The

Black Horn Robert Lee Watt,2014-10-30 The Black Horn The Story of Classical French Hornist Robert Lee Watt tells the story of the first African American French Hornist hired by a major symphony in the United States Today few African Americans hold chairs in major American symphony orchestras and Watt is the first in many years to write about this uniquely exhilarating and at times painful experience The Black Horn chronicles the upbringing of a young boy fascinated by the sound of the French horn Watt walks readers through the many obstacles of the racial climate in the United States both on and off stage and his efforts to learn and eventually master an instrument little considered in the African American community Even the author's own father who played trumpet sought to dissuade the young classical musician in the making He faced opposition from within the community where the instrument was deemed by Watt's father a middle instrument suited only for thin lipped white boys and from without Watt also documented his struggles as a student at a nearly all white major music conservatory as well as his first job in a major symphony orchestra after the conservatory canceled his scholarship Watt subsequently chronicles his triumphs and travails as a musician when confronting the realities of race in America and the world of classical music This book will surely interest any classical musician and student particularly those of color seeking to grasp the sometimes troubled history of being the only black horn

The Choral Singer's Survival Guide Tony Thornton, 2005 Paint My Name in Black and Gold Mark Andrews, 2021-11-11 Leeds 1980 Amid the violence and decay the city was home to an extraordinarily vibrant post punk scene Out of that swamp crawled the Sisters of Mercy Over the next five years they would rise from local heroes to leading alternative band before blowing apart on the verge of major rock stardom Their path was strewn with brilliant singles astonishing EPs exceptional album tracks and legendary live shows Two classic line ups were created and destroyed Andrew Eldritch on vocals Craig Adams on bass Gary Marx and Ben Gunn later replaced by Wayne Hussey on guitars and a drum machine called Doktor Avalanche Hussey and Adams styled themselves as the Evil Children and played hard both on and off the stage neither Gunn nor Marx were natural rock n roll animals but the latter performed with such abandon that it was hard to believe he also wrote the Sisters most delicate and beautiful music Eldritch was the most peculiar and compelling of them all a singular and mesmerising amalgam of T S Eliot and David Bowie who staked a powerful claim to be the greatest rock star of his generation Drawing on dozens of interviews with band members and key figures in the Sisters journey Paint My Name in Black and Gold is the most complete account yet of how against the odds and all reasonable expectation these young men came to make transcendent and life changing music
