The Inside Story of the IRA Prisoners' "Dirty" Protest

On The Blanket The Inside Story Of The Ira Prisoners Dirty Protest

Margaret Hillenbrand

On The Blanket The Inside Story Of The IRA Prisoners Dirty Protest:

On the Blanket Tim Pat Coogan, 2002-08-17 The H Block protest is one of the strangest and most controversial issues in the tragic history of Northern Ireland Republican prisoners convicted of grave crimes through special courts and ruthless interrogation procedures campaigned for political status by refusing to wear prison clothes and daubing their cell with excrement Were they properly convicted criminals or martyrs to political injustice In a masterpiece of investigative journalism Coogan provides us with the only first hand account of the protest His investigation led deep into the social cultural and economic maze of Northern Ireland's history to give readers an unmatched analysis of a troubled place and its sorrowful history

Irish Culture and Colonial Modernity 1800-2000 David Lloyd, 2011-09-22 From the Famine to political hunger strikes from telling tales in the pub to Beckett's tortured utterances the performance of Irish identity has always been deeply connected to the oral Exploring how colonial modernity transformed the spaces that sustained Ireland's oral culture this book explains why Irish culture has been both so creative and so resistant to modernization David Lloyd brings together manifestations of oral culture in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries showing how the survival of orality was central both to resistance against colonial rule and to Ireland's modern definition as a postcolonial culture Specific to Ireland as these histories are they resonate with postcolonial cultures globally This study is an important and provocative new interpretation of Irish national culture and how it came into being

The Business of Martyrdom Jeffrey W Lewis, 2012-04-15 The Business of Martyrdom is the only comprehensive history of suicide bombing from its origins in Imperial Russia to the present day It makes use of a framework from the history and philosophy of technology to explain the diffusion and evolution of suicide bombing over the past several decades It is primarily a work of synthesis meant to reach a broad audience and endeavors to integrate as much of the recent scholarly literature as possible including reconciling explanatory mechanisms that seem to be at odds with one another In addition this book is able to draw on very recent changes in suicide bombing in the years 2008 2010 that allow it to have a slightly different perspective than earlier studies For the first time the global number of suicide attacks has declined significantly for three years in a row This book therefore has the advantage of addressing the phenomenon of suicide bombing as a bounded phenomenon with limits to its growth and diffusion To this point the impression that suicide bombers are the smartest bombs yet created has been widespread but confined to the area of metaphor Drawing well established ideas from the history of technology The Business of Martyrdom argues that the metaphor should be taken literally Suicide bombing is a technology that has been invented and re-invented at different times in different areas but always for the same purpose resolving a mismatch in military capabilities between antagonists by utilizing the available cultural and human resources Over the past several years analysts have produced a large number of monographs and articles examining suicide bombing The best contributions in this new and growing literature have shed considerable light on the complexity of suicide bombing in practice particularly regarding the structure of the organizations that deploy suicide bombers and the relationships between these organizations and the recruits whom they utilize in their attacks Nevertheless nagging inconsistencies and questions remain These inconsistencies can be explained by examining suicide bombing as a technological system that integrates human beings cultures and devices and directs them toward specific ends Such an analysis requires that neither the individual bombers nor their sponsoring organizations be the basic unit of discussion Instead the bombers must be understood as components within a much larger system that has been shaped by a host of social cultural and operational constraints throughout its existence Integrating insights from the historical analysis of other technological systems with the recent literature specifically devoted to suicide bombing therefore allows The Business of Martyrdom to develop a fuller understanding of suicide bombing as a unified yet diverse phenomenon

A Treatise on Northern Ireland Brendan O'Leary, 2019 The third volume of the definitive political history of Northern Ireland

