Markets In Africa:

Markets and States in Tropical Africa Robert H. Bates, 2014-04-12 Following independence most countries in Africa sought to develop but their governments pursued policies that actually undermined their rural economies Examining the origins of Africa's growth tragedy Markets and States in Tropical Africa has for decades shaped the thinking of practitioners and scholars alike Robert H Bates's analysis now faces a challenge however the revival of economic growth on the continent In this edition Bates provides a new preface and chapter that address the seeds of Africa's recovery and discuss the significance of the continent's success for the arguments of this classic work Base of the Pyramid Markets in Africa Judy N. Muthuri, Marlen Gabriele Arnold, Stefan Gold, Ximena Rueda, 2020-07-27 This book focuses on the Base of the Pyramid BOP in Africa and examines the role of the private sector in the fight against poverty The BOP concept which is a market based approach to poverty eradication presents a great avenue for businesses to develop opportunities and new business models that enable and empower those in the BOP population in Africa to raise their socio economic welfare and well being The BOP market and the business interest in the BOP in Africa is rising This book furthers our understanding of the characteristics of BOP markets in Africa and the challenges and opportunities to address poverty and development in a sustainable manner The book covers various themes of BOP markets and their embeddedness in social cultural settings in Africa The different chapters employ a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to advance research and practice of BOP in Africa The book chapters reflect multiple diversities that characterise sub Saharan Africa based on studies in 13 country contexts and from five industry sectors This book is recommended reading for managers and policy makers as well as students and academics interested in Base of the Pyramid markets Markets in Africa Paul Bohannon, George Dalton, 1954 Markets in West Africa B. W. Hodder, U. I. Ukwu, 1969 Study of rural areas and urban areas markets commerce marketing and distribution networks within two major areas of West Africa particularly Nigeria covers the development of trade and markets in Yorubaland and Iboland and includes sociological aspects the economic functions of periodic and daily markets the patterns of trade and retail marketing etc Diagrams maps references and statistical tables Markets in Africa Paul Bohannon, George Dalton, 1965 Urban Labor Markets in Sub-Saharan Africa Philippe De Vreyer, Francois Roubaud, 2013-06-07 Although labor is usually the unique asset upon which poor people can make a living little is known about the functioning of labor markets in Sub Saharan Africa The purpose of this volume is to contribute to the building of knowledge in this area In this book the authors use a unique set of identical and simultaneous labor force surveys conducted in seven capitals of Western Africa as well as in some other African countries Cameroon Madagascar Democratic Republic of Congo in the 2000s They present innovative and original results on how people are faring in these labour markets using up to date econometric and statistical methods Because so little is known about labor markets in the region each chapter starts with detailed descriptive statistics that aim to shed light onto specific aspects of African urban labor markets

Comparisons between the ten cities are systematically carried out Descriptive sections are followed by in depth analyses on various issues The book is divided into four parts that examine 13 topics Part I presents the main stylised facts which are investigated further in a more analytical way throughout the volume Part II focuses on job quality and labor market conditions such as unemployment and underemployment vulnerability and job satisfaction Part III explores the many dimensions of labor market inequalities through various lenses such as returns on education segmentation life cycle inequality with a particular focus on old age inter generational mobility time related inequality and gender and ethnic earnings discrimination Part IV addresses some key coping mechanisms and private responses with a focus on migration and child labor The book concludes with recommendations for future research

Food Systems in Africa Gaëlle Balineau,Arthur Bauer,Martin Kessler,Nicole Madariaga,2021-02-08 Rapid population growth poorly planned urbanization and evolving agricultural production and distribution practices are changing foodways in African cities and creating challenges Africans are increasingly facing hunger undernutrition and malnutrition Yet change also creates new opportunities The food economy currently is the main source of jobs on the continent promising more employment in the near future in farming food processing and food product distribution These opportunities are undermined however by inefficient links among farmers intermediaries and consumers leading to the loss of one third of all food produced This volume is an in depth analysis of food system shortcomings in three West African cities Abidjan C te d Ivoire Rabat Morocco and Niamey Niger Using the lens of geographical economics and sociology the authors draw on quantitative and qualitative field surveys and case studies to offer insightful analyses of political institutions They show the importance of hard physical infrastructure such as transport storage and wholesale and retail market facilities They also describe the soft infrastructure of institutions that facilitate trade such as interpersonal trust market information systems and business climates The authors find that the vague mandates and limited capacities of national trade and agriculture ministries regional and urban authorities neighborhood councils and market cooperatives often hamper policy interventions This volume comes to a simple conclusion international development policy makers and their financial and technical partners have neglected urban markets for far too long and now is the time to rethink and reinvest in this complex yet crucial subject

