my good fortune to work at places that tolerated my gadfly approach to research So long as I produced a few publications each year and wooed a few graduate students to share those interests I was free to sample a smorgasbord of economic delights why firms diversify the competitive role of advertising strategies for selling in overseas markets measuring market power and many others Although firmly chored in the eclectic analytical framework of industrial economics and focused on the food system I traversed a wide field at will A decade ago I had pretty much convinced myself that naked price fixing was not a high priority for scholarship True collusion was rife in a few industries such as bid rigging among suppliers of fluid milk to school districts in isolated rural districts Ripping off milk money from school children is reprehensible enough but the size of the economic losses from localized price fixing paled besides other sources of imperfect competition Moreover there were no great policy debates about the wisdom or merits of enforcing the price fixing prohibitions in the Nation's antitrust laws Making

History Sophie Meunier,Kathleen R. McNamara,2007 The contributors to this volume all leading specialists in the field of EU studies examine the trajectory of the EU and draw on the theoretical tools of historical institutionalism to assess the central political challenges facing the EU

Courts without Borders Tonya L. Putnam,2016-08-04 Courts without Borders is the first book to examine the politics of judicial extraterritoriality with a focus on the world's chief practitioner the United States For much of the post World War II era the United States has been a frequent yet selective regulator of activities outside its territory and US federal courts are often on the front line in deciding the extraterritorial reach of US law At stake in these jurisdiction battles is the ability to bring the regulatory power of the United States to bear on transnational disputes in ways that other states frequently dislike both in principle and in practice This volume proposes a general theory of domestic court behavior to explain variation in extraterritorial enforcement of US law emphasizing how the strategic behavior of private actors is important to mobilizing courts and in directing their activities Handbook on European Competition Law

Ioannis Lianos,Damien Geradin,2013-10-31 This Handbook will be an indispensable reference work for practitioners and scholars as well as for those in an enforcement environment The International Aluminium Cartel Marco

Bertilorenzi,2015-09-16 Aluminium was one of most cartelised industries in the international economic panorama of the 20th century Born following the discovery of electrolytic smelting process in 1886 this industry even in its infancy established a cartel which characterised its history until nearly 1980 Managers of the aluminium industry from various historical eras and countries shared the same vision about the development of their industry to keep prices as stable as possible in order to encourage expansions and to provide return on investments Price instability which characterised the trade of other commodities was unknown to the aluminium industry This book neither argues that cartels are fundamentally evil nor attempts to demonstrate that cartels are optimal business organisations It instead provides an in depth and frank analysis of the internal working of industrial organisations and of the interplay between cartels and political powers and institutions The International Aluminium Cartel offers explanations for the construction and collapse of cartels descriptions of their operations and an historical interpretation of their experiences Incorporating information gleaned from a unique collection of private and public archives from several countries this unique study will appeal to a wide variety of readers including academics interested in industrial and business history Views of European Law from the Mountain Mielle
