Relativism And Reality A Contemporary Education:

Unfolding Social Constructionism Fiona J. Hibberd, 2006-11-24 For more than half of the 20 century psychologists sought to locate the causes of behaviour in individuals and tended to neglect the possibility of locating the psychological in the social. In the late 1960s a reaction to that neglect brought about a crisis in social psychology. This crisis did not affect all social psychologists; some remained seemingly oblivious to its presence, others dismissed its significance and continued much as before. But in certain quarters the psychological was re-conceptualised as the social and the social was taken to be sui generis. Moreover, the possibility of developing general laws and theories to describe and explain social interaction was rejected on the grounds that as social beings our actions vary from occasion to occasion and are for many reasons unrepeatable. There is so it was thought an inherent instability in the phenomena of interest. The nomothetic ideal was said to rest on individualistic cause-effect positivism of the kind which arguably characterised the natural sciences but social psychology so it was said is an historical inquiry and its conclusions are necessarily historically relative. Gergen 1973. Events outside psychology converged to give impetus to the crisis within Reality, Spirituality, and Modern Man David R. Hawkins, MD/PHD, 2021-01-12 This is the seventh book in a progressive series based on the revelations of consciousness research. It describes in detail how to discern not only truth from falsehood but also the illusion of appearance from the actual core of reality. The text explains how to differentiate perception from essence and thereby enables the reader to resolve the ambiguities and classical riddles that have challenged mankind for centuries and baffled the best minds in history. While modern technologies have provided a plethora of new toys and conveniences, the basic problems of daily existence remain. This book provides the tools to survive and regain fundamental autonomy and inner harmony while living with the complexities of the modern world. Reality, Spirituality and Modern Man David R. Hawkins, 2008 This text describes in detail how to discern not only truth from falsehood but also the illusion of appearance from the actual core of inner reality. It explains how to differentiate perception from essence and enables the reader to resolve the ambiguities and classical riddles that have challenged mankind for centuries. Modern Movements in Educational Philosophy Van Cleve Morris, 1969

Durkheim and Modern Education W.S.F. Pickering, Geoffrey Walford, 2002-09-11 This volume explores Durkheim's place in modern educational thought at three different levels. Durkheim's ideas on education are analyzed and placed in the context of modern society. Current educational issues are explored using a Durkheimian framework. Durkheim's thought is related to that of modern educational theorists to reveal his enduring influence. In discussing Durkheim's modern relevance, the contributors stress his desire to integrate the practical and theoretical aspects of education. They identify particular pertinence in his focus upon the moral base of education and his insistence upon the importance of the social and society.

Learning, Knowledge and Cultural Context Linda King, 2012-12-06 This special issue of the International Review of Education includes contributions on indigenous knowledge the cultural context of learning and on the interplay between the so called traditional and modern ways of education It starts from the assumption that cultures are not static that they are shifting and mutating and that the Western need to encapsulate other cultures which found its most extreme form in their being frozen in time and boxed behind glass in museums of ethnology has distorted our understanding of the way in which different cultures create recreate and reproduce knowledge The basic premise of this position is that there is no such thing as a pure culture and that all cultures borrow lend adapt and distort distinct elements from other cultures All cultures moreover provide their members with ways of learning about that culture which include elements such as language forms of social organisation and ritual spaces for the transmission of specialised knowledge Meaning may be shifted over time but that in itself is a product of the passage of knowledge through history Indeed much meaning is cyclical and reinterpretive so that cultures may look back to a mythological past which they assumed gave them their essential identity but which may be part fact part fantasy and part fiction This is then reinterpreted in the light of changed and changing historical circumstances

No Place for Truth David F. Wells, 1994-12-20 Has something indeed happened to evangelical theology and to evangelical churches According to David Wells the evidence indicates that evangelical pastors have abandoned their traditional role as ministers of the Word to become therapists and managers of the small enterprises we call churches Along with their parishioners they have abandoned genuine Christianity and biblical truth in favor of the sort of inner directed experiential religion that now pervades Western society Specifically Wells explores the wholesale disappearance of theology in the church the academy and modern culture Western culture as a whole argues Wells has been transformed by modernity and the church has simply gone with the flow The new environment in which we live with its huge cities triumphant capitalism invasive technology and pervasive amusements has vanquished and homogenized the entire world While the modern world has produced astonishing abundance it has also taken a toll on the human spirit emptying it of enduring meaning and morality Seeking respite from the acids of modernity people today have increasingly turned to religions and therapies centered on the self And whether consciously or not evangelicals have taken the same path refashioning their faith into a religion of the self They have been coopted by modernity have sold their soul for a mess of pottage According to Wells they have lost the truth that God stands outside all human experience that he still summons sinners to repentance and belief regardless of their self image and that he calls his church to stand fast in his truth against the blandishments of a godless world The first of three volumes meant to encourage renewal in evangelical theology the other two to be written by Cornelius Plantinga Jr and Mark Noll No Place for Truth is a contemporary jeremiad a clarion call to all evangelicals to note well what a pass they have come to in capitulating to modernity what a risk they are running by abandoning historic orthodoxy It is provocative reading for scholars ministers seminary students and all theologically concerned individuals