Irish Women's Prison Writing Red Washburn, 2022-11-16 This book explores 50 years of Irish women's prison writing 1960s 2010s connecting the work of women leaders and writers in Northern Ireland during the Troubles This volume analyzes political communiques petitions news coverage prison files personal letters poetry and short prose and memoirs highlighting the personal correspondence autobiographical narratives and poetry of the following key women Bernadette McAliskey Eileen Hickey Mairead Farrell Siobhán Darragh Ella O'Dwyer Martina Anderson Dolours Price Marian McGlinchey formerly Marian Price and Eibhlín Ní Giolla Easpaig Ann and Eileen Gillespie Roseleen Walsh and Margaretta D'Arcy This text builds on different fields and discourses to reimagine gender and genre as central to an interdisciplinary and intersectional prison archive Centering Irish women's prison writings in order to challenge canonization in history and literature this volume argues that women's lives and words offer a different view of gender and nation as well as offer a fuller and more inclusive archive of Irish history and literature Additionally this book will point to the ways in which their politics of everyday life and their cultural work is a form of anti colonial civil rights feminism for it speaks truth to power in a world in which compliance and silence are valued Overall this text focuses on rethinking and recasting women's voices and words in order to document and promote the ongoing Irish freedom struggle from an abolitionist feminist perspective

On the Edge Margaret Hillenbrand, 2023-10-24 Winner 2024 Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for East Asian Studies Modern Language Association Charismatic artists recruit desperate migrants for site specific performance art pieces often without compensation Construction workers threaten on camera to jump from the top of a high rise building if their back wages are not paid Users of a video and livestreaming app hustle for views by eating excrement or setting off firecrackers on their genitals In these and many other recent cultural moments China's suppressed social strife simmers or threatens to boil over On the Edge probes precarity in contemporary China through the lens of the dark and angry cultural forms that chronic uncertainty has generated Margaret Hillenbrand argues that a vast underclass of Chinese workers exist in zombie citizenship a state of dehumanizing exile from the law and its safeguards Many others also feel precarious sensing that they live on a precipice with the constant fear of falling into this abyss of dispossession disenfranchisement and dislocation Examining the volatile aesthetic forms that embody stifled social tensions and surging anxiety over zombie citizenship Hillenbrand traces how people use culture to vent taboo feelings of rage resentment distrust and disdain in scenarios rife with cross class antagonism On the Edge is highly interdisciplinary fusing digital media art history literary criticism and performance studies with citizenship protest and labor studies It makes both the distinctive Chinese experience and the vital role of culture central to global understandings of how entrenched insecurity and civic jeopardy fray the bonds of the social contract

Dance in Chains Padraic Kenney, 2017 A study of the role of political imprisonment in the modern world in regimes ranging from communist to fascist to colonial to democratic A Treatise on Northern Ireland, Volume III

Brendan O'Leary, 2019-04-17 The Good Friday Agreement deserved the attention the world gave it even if it was not always accurately understood After its ratification in two referendums for the first time in history political institutions throughout the island of Ireland rested upon the freely given assent of majorities of all the peoples on the island It marked it was hoped the full political decolonization of Ireland Whether Ireland would reunify or whether Northern Ireland remain in union with Great Britain now rested on the will of the people of Ireland North and South respectively a complex mode of power sharing addressed the self determination dispute The concluding volume of Brendan O Leary s A Treatise on Northern Ireland explains the making of this settlement and the many failed initiatives that preceded it under British direct rule Long term structural and institutional changes and short term political maneuvers are given their due in this lively but comprehensive assessment The Anglo Irish Agreement is identified as the political tipping point itself partially the outcome of the hunger strikes of 1980 81 that had prevented the criminalization of republicanism Until 2016 the prudent judgment seemed to be that the Good Friday Agreement had broadly worked eventually enabling Sinn F in and the DUP to share power with intermittent attention from the sovereign governments Cultural Catholics appeared content if not in love with the Union with Great Britain But the decision to hold a referendum on the UK s membership of the European Union has collaterally damaged and destabilized the Good Friday Agreement That in turn has shaped the UK s tortured exit negotiations with the European Union In appraising these recent events and assessing possible futures readers will find O Leary s distinctive angle of vision clear sharp unsentimental and unsparing of reputations in keeping with the mastery of the historical panoramas displayed throughout this treatise

