Mapping Hong Kong Laurent Gutierrez, Valérie Portefaix, 2000 Edited by Anna Koor Essay by Laurent Gutierrez and Valerie Portefaix Foreword by Ackbar Abbas

Construction of Mappings for Hamiltonian Systems and Their Applications Sadrilla S. Abdullaev, 2006-08-02 Based on the method of canonical transformation of variables and the classical perturbation theory this innovative book treats the systematic theory of symplectic mappings for Hamiltonian systems and its application to the study of the dynamics and chaos of various physical problems described by Hamiltonian systems It develops a new mathematically rigorous method to construct symplectic mappings which replaces the dynamics of continuous Hamiltonian systems by the discrete ones Applications of the mapping methods encompass the chaos theory in non twist and non smooth dynamical systems the structure and chaotic transport in the stochastic layer the magnetic field lines in magnetically confinement devices of plasmas ray dynamics in waveguides etc The book is intended for postgraduate students and researches physicists and astronomers working in the areas of plasma physics hydrodynamics celestial mechanics dynamical astronomy and accelerator physics It should also be useful for applied mathematicians involved in analytical and numerical studies of dynamical systems

Arithmetic of Probability Distributions, and Characterization Problems on Abelian Groups Gennadii Mikhailovich Fel'dman, 1993 This book studies the problem of the decomposition of a given random variable into a sum of independent random variables components Starting from the famous Cramer theorem which says that all components of a normal random variable are also normal random variables the central feature of the book is Feldman s use of powerful analytical techniques In the algebraic case one cannot directly use analytic methods because of the absence of a natural analytic structure on the dual group which is the domain of characteristic functions Nevertheless the methods developed in this book allow one to apply analytic techniques in the algebraic setting The first part of the book presents results on the arithmetic of probability distributions of random variables with values in a locally compact abelian group The second part studies problems of characterization of a Gaussian distribution of a locally compact abelian group by the independence or identical distribution of its linear statistics

Structure Theory Helmut Strade, 2008-08-22 The problem of classifying the finite dimensional simple Lie algebras over fields of characteristic $p > 0$ is a long standing one Work on this question during the last 45 years has been directed by the Kostrikin Shafarevich Conjecture of 1966 which states that over an algebraically closed field of characteristic $p \geq 5$ a finite dimensional restricted simple Lie algebra is classical or of Cartan type This conjecture was proved for $p \geq 7$ by Block and Wilson in 1988 The generalization of the Kostrikin Shafarevich Conjecture for the general case of not necessarily restricted Lie algebras and $p \geq 7$ was announced in 1991 by Strade and Wilson and eventually proved by Strade in 1998 The final Block Wilson Strade Premet Classification Theorem is a landmark result of modern mathematics and can be formulated as follows Every finite dimensional simple Lie algebra over an algebraically closed field of characteristic $p \neq 3$ is of classical Cartan or Melikian type In the three volume book the author is assembling the proof of the Classification Theorem with explanations and references The goal is a state of the art account on the structure and classification theory of Lie algebras over fields of positive characteristic leading to the forefront of current research in this field This first volume is devoted to preparing the ground for the classification work to be performed in the second and third volume The concise presentation of the general theory underlying the subject matter and the presentation of classification results on a subclass of the simple Lie algebras for all odd primes make this volume an invaluable source and reference for all research mathematicians and advanced graduate students in algebra Singularities Vladimir I.

Arnold, Gert-Martin Greuel, Joseph H.M. Steenbrink, 2012-12-06 In July 1996 a conference was organized by the editors of this volume at the Mathematisches Forschungsinstitut Oberwolfach to honour Egbert Brieskorn on the occasion of his 60th birthday Most of the mathematicians invited to the conference have been influenced in one way or another by Brieskorn's work in singularity theory It was the first time that so many people from the Russian school could be present at a conference in singularity theory outside Russia This volume contains papers on singularity theory and its applications written by participants of the conference In many cases they are extended versions of the talks presented there The diversity of subjects of the contributions reflects singularity theory's relevance to topology analysis and geometry combining ideas and techniques from all of these fields as well as demonstrating the breadth of Brieskorn's own interests This volume contains papers on singularity theory and its applications written by participants of the conference In many cases they are extended versions of the talks presented there The diversity of subjects of the contributions reflects singularity theory's relevance to topology analysis and geometry combining ideas and techniques from all of these fields as well as demonstrates the breadth of Brieskorn's own interests Non-Associative Normed Algebras: Volume 2, Representation Theory and the Zel'manov