Give Africa Markets, Not Aid Naeemah Kwarteng,2024-10-11 Discover a Revolutionary Path to Africa s Prosperity If you believe in the potential of a vibrant Africa unshackled from the chains of poverty and dependency this book offers a profound and actionable blueprint just for you Give Africa Markets Not Aid A Blueprint for Sustainable Development challenges the conventional wisdom of foreign aid proposing a paradigm shift that is as inspiring as it is pragmatic For too long Africa has been seen through the lens of need rather than potential The book begins with a compelling critique of traditional aid models that have fostered dependency rather than empowerment It doesn't stop at criticism it delves deeply into the historical context tracing the origins and impacts of foreign aid from colonial times to the present You will discover how these well intentioned efforts have often undermined the very growth they aimed to support Imagine African economies fueled by their own abundant resources youthful populations and entrepreneurial spirit This book explores the untapped potential of African markets advocating for a transformative approach that prioritizes access to global markets innovation and regulatory reforms Through captivating case studies the author illuminates how African nations can transition from aid to sustainable trade thereby fostering genuine economic growth and reducing poverty Get ready to rethink the role of international partnerships Highlighting both past missteps and future possibilities the book discusses how entities like the European Union could play a vital role in empowering African farmers and entrepreneurs By focusing on fair trade meeting international standards and reducing barriers Africa can achieve economic stability and mitigate issues like illegal migration With actionable policy recommendations and inspiring success stories Give Africa Markets Not Aid equips readers with the knowledge to advocate for market based solutions that promise a brighter future for Africa This is not just a book it's a call to action for anyone passionate about meaningful and lasting change on the African continent Emerging Business

Opportunities in Africa: Market Entry, Competitive Strategy, and the Promotion of Foreign Direct Investments Gekonge, Christopher O., 2013-09-30 Despite its often mismanaged economy Africa remains the third largest continent in land mass and population It continues to offer unexploited business opportunities for entrepreneurs global corporations and institutions Emerging Business Opportunities in Africa Market Entry Competitive Strategy and the Promotion of Foreign Direct Investments presents the basic business modeling for developing appropriate strategies in exploiting these business opportunities in the emerging economy in Africa This book offers insight into the challenges and successes aiming to encourage researchers and students of business in creating a value for doing business in Africa Reforming agricultural markets in Africa Kherallah, Mylene, Delgado, Christopher L., Gabre-Madhin, Eleni Z., Minot, Nicholas, Johnson, Michael, 2002-01-01 The long term reduction of hunger and poverty in Sub Saharan Africa remains one of the great challenges for the international development community Eliminating hunger and promoting widespread growth in the region inevitably involves agriculture given its central role in the region's economies Over the past 20 years most African governments have carried out reforms to deregulate agricultural markets and reduce the role of state enterprises How much has the state actually withdrawn from agricultural markets Have well functioning private markets emerged How successful were these reforms in boosting agricultural production economic growth and the incomes of the rural poor What lessons can we learn from the reform process The authors of this book address these questions through an analysis based on an extensive review of experiences with reform focusing on three major agricultural markets fertilizer food crops and export crops They examine the historical rationales for intervention the factors contributing to reform the process of implementation and the impact of the reforms on farmers and consumers in Sub Saharan Africa The authors find that reforms have had many favorable results but that the impact has been muted by partial implementation and structural constraints They propose a new agenda for promoting the development of agricultural markets in Sub Saharan Africa identifying areas where governments can play a supportive role They argue that appropriate agricultural marketing policies and investments can improve livelihoods and the economic health of the region

Africa agriculture trade monitor 2018 Badiane, O. (ed), Odjo, S.P. (ed), Collins, J. (ed), 2018-09-01 Boosting intra African trade and deepening regional integration offer an effective vehicle to speed up Africa's economic transformation Increasing the volumes of intra African trade in agricultural products and the elimination of non tariff barriers have the potential to boost industrialization and enhance competitiveness at country and industry levels through higher investments in connectivity and infrastructure both physical and digital