Say Nothing Patrick Radden Keefe, 2020-02-25 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER NOW AN FX LIMITED SERIES STREAMING ON HULU NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE AWARD WINNER From the author of Empire of Pain a stunning intricate narrative about a notorious killing in Northern Ireland and its devastating repercussions One of The New York Times s 20 Best Books of the 21st Century A Kirkus Reviews Best Nonfiction Book of the Century A Los Angeles Times Best Nonfiction Book of the Last 30 Years Masked intruders dragged Jean McConville a 38 year old widow and mother of 10 from her Belfast home in 1972 In this meticulously reported book as finely paced as a novel Keefe uses

McConville's murder as a prism to tell the history of the Troubles in Northern Ireland. Interviewing people on both sides of the conflict, he transforms the tragic damage and waste of the era into a searing, utterly gripping saga. New York Times Book Review reads like a novel. Keefe is a master of narrative nonfiction. An incredible story. Rolling Stone A Best Book of the Year. The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, TIME, NPR and more. Jean McConville's abduction was one of the most notorious episodes of the vicious conflict known as The Troubles. Everyone in the neighborhood knew the I R A was responsible. But in a climate of fear and paranoia, no one would speak of it. In 2003, five years after an accord brought an uneasy peace to Northern Ireland, a set of human bones was discovered on a beach. McConville's children knew it was their mother when they were told a blue safety pin was attached to the dress, with so many kids she had always kept it handy for diapers or ripped clothes. Patrick Radden Keefe's mesmerizing book on the bitter conflict in Northern Ireland and its aftermath uses the McConville case as a starting point for the tale of a society wracked by a violent guerrilla war, a war whose consequences have never been reckoned with. The brutal violence seared not only people like the McConville children but also I R A members embittered by a peace that fell far short of the goal of a united Ireland and left them wondering whether the killings they committed were not justified acts of war but simple murders. From radical and impetuous I R A terrorists such as Dolours Price, who when she was barely out of her teens was already planting bombs in London and targeting informers for execution, to the ferocious I R A mastermind known as The Dark, to the spy games and dirty schemes of the British Army, to Gerry Adams who negotiated the peace but betrayed his hardcore comrades by denying his I R A past, Say Nothing conjures a world of passion, betrayal, vengeance, and anguish. Voices from Captivity J E Thomas, 2018-07-19. Offering insight into the unseen world of life in prison, this book presents a broad range of first-hand testimonies of people writing from prisons and concentration camps over a number of centuries and from different countries. Organised thematically, it covers feelings on being locked up, how to deal with staff and sex in captivity. 1916 Tim Pat Coogan, 2025-09-23. There's before 1916 and then there's after. Between them lies the Easter Rising when Irish republicans took up arms against British rule and changed the course of their country's history forever. For though the resistance failed, it failed gloriously; the rebels were no longer a group of cranks and troublemakers in the public eye but martyrs and national heroes. Their example set the way for others, and their mission lived on through the century to come. But what sort of country did the Rising create? And how does post-1916 Ireland compare with the aspirations of the rebellion's leaders, the hopes of Thomas MacDonagh and John MacBride, of James Connolly and Patrick Pearse? One hundred years later, Tim Pat Coogan offers a personal perspective on the Irish experience that followed the Rising. He charts a flawed history that is marked as much by complacency, corruption, and institutional abuse as it is by the building of a nation and the sacrifices of the Republic's founding fathers. Dying to Win Robert Pape, 2005-05-24. Suicide terrorism is rising around the world, but there is great confusion as to why. In this paradigm-shifting analysis, University of Chicago political scientist Robert Pape has collected groundbreaking evidence to explain the strategic social and individual factors responsible for this growing threat One of the world's foremost authorities on the subject Professor Pape has created the first comprehensive database of every suicide terrorist attack in the world from 1980 until today With striking clarity and precision Professor Pape uses this unprecedented research to debunk widely held misconceptions about the nature of suicide terrorism and provide a new lens that makes sense of the threat we face

FACT Suicide terrorism is not primarily a product of Islamic fundamentalism

FACT The world's leading practitioners of suicide terrorism are the Tamil Tigers in Sri Lanka a secular Marxist Leninist group drawn from Hindu families

FACT Ninety five percent of suicide terrorist attacks occur as part of coherent campaigns organized by large militant organizations with significant public support

FACT Every suicide terrorist campaign has had a clear goal that is secular and political to compel a modern democracy to withdraw military forces from the territory that the terrorists view as their homeland