Approach Miguel Cabrera García, Ángel Rodríguez Palacios, 2018-04-12 This first systematic account of the basic theory of normed algebras without assuming associativity includes many new and unpublished results and is sure to become a central resource for researchers and graduate students in the field This second volume revisits JB triples covers Zel'manov's celebrated work in Jordan theory proves the unit free variant of the Vidav Palmer theorem and develops the representation theory of alternative C^* algebras and non commutative JB algebras This completes the work begun in the first volume which introduced these algebras and discussed the so called non associative Gelfand Naimark and Vidav Palmer theorems This book interweaves pure algebra geometry of normed spaces and infinite dimensional complex analysis Novel proofs are presented in complete detail at a level accessible to graduate students The book contains a wealth of historical comments background material examples and an extensive bibliography Curvature Measures of Singular Sets Jan Rataj, Martina Zähle, 2019-06-22 The book describes how curvature measures can be introduced for certain classes of sets with singularities in Euclidean spaces Its focus lies on sets with positive reach and some extensions which include the classical polyconvex sets and piecewise smooth submanifolds as special cases The measures under consideration form a complete system of certain Euclidean invariants Techniques of geometric measure theory in particular rectifiable currents are applied and some important integral geometric formulas are derived Moreover an approach to curvatures for a class of fractals is presented which uses approximation by the rescaled curvature measures of small neighborhoods The book collects results published during the last few decades in a nearly comprehensive way

Recent Advances in Genetics and Breeding of Major Staple Food Crops Joong Hyoun Chin, B.P. Mallikarjuna Swamy, 2021-08-31 To meet the global food demand of an increasing population food production has to be increased by 60% by 2050 The main production constraints such as climate change biotic stresses abiotic stresses soil nutrition deficiency problems problematic soils etc have to be addressed on an urgent basis More than 50% of human calories are from three major cereals rice wheat and maize The harnessing of genetic diversity by novel allele mining assisted by recent advances in biotechnological and bioinformatics tools will enhance the utilization of the hidden treasures in the gene bank Technological advances in plant breeding will provide some solutions for the biofortification stress resistance yield potential and quality improvement in staple crops The elucidation of the genetic physiological and molecular basis of useful traits and the improvement of the improved donors containing multiple traits are key activities for variety development High throughput genotyping systems assisted by bioinformatics and data science provide efficient and easy tools for geneticists and breeders Recently new breeding techniques applied in some food crops have become game changers in the global food crop market With this background we invited 18 eminent researchers working on food crops from across the world to contribute their high quality original research manuscripts The research studies covered modern food crop genetics and breeding plant molecular systems focusing to food crops plant genetic diversity QTL and gene identification utilizing high throughput genotyping systems and their validation new breeding techniques in food crops targeted mutagenesis genome editing etc abiotic and biotic stresses QTL gene identification and their molecular physiology plant nutrition grain quality improvement and yield enhancement

Infinite-Dimensional Lie Groups Hideki Omori, 2017-11-07 This book develops from the viewpoint of abstract group theory a general theory of infinite dimensional Lie groups involving the implicit function theorem and the Frobenius theorem Omori treats as infinite dimensional Lie groups all the real primitive infinite transformation groups studied by E Cartan The book discusses several noncommutative algebras such as Weyl algebras and algebras of quantum groups and their automorphism groups The notion of a noncommutative manifold is described and the deformation quantization of certain algebras is discussed from the viewpoint of Lie algebras This edition is a revised version of the book of the same title published in Japanese in 1979
