Mapping Trauma And Its Wake Autobiographic Essays By Pioneer Trauma Scholars:

Mapping Trauma and Its Wake Charles R. Figley, 2007-12-11 Mapping Trauma and Its Wake is a compilation of autobiographic essays by seventeen of the field's pioneers each of whom has been recognized for his or her contributions by the International Society for Traumatic Stress Studies Each author discusses how he or she first got interested in the field what each feels are his or her greatest achievements and where the discipline might and should go from here This impressive collection of essays by internationally renowned specialists is destined to become a classic of traumatology literature It is a text that will provide future mental health professionals with a window into the early years of this rapidly expanding field

Washed in Blood Claire Sisco King, 2011-11-25 Will Smith in I Am Legend Leonardo DiCaprio in Titanic Charlton Heston in just about everything Viewers of Hollywood action films are no doubt familiar with the sacrificial victim hero the male protagonist who nobly gives up his life so that others may be saved Washed in Blood argues that such sacrificial films are especially prominent in eras when the nation and American manhood is thought to be in crisis The sacrificial victim hero continually imperiled and frequently exhibiting classic symptoms of post traumatic stress disorder thus bears the trauma of the nation Claire Sisco King offers an in depth study of three prominent cycles of Hollywood films that follow the sacrificial narrative the early to mid 1970s the mid to late 1990s and the mid to late 2000s From Vietnam era disaster movies to post 9 11 apocalyptic thrillers she examines how each film represents traumatized American masculinity and national identity What she uncovers is a cinematic tendency to position straight white men as America's most valuable citizens and its noblest victims

Encyclopedia of Trauma Charles R. Figley, 2012-06-19 Trauma is defined as a sudden potentially deadly experience often leaving lasting troubling memories Traumatology the study of trauma its effects and methods to modify effects is exploding in terms of published works and expanding in terms of scope Originally a narrow specialty within emergency medicine the field now extends to trauma psychology military psychiatry and behavioral health post traumatic stress and stress disorders trauma social work disaster mental health and most recently the subfield of history and trauma with sociohistorical examination of long term effects and meanings of major traumas experienced by whole communities and nations both natural Pompeii Hurricane Katrina and man made the Holocaust 9 11 One reason for this expansion involves important scientific breakthroughs in detecting the neurobiology of trauma that is connecting biology with human behavior which in turn is applicable to all fields involving human thought and response including but not limited to psychiatry medicine and the health sciences the social and behavioral sciences the humanities and law Researchers within these fields and more can contribute to a universal understanding of immediate and long term consequences both good and bad of trauma both for individuals and for broader communities and institutions Trauma encyclopedias published to date all center around psychological trauma and its emotional effects on the individual as a disabling or mental disorder requiring mental health services This element is vital and has benefited from scientific and professional breakthroughs in theory research and applications Our encyclopedia certainly will cover this central element but our expanded conceptualization will include the other disciplines and will move beyond the individual

Self-help for Trauma Therapists Margaret Pack, 2016-07-22 For those offering trauma informed care it can be difficult to maintain wellbeing and a balanced positive outlook when the nature of their job requires frequent engagement with traumatic disclosures Self help for Trauma Therapists A Practitioner s Guide intends to assist human service workers such as those working as therapists social workers and counsellors to maintain their self care and professional effectiveness when working in fields where stress and trauma play a key factor in their everyday working lives Adopting a comprehensive multi layered approach to self care based the book grounds its exploration of practice through researched accounts with experience professionals Including accounts from clinical psychologists therapists counsellors social workers and the friends and family of people in these professions this book creates a narrative on stress and trauma from the human service worker perspective Interwoven with these stories of practice the author includes reflections on her own experiences in practice over the past 25 years with trauma survivors With discussions on risk and resilience compassion fatigue and vicarious traumatisation readers are introduced to the theories and practical applications of developing a professional model for maintaining wellbeing and self care in their work Self help for Trauma Therapists A Practitioner s Guide is the first book of its kind to be written solely for human service workers It is essential reading for beginning and more advanced practitioners who are involved in working with trauma and recovery and will also be of interest to supporters of those working in the helping professions

