Library and Information Services Division,1977 Comparative Map History and "the History of Cartography" Matthew H. Edney,2025-07-10 The apparently centuries old field of the history of cartography was invented after 1950 through incomplete historiographies by leading map historians This monograph uses an empirically grounded analysis of the ways in which early maps have been systematically studied since the early 1800s to offer an innovative account of the practices and institutions of comparative map history in support of Western imperialism and nationalism and of how the field was reconfigured as the core of a newly idealized discipline of the history of cartography

Essays on Walter Prescott Webb and the Teaching of History Jacques Barzun,1985 Walter Prescott Webb s contributions to the study of history detailing the direction historical studies have taken since Webb wrote Webb s historiography and its relationship to classroom instruction is the subject of the second essay by Elliott West An appreciation of Webb and a sense of his teaching style are offered by Anne M Butler and Richard A Baker while Dennis Reinhartz discusses the use of maps in the classroom a practice to which Webb was committed In a postscript Llerena Friend writes a personal tribute to her mentor and colleague Historian's Guide to Early British Maps Helen Wallis,Anita McConnell,1995-04-06 Great Britain and Ireland enjoy a rich cartographic heritage yet historians have not made full use of early maps in their writings and research This is partly due to a lack of information about exactly which maps are available With the publication of this volume from the Royal Historical Society we now have a comprehensive guide to the early maps of Great Britain The book is divided into two parts part one describes the history and purpose of maps in a series of short essays on the early mapping of the British Isles part two comprises a guide to the collections national and regional Now available from Cambridge University Press this volume provides an essential reference tool for anyone requiring to access maps of the British Isles dating back to the medieval period and beyond The History of Cartography, Volume 6 Mark Monmonier,2015-05-18 For more than thirty years the History of Cartography Project has charted the course for scholarship on cartography bringing together research from a variety of disciplines on the creation dissemination and use of maps Volume 6 Cartography in the Twentieth Century continues this tradition with a groundbreaking survey of the century just ended and a new full color encyclopedic format The twentieth century is a pivotal period in map history The transition from paper to digital formats led to previously unimaginable dynamic and interactive maps Geographic information systems radically altered cartographic institutions and reduced the skill required to create maps Satellite positioning and mobile communications revolutionized wayfinding Mapping evolved as an important tool for coping with complexity organizing knowledge and influencing public opinion in all parts of the globe and at all levels of society Volume 6 covers these changes comprehensively while thoroughly demonstrating the far reaching effects of maps on science technology and society and vice versa The lavishly produced volume includes more than five hundred articles accompanied by more than a thousand images Hundreds of expert contributors provide both original research often based on their own participation in the developments they describe and interpretations of larger trends in cartography Designed for use by both scholars and the general public this definitive volume is a reference work of first resort for all who study and love maps The New Nature of Maps J. B. Harley, 2002-10-03 In these essays the author draws on ideas in art history literature philosophy and the study of visual culture to subvert the traditional positivist model of cartography and replace it with one grounded in an iconological and semiotic theory of the nature of maps