FACT Al Qaeda fits the above pattern Although Saudi Arabia is not under American military occupation per se one major objective of al Qaeda is the expulsion of U S troops from the Persian Gulf region and as a result there have been repeated attacks by terrorists loyal to Osama bin Laden against American troops in Saudi Arabia and the region as a whole

FACT Despite their rhetoric democracies including the United States have routinely made concessions to suicide terrorists

Suicide terrorism is on the rise because terrorists have learned that it's effective In this wide ranging analysis Professor Pape offers the essential tools to forecast when some groups are likely to resort to suicide terrorism and when they are not He also provides the first comprehensive demographic profile of modern suicide terrorist attackers With data from more than 460 such attackers including the names of 333 we now know that these individuals are not mainly poor desperate criminals or uneducated religious fanatics but are often well educated middle class political activists More than simply advancing new theory and facts these pages also answer key questions about the war on terror Are we safer now than we were before September 11 Was the invasion of Iraq a good counterterrorist move Is al Qaeda stronger now than it was before September 11 Professor Pape answers these questions with analysis grounded in fact not politics and recommends concrete ways for today's states to fight and prevent terrorist attacks Military options may disrupt terrorist operations in the short term but a lasting solution to suicide terrorism will require a comprehensive long term approach one that abandons visions of empire and relies on a combined strategy of vigorous homeland security nation building in troubled states and greater energy independence For both policy makers and the general public Dying to Win transcends speculation with systematic scholarship making it one of the most important political studies of recent time

Out of Sight, Out of Mind John Podmore, 2012-01-19 At the heart of his book is his conclusion that prison simply does not work failing on three fundamental levels The view of the popular media is that when prisoners are locked up they cannot commit crime This is not true Podmore shows how crime actually proliferates in prison how serious organised crime is allowed to flourish there through bad management and how the UK's prisons are a multi million pound investment bank for the black economy The public sees prison as a deterrent This book shows that whilst it may deter the white middle classes for the majority of those behind bars it is merely a social tax or as Norman Stanley Fletcher was told in Porridge an occupational hazard It shows that for many across the spectrum of social exclusion it is a place of safety and preferable to life on the streets Also whatever spin is put on the figures it is clear that the majority of those leaving prison will quickly reoffend OUT OF SIGHT OUT OF MIND is a remarkable book that seeks to ignite a debate across society about a vital subject we ignore at our peril The Carceral Network in Ireland Fiona McCann, 2020-06-26 This book examines the forms and practices of Irish confinement from the 19th century to present day to explore the social and political failings of 20th and 21st century postcolonial Ireland Building on an interdisciplinary conference held in the Crumlin Road Gaol Belfast the methodological approaches adopted across this book range from the historical and archival to the sociological political and literary This edited collection touches on topics such as industrial schools Magdalen laundries struggles and resistance in prisons both North and South Direct Provision and the ways in which prison experiences have been represented in literature cinema and the arts It sketches out an uncomfortable picture of the techniques for policing bodies deployed in Ireland for over a century This innovative study seeks to establish a link between Ireland's inhumane treatment of women and children of prisoners and of asylum seekers today and to expose and pinpoint modes of resistance to these situations Irishness Is All Around Us Olaf Zenker, 2013-04-01 Focusing on Irish speakers in Catholic West Belfast this ethnography on Irish language and identity explores the complexities of changing and contradictory senses of Irishness and shifting practices of Irish culture in the domains of language music dance and sports The author's theoretical approach to ethnicity and ethnic revivals presents an expanded explanatory framework for the social re production of ethnicity theorizing the mutual interrelations between representations and cultural practices regarding their combined capacity to engender ethnic revivals Relevant not only to readers with an interest in the intricacies of the Northern Irish situation this book also appeals to a broader readership in anthropology sociology cultural studies history and political science concerned with the mechanisms behind ethnonational conflict and the politics of culture and identity in general Prisoners of Conscience Gerard A. Hauser, 2012-08-16 Prisoners of Conscience continues the work begun by Gerard A Hauser in Vernacular Voices The Rhetoric of Publics and Public Spheres winner of the National Communication Association's Hochmuth Nichols Award In his new book Hauser examines the discourse of political prisoners specifically the discourse of prisoners of conscience as a form of rhetoric in which the vernacular is the main source of available appeals and the foundation for political agency Hauser explores how modes of resistance employed by these prisoners constitute what he deems a thick moral vernacular rhetoric of human rights Hauser's work considers in part how these prisoners convert universal commitments to human dignity agency and voice into the moral vernacular of the society and culture to which their rhetoric is addressed Hauser grounds his study through a series of case studies each centered on a different rhetorical mechanism brought to bear in the act of resistance Through a transnational rhetorical analysis of resistance within political prisons Hauser brings to bear his skills as a rhetorical theorist and critic to illuminate the rhetorical power of resistance as tied to core questions in contemporary humanistic scholarship and public concern