The Development of Indigenous Trade and Markets in West Africa Claude Meillassoux, 2018-09-03 Originally published in 1971 and written in English and French with summaries in both languages the essays in this volume discuss the effects of internal economic and political conditions and of external relations on the development of trade and markets in West Africa from the period of the slave trade to the growth in the 20th century in production for overseas markets and rapidly expanding urban centres Other essays discuss various aspects of local and regional trade and markets from the nineteenth century onwards

International Stock Market Linkages in Southern Africa Keith Jefferis, Charles Okeahalam, Tebogo Matome, 1999

The Emergence of Land Markets in Africa Stein Terje Holden, Keijiro Otsuka, Frank M. Place, 2008 This book is the first systematic attempt to address emerging land markets and their implications for poverty equity and efficiency across a number of African countries The high incidence of poverty and the need for increased agricultural productivity remain acute in rural areas of sub Saharan Africa where a lack of secure land rights and a growing scarcity of land relative to the size of the population are becoming increasingly critical issues Indeed land issues in the region are high on the international policy agenda Yet our knowledge about land tenure security and other rural factor markets such as labor oxen manure purchased inputs and credit is far from adequate to formulate sensible policies The case studies in the book show that while land markets and especially informal markets have been rapidly emerging in densely populated parts of Africa and have generally been to the benefit of the poor their functions remain imperfect This is due to policy induced tenure insecurity and the fragmentation of agricultural land Applying rigorous quantitative analyses the book provides a basis for taking into account the role of land markets in national land policies All too often the authors argue land policies have been extreme either prohibiting all land transactions or giving unrestricted freehold rights to a small elite at the expense of the poor From the long experience in Asia it is known that such policies are detrimental to both production efficiency and equity of land use The authors argue that future policies in Africa should work with the markets Regulations should be imposed only with careful testing that they are having the intended effects The Emergence of Land Markets in Africa is a resource for teaching in developed and developing countries as it provides both comprehensive reviews of the literature and detailed case studies It is intended to facilitate the dialogue between researchers and policymakers as well as inspire researchers to go further in their investigations and build an even stronger basis for good policies The Emergence of Land Markets in Africa is the first publication in the new Environment for Development EfD book series EfD books focus on research and applications in environmental and natural resource economics as they are relevant to poverty reduction and environmental problems in developing countries The EfD book series is part of the EfD initiative www.environmentfordevelopment.org

Making Medicines in Africa Maureen Mackintosh, Geoffrey Banda, Watu Wamae, Paula Tibandebage, 2016-02-03 This book is open access under a CC BY license The importance of the pharmaceutical industry in Sub Saharan Africa its claim to policy priority is rooted in the vast unmet health needs of the sub continent Making Medicines in Africa is a collective endeavour by a group of contributors with a strong African and more broadly Southern presence to find ways to link technological development investment and industrial growth in pharmaceuticals to improve access to essential good quality medicines as part of moving towards universal access to competent health care in Africa The authors aim to shift the emphasis in international debate and initiatives towards sustained Africa based and African led initiatives to tackle this huge challenge Without the technological industrial intellectual organisational and research related capabilities associated with competent pharmaceutical production and without policies that pull the industrial sectors towards serving local health needs the African sub continent cannot generate the resources to tackle its populations needs and demands Research for this book has been selected as one of the 20 best examples of the impact of UK research on development See <http://www.ukcds.org/uk> the global impact of uk research for further details

Making Markets Work for Africa Eleanor M. Fox, Mor Bakhoun, 2018-12-19 This book focuses on market law and policy in sub Saharan Africa showing how markets can be harnessed by poorer and developing economies to help make the markets work for them to help them integrate into the world economy and provide a better standard of living for their people while preserving their values of inclusive development It explores uses of power both by dominant firms often multinationals and incumbent governments and cronies to ring fence their market positions and deprive rivals often the indigenous people from fair access to markets and highlights how competition authorities are pushing back and winning fair access lowering prices of goods and services especially for the poorer population The book also examines the next level up regionalism and provides the facts that show how regionalism has so far failed to meet its promise of freeing markets from cross border restraints by large firms that operate across national borders On the more technical side the book takes a deep look at the competition policies of sets of nations in sub Saharan Africa West South eastern and South It examines the performance of the competition authorities of particular nations including how they handle cartels monopolies and mergers their standards of illegality and their methodologies for incorporating public interest values into their analyses Observing the good works by a number of the national competition authorities the book is optimistic about the role of the national competition authorities in protecting the people from abuses of economic power and perhaps in the future the role of regional authorities and less formal networks in promoting an African voice in defence of competition
