Reinventing Film Studies:

Reinventing Film Studies Linda Williams, Christine Gledhill, 2000-01 This anthology of specially commissioned essays introduces students to some of the central questions and debates which have concerned the development of Film Studies. It differs from other readers in that it does not start with the intellectual history of the evolution of film theory or the history and criticism of film but with the problems and questions that confront us now. The contributors begin with questions that are central to the field, asking what we need to know and what theories, concepts and methods help us to know. These questions that confront the discipline at the beginning of a new century either reframe or depart from the concerns of the 1970s when film first became an academic subject of study. This second century of moving images, new questions and a new knowledge animate the field. The aim of this collection is to reinvent film studies in the light of these new questions, rethinking and refiguring what is most useful from the past. There are four key issues in this reinvention that film studies can no longer ignore: its interdisciplinary invention next to media studies, cultural studies and visual culture; and that film studies thus needs to confront the massness of its existence as mass media; that film studies has a distinctive and historically changing sensory appeal; that since mass-mediated culture is the only terrain on which we have to work, we need to re-confront the aesthetic generic and modal forms of this mass media; and finally that the pressure of postmodernity has compelled a new urgency in the understanding of film history, which is never wholly about then and certainly always about now. Reinventing Film

Studies Christine Gledhill, Anne Friedberg, Rajinder Kumar Dudrah, 2000 Reinventing Film Studies Christine Gledhill, 2000 Inventing Film Studies Lee Grieveson, Haidee Wasson, 2008-11-24 A collection of institution-centered essays comprising a history of film studies as a discipline. The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents, The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally, drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline. It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions. It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience. Finally, it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film, the institution of cinema, and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological, industrial, and aesthetic developments.

Beginning film studies Andrew Dix, 2016-05-01 Beginning film studies offers the ideal introduction to this vibrant subject. Written accessibly and with verve, it ranges across the key topics and manifold approaches to film studies. Andrew Dix has thoroughly updated the first edition, and this new volume includes new case studies, overviews of recent developments in the discipline, and up to the minute suggestions for further reading. The book begins by considering some of film's formal features: mise en scène, editing, and sound, before moving outwards to narrative, genre, authorship, stardom, and ideology. Later chapters on film industries and on film consumption where and how we watch movies assess the discipline's recent geographical turn. The book references many film cultures including Hollywood Bollywood and contemporary Hong Kong. Case studies cover such topics as sound in The Great Gatsby and narrative in Inception. The superhero movie is studied so too is Jennifer Lawrence. Beginning film studies is also interactive with readers enabled throughout to reflect critically upon the field.

A Dictionary of Film Studies Annette Kuhn, Guy Westwell, 2012-06-21. Written by experts in the field, this dictionary covers all aspects of film studies including terms, concepts, debates and movements in film theory and criticism, national, international and transnational cinemas, film history, film movements and genres, film industry organizations and practices and key technical terms and concepts in 500 detailed entries. Most entries also feature recommendations for further reading and a large number also have web links. The web links are listed and regularly updated on a companion website that complements the printed book. The dictionary is international in its approach, covering national cinemas, genres and film movements from around the world such as the Nouvelle Vague, Latin American cinema, the L'Écran Noir film, Bollywood, Yiddish cinema, the spaghetti western and World cinema. The most up-to-date dictionary of its kind available, this is a must-have for all students of film studies and ancillary subjects as well as an informative read for cinephiles and for anyone with an interest in films and film criticism.

Understanding Audiences and the Film Industry Roy Stafford, 2019-07-25. Brings together an introduction to academic study of audiences as readers of films and an investigation into how the film industry perceives audiences as part of its industrial practices. The approach draws on ideas from film, media and cultural studies to present an insight to what makes the biggest box office films attractive to audiences.

Valuing Films L. Hubner, 2011-04-05. This volume gets to the heart of what films mean to people on personal, political and commercial levels. Exploring value judgements that underpin social, academic and institutional practices, it examines the diverse forms of worth attributed to a range of international films in relation to taste, passion, morality and aesthetics.

Reception Studies and Audiovisual Translation Elena Di Giovanni, Yves Gambier, 2018-06-15. The coming of age of audiovisual translation studies has brought about a much-needed surge of studies focusing on the audience, their comprehension, appreciation or rejection of what reaches them through the medium of translation. Although complex to perform, studies on the reception of translated audiovisual texts offer a uniquely thorough picture of the life and afterlife of these texts. This volume provides a detailed and comprehensive overview of reception studies related to audiovisual translation and accessibility from a diachronic and synchronic perspective. Focusing on all audiovisual translation techniques and encompassing theoretical and methodological approaches from translation, media and film studies, it aims to become a reference for students and scholars across these fields.

