Mapping Subaltern Studies And The Postcolonial:

Mapping Subaltern Studies and the Postcolonial Vinayak Chaturvedi, 2000 This volume in the Mapping series offers a balance sheet of the Subaltern Studies Project an intervention in South Asian history and politics which has generated an impact in Latin American Irish and African Studies The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Literary Studies Neil Lazarus, 2004-07-15 Offers a lucid introduction to postcolonial studies one of the most important strands in recent literary theory and cultural studies The Postcolonial Orient Vasant Kaiwar, 2014-05-08 In The Postcolonial Orient Vasant Kaiwar presents a far reaching analysis of the political economic and ideological cross currents that have shaped and informed postcolonial studies preceding and following the 1989 moment of world history The valences of the post in postcolonialism are unfolded via some key historical political postcolonial texts showing inter alia that they are replete with elements of Romantic Orientalism and the Oriental Renaissance Kaiwar mobilises a critical body of classical and contemporary Marxism to demonstrate that far richer understandings of Europe not to mention colonialism modernity and difference are possible than with a postcolonialism captive to phenomenological existentialism and post structuralism concluding that a narrative so enriched is indispensable for a transformative non Eurocentric internationalism The Postcolonial Unconscious Neil Lazarus, 2011-06-30 The Postcolonial Unconscious is a major attempt to reconstruct the whole field of postcolonial studies In this magisterial and at times polemical study Neil Lazarus argues that the key critical concepts that form the very foundation of the field need to be re assessed and questioned Drawing on a vast range of literary sources Lazarus investigates works and authors from Latin America and the Caribbean Africa and the Arab world South Southeast and East Asia to reconsider them from a postcolonial perspective Alongside this he offers bold new readings of some of the most influential figures in the field Fredric Jameson Edward Said and Frantz Fanon A tour de force of postcolonial studies this book will set the agenda for the future probing how the field has come to develop in the directions it has and why and how it can grow further Remapping the Indian Postcolonial Canon Nirmala Menon, 2016-12-27 This book critically examines the postcolonial canon questioning both the disproportionate attention to texts written in English and their overuse in attempts to understand the postcolonial condition The author addresses the non representation of Indian literature in theory and the inadequacy of generalizing postcolonial experiences and subjectivities based on literature produced in one language English It argues that while postcolonial scholarship has successfully challenged Eurocentrism it is now time to extend the dimensions beyond Anglophone and Francophone literatures to include literatures in other languages such as Hindi Telugu Tamil Tagalog and Swahili Postcolonialism Tariq Jazeel, 2019-02-22 Postcolonialism is a book that examines the influence of postcolonial theory in critical geographical thought and scholarship Aimed at advanced level students and researchers the book is a lively stimulating and relevant introduction to postcolonial geography that elaborates on the critical interventions in social cultural and political life this important subfield is poised to make The book is structured around three intersecting parts Spaces

Identity hybridity Knowledge that broadly follow the trajectory of postcolonial studies since the late 1970s It comprises ten main chapters each of which is situated at the intersections of postcolonialism and critical human geography In doing so Postcolonialism develops three key arguments First that postcolonialism is best conceived as an intellectually creative and practical set of methodologies or approaches for critically engaging existing manifestations of power and exclusion in everyday life and in taken as given spaces Second that postcolonialism is at its core concerned with the politics of representation both in terms of how people and space are represented but also the politics surrounding who is able to represent themselves and on what whose terms Third the book argues that postcolonialism itself is an inherently geographical intellectual enterprise despite its origins in literary theory In developing these arguments and addressing a series of relevant and international case studies and examples throughout Postcolonialism not only demonstrates the importance of postcolonial theory to the contemporary critical geographical imagination It also argues that geographers have much to offer to continued theorizations and workings of postcolonial theory politics and intellectual debates going forward This is a book that brings critical analyses of the continued and omnipresent legacies of colonialism and imperialism to the heart of human geography but also one that returns an avowedly critical geographical disposition to the core of interdisciplinary postcolonial studies

Postcolonial Feminist Theology Wietske de Jong-Kumru, 2013 This book engages with the critical tools of Edward Said 1935 2003 and traces the voyage of various postcolonial feminist theologians Along four intersecting lines postcolonial feminist theology unfolds as addressing cultural othering religious othering gendered othering and sexual othering In critical solidarity with those constructed as other postcolonial feminist theology the book challenges the norms of Western theology Series ContactZone Explorations in Intercultural Theology Vol 16

Globalization and Postcolonialism Sankaran Krishna, 2009 Globalization has become a widely used buzzword yet popular discussions often miss its deeper realities This book offers the first clear explanation of the impact of colonialist legacies in a globalized world in an era defined by the War on Terror Sankaran Krishna explores the history of the relationship between Western dominance and the forms of resistance that have emerged to challenge it Moving beyond the simple formulation of They hate us because we are rich we are free and they are crazy he asks What have we done that might generate such animosity What face has the United States presented to the developing world over time Krishna argues that we live on an interrelated globe that history matters a great deal in constructing contemporary realities and that others create stories or narratives about the world based on their experiences just as we do based on ours He contends that the interactions between the West and the non West have not been politically innocent economically egalitarian or culturally benign in their consequences Presenting a lucid exploration of the intertwined histories of both globalization and postcolonialism this book uses compelling real world examples to make sense of this crucial relationship transitional justice has become rapidly established as a vital field of enquiry. From vaguely exotic origins on the outer edges of political science, the study of justice in times of transition has emerged as a central concern of scholarship and practical policy making. A process of institutionalisation has confirmed this importance. The ICTY, the ICTR, the ICC, hybrid tribunals in Sierra Leone and East Timor, and local processes such as the Iraqi Higher Tribunal (IHT) have energised international law and international criminal justice scholarship. The South African TRC was for a time lauded as the model for dealing with the past and remains one of the most researched institutions in the world. It is one of approximately two dozen such institutions established in different transitional contexts over the past twenty years to assist conflicted societies to come to terms with a violent past. At the national level, international donors contribute huge sums of money to Rule of Law programmes designed to transform national justice systems. This collection seeks to offer something quite different to the mainstream of scholarship in this area, emphasising the need for bespoke solutions to different transitions rather than off the shelf models. The collection is designed to offer a space for diversity prompted by a series of perspectives from below of societies beset by past violent conflict which have sought to effect their transition to justice. In doing so, the contributors have also sought to enrich discussion about the role of human rights in transition, the continuing usefulness of perspectives from above, and the still contested meanings of transition.

Out of the Dark Night Achille Mbembe, 2021-01-19 Achille Mbembe is one of the world's most profound critics of colonialism and its consequences, a major figure in the emergence of a new wave of French critical theory. His writings examine the complexities of decolonization for African subjectivities and the possibilities emerging in its wake. In Out of the Dark Night he offers a rich analysis of the paradoxes of the postcolonial moment that points toward new liberatory models of community, humanity, and planetarity. In a nuanced consideration of the African experience, Mbembe makes sweeping interventions into debates about citizenship, identity, democracy, and modernity. He eruditely ranges across European and African thought to provide a powerful assessment of common ways of writing and thinking about the world. Mbembe criticizes the blinders of European intellectuals, analyzing France's failure to heed postcolonial critiques of ongoing exclusions masked by pretenses of universalism. He develops a new reading of African modernity that further develops the notion of Afropolitanism, a novel way of being in the world that has arisen in decolonized Africa in the midst of both destruction and the birth of new societies. Out of the Dark Night reconstructs critical theory's historical and philosophical framework for understanding colonial and postcolonial events and expands our sense of the futures made possible by decolonization.