Listening to Trauma , 2014-11-25 Interviews and intimate photographic portraits of witnesses to the collective and cultural significance of trauma This new collection from Cathy Caruth features interviews with a diverse group of leaders in the theorization of and response to traumatic experience in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Crossing the boundaries of discipline and profession Caruth s subjects include literary theorists and critics psychoanalysts psychiatrists psychologists political activists filmmakers public intellectuals institutional leaders and researchers Exploring the intertwining of the intellectual and personal dimensions of experience each interview is accompanied by Caruth s intimate photographic portrait of its subject Caruth chose her subjects because of their impact on her thinking as well as their significant role as witnesses to the collective and cultural significance of trauma The individuals profiled here are innovators in the theory of trauma Part I in the clinical activist or testimonial interventions in trauma Part II or in the creation or modification of institutions that provide therapeutic artistic or legal responses to traumatic events Part III Two of the interviews first appeared in Caruth s landmark 1995 work Trauma Explorations in Memory The rest were conducted between 2011 and 2013 after the field of trauma studies expanded significantly Representing both the foundation of trauma research and cutting edge approaches to the topic this collection will be useful to practitioners with an interest in post traumatic stress disorder as well as scholars exploring the multiple dimensions of profound human experience A portion of the proceeds from sales of this book will go to the Grady Nia Project for abused

Collective Trauma and the Armenian Genocide Pamela

Steiner, 2021-02-25 In this pathbreaking study Pamela Steiner deconstructs the psychological obstacles that have prevented peaceful settlements to longstanding issues The book re examines more than 100 years of destructive ethno religious relations among Armenians Turks and Azerbaijanis through the novel lens of collective trauma The author argues that a focus on embedded transgenerational collective trauma is essential to achieving more trusting productive and stable relationships in this and similar contexts The book takes a deep dive into history analysing the traumatic events examining and positing how they motivated the actions of key players both victims and perpetrators and revealing how profoundly these traumas continue to manifest today among the three peoples stymying healing and inhibiting achievement of a basis for positive change The author then proposes a bold new approach to conflict resolution as a complement to other perspectives such as power based analyses and international human rights Addressing the psychological core of the conflict the author argues that a focus on embedded collective trauma is essential in this and similar arenas

Knowing the Suffering of Others Austin

Sarat, 2014-07-14 In Knowing the Suffering of Others legal scholar Austin Sarat brings together essays that address suffering as it relates to the law highlighting the ways law imagines suffering and how pain and suffering become jurisprudential facts From fetal imaging to end of life decisions torts to international human rights domestic violence to torture and the law of war to victim impact statements the law is awash in epistemological and ethical problems associated with knowing and imagining suffering In each of these domains we might ask How well do legal actors perceive and understand suffering in such varied domains of legal life What problems of representation and interpretation bedevil efforts to grasp the suffering of others What historical political literary cultural and or theological resources can legal actors and citizens draw on to understand the suffering of others In Knowing the Suffering of Others Austin Sarat presents legal scholarship that explores these questions and puts the problem of suffering at the center of thinking about law The contributors to this volume do not regard pain and suffering as objective facts of a universe remote from law rather they examine how both are discursively constructed in and by law They examine how pain and suffering help construct and give meaning to the law as we know it The authors attend to the various ways suffering appears in law as well as the different forms of suffering that require the law s attention

Throughout this book law is regarded as a domain in which the meanings of pain and suffering are contested and constituted as well as an instrument for inflicting suffering or for providing or refusing its relief It challenges scholars lawyers students and policymakers to ask how various legal actors and audiences understand the suffering of others Contributors Montr D Carodine Cathy Caruth Alan L Durham Bryan K Fair Steven H Hobbs Gregory C Keating Linda Ross Meyer Meredith M Render Jeannie Suk John Fabian Witt

the most important topics discussed throughout the clinical social and cultural field Social traumatization as we meet it in the aftermath of genocide war and persecution is targeted at whole groups and thus affects the individual s immediate holding environment cutting it off from an important resilience factor further on social trauma is implemented in a societal context thus involving the surrounding society in the traumatic process Both conditions entail major consequences for the impact and prognosis of the resulting individual posttraumatic disorders as well as for the social and cultural consequences The volume connects clinical and epidemiological studies on the sequelae of social trauma to reflections from social psychology and the humanities Post war and post dictatorial societies are in particular marked by the effects of massive large group traumatization and if these are not acknowledged explored and mourned the unprocessed cumulative trauma that has become deeply embedded in the collective memory leads to periodical reactivations To address social trauma an interdisciplinary approach is required

Working in a world of hurt Carol Acton, Jane Potter, 2015-07-01 Working in a world of hurt fills a significant gap in the studies of the psychological trauma wrought by war It focuses not on soldiers but on the men and women who fought to save them in casualty clearing stations hospitals and prison camps The writings by doctors nurses ambulance drivers and other medical personnel reveal the spectrum of their responses that range from breakdown to resilience Through a rich analysis of both published and unpublished personal from the First World War in the early twentieth century to Iraq in the early twenty first Acton and Potter put centre stage the letters diaries memoirs and weblogs that have chronicled physical and emotional suffering many for the first time Wide ranging in scope interdisciplinary in method and written in a scholarly yet accessible style Working in a world of hurt is essential reading for lecturers and students as well as the general reader