The New Peplum Nicholas Diak, 2018-01-12. Peplum, or sword and sandal films, an Italian genre of the late 1950s through the 1960s, featured ancient Greek, Roman and Biblical stories with gladiators, mythological monsters and legendary quests. The new wave of historic epics, known as neo-pepla, is distinctly different, embracing new technologies and storytelling.

techniques to create an immersive experience unattainable in the earlier films This collection of new essays explores the neopeplum phenomenon through a range of topics including comic book adaptations like Hercules the expansion of genre boundaries in Jupiter Ascending and John Carter depictions of Romans and slaves in Spartacus and The Eagle and Centurion as metaphors for America's involvement in the Iraq War

The Cambridge Companion to Postmodernism Steven Connor, 2004-07-15 The Cambridge Companion to Postmodernism offers a comprehensive introduction to postmodernism The Companion examines the different aspects of postmodernist thought and culture that have had a significant impact on contemporary cultural production and thinking Topics discussed by experts in the field include postmodernism's relation to modernity and its significance and relevance to literature film law philosophy architecture religion and modern cultural studies The volume also includes a useful guide to further reading and a chronology This is an essential aid for students and teachers from a range of disciplines interested in postmodernism in all its incarnations Accessible and comprehensive this Companion addresses the many issues surrounding this elusive enigmatic and often controversial topic

Making Personas Hideaki Fujiki, 2020-10-26 The film star is not simply an actor but a historical phenomenon that derives from the production of an actor's attractiveness the circulation of his or her name and likeness and the support of media consumers This book analyzes the establishment and transformation of the transnational film star system and the formations of historically important film stars Japanese and non Japanese and casts new light on Japanese modernity as it unfolded between the 1910s and 1930s Hideaki Fujiki illustrates how film stardom and the star system emerged and evolved touching on such facets as the production representation circulation and reception of performers images in films and other media Examining several individual performers particularly benshi narrators Onoe Matsunosuke Tachibana Teijir Kurishima Sumiko Clara Bow and Natsukawa Shizue as well as certain aspects of different star systems that bolstered individual stardom this study foregrounds the associations of contradictory multivalent social factors that constituted modernity in Japan such as industrialization capitalism colonialism nationalism and consumerism Through its nuanced treatment of the production and consumption of film stars this book shows that modernity is not a simple concept but an intricate contested and paradoxical nexus of diverse social elements emerging in their historical contexts New Hollywood Cinema Geoff King,2002

Addresses the stylistic industrial and socio historical contexts of the New Hollywood cinema identifying its distinctive characteristics and its points of similarity with the Hollywood of the past Topics include the industrial context to the blockbuster format of contemporary Hollywood the frameworks of authorship genre and stardom through which New Hollywood films have been produced and consumed and the growing importance of small screen media to the overall economy of Hollywood Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Crash Cinema Will Godfrey,Jill Good,Mark Goodall,2009-10-02 Crash Cinema Representation in Film is a collection of essays that emerged from Crash Cinema an annual symposium that is an integral part of the Bradford Film Festival at the National Media Museum UK The symposium was created by academics and curators who share the common aim of promoting the importance of film both as an academic study and for critical public appreciation Films can be enjoyed as entertainment they can educate and inform and they can excite and disturb Films are powerful pieces of culture The films that we now consume do more than simply amuse or horrify Cinema not only thrills us but also communicates to us about ourselves and in the twentieth and twenty first century moving images have become the dominant form of this communication Bombarded by images we inhabit a media intensive world in which every aspect of life is pervaded by visual signs In these circumstances it becomes increasingly significant to engage with the politics of representation Through this vital process we can acknowledge that all cultural forms whether in high art or the mass media are in the broadest sense political We can also appreciate that it is a complex agenda of interests that shapes specific ideological meanings Fulsomely equipped we can apply this essential tool to the exciting task of decoding the political social and cultural meanings articulated through the making promotion and consumption of film This book aims to offer an arena for the analysis of these representations Representations cannot depict the truth and the essays in this book do not claim to search for the truth We ask whose truth is being represented how is it represented and why is it represented like that We also ask how do representations tell us something about the culture within which they are created Yet the essays in this volume are not stuck in the representational concerns of the past and try instead to uncover the power of cinema to shock and surprise whether that be through visceral impact subversive content experiments with identity or the exploration of the taboo Representation as defined by the eleven essays in this book is a fluid and dynamic approach to the study of film The study of film to which this book contributes some unique case studies is as popular as ever and has withstood growing challenge from the new media such as CG Animations the internet and computer console and online gaming This is because the pleasure of film is still the most humanistic and because the sophistication of the representations offered by cinematic expression remain ever more complex and pleasurable to decipher This book can therefore be read by any student academic writer or filmmaker hooked on these delights Maghrebs in Motion Suzanne Gauch,2016 Maghrebs in Motion analyzes nine key films and film cycles from Algeria Morocco and Tunisia made in the twenty five years leading up to the Arab Spring This study shows how each film draws on diverse cinematic and sociopolitical legacies to prefigure and capture the shifts of perception and relation that so stunned onlookers worldwide when nonideological protests in Tunisia overthrew the long standing autocratic government