Seven Million Gary Craig, 2017-05-02 On a freezing night in January 1993 masked gunmen walked through the laughably lax security at the Rochester Brink's depot tied up the guards and unhurriedly made off with 7.4 million in one of the FBI's top five armored car heists in history Suspicion quickly fell on a retired Rochester cop working security for Brinks at the time as well it might Officer Tom O'Connor had been previously suspected of everything from robbery to murder to complicity with the IRA One ex IRA soldier in particular was indebted to O'Connor for smuggling him and his girlfriend into the United States and when he was caught in New York City with 2 million in cash from the Brink's heist prosecutors were certain they finally had enough to nail O'Connor But they were wrong In Seven Million the reporter Gary Craig meticulously unwinds the long skein of leads half truths false starts and dead ends taking us from the grim solitary pens of Northern Ireland's Long Kesh prison to the illegal poker rooms of Manhattan to the cold lakeshore on the Canadian border where the body parts began washing up The story is populated by a colorful cast of characters including cops and FBI agents prison snitches a radical priest of the Melkite order who ran a home for troubled teenagers on the Lower East Side of Manhattan and the IRA rebel who'd spent long years jailed in one of Northern Ireland's most brutal prisons and who was living underground in New York posing as a comics dealer Finally Craig investigates the strange sad fate of Ronnie Gibbons a down and out boxer and muscle for hire in illegal New York City card rooms who was in on the early planning of the heist and who disappeared one day in 1995 after an ill advised trip to Rochester to see some men about getting what he felt he was owed Instead he got what was coming to him Seven Million is a meticulous re-creation of a complicated heist executed by a variegated and unsavory crew and of its many repercussions Some of the suspects are now dead some went to jail none of them are talking about the robbery or what really happened to Ronnie Gibbons And the money Only a fraction was recovered meaning that most of the 7 million is still out there somewhere

Healthcare and the Troubles Ruth Duffy, 2024-07-15 This book provides the first detailed study of healthcare during the period of the Troubles in Northern Ireland 1968-1998 While there have been some studies of the effects of conflict in the context of Northern Ireland to date there have been no in-depth histories of the impact of the Troubles on healthcare and the experiences of healthcare professionals Ruth Duffy's work combines analysis of archival research and oral history interviews to reveal the widespread impact of the conflict on healthcare facilities their staff and patients as well as the broader societal implications of providing services during the Troubles The book allows the voices of those who worked on the frontline to be heard for the first time as well as exploring important issues such as medical ethics and neutrality It offers new and valuable insights into the cost of the Northern Ireland conflict and its legacy today

Living at the Edges of Capitalism Andrej Grubacic, Denis O'Hearn, 2016-04-19 Since the earliest development of states groups of people escaped or were exiled As capitalism developed people tried to escape capitalist constraints connected with state control This powerful book gives voice to three communities living at the edges of capitalism Cossacks on the Don River in Russia Zapatistas in Chiapas Mexico and prisoners in long term isolation since the 1970s Inspired by their experiences visiting Cossacks living with the Zapatistas and developing connections and relationships with prisoners and ex prisoners Andrej Grubacic and Denis O Hearn present a uniquely sweeping historical and systematic study of exilic communities engaged in mutual aid Following the tradition of Peter Kropotkin Pierre Clastres James Scott Fernand Braudel and Imanuel Wallerstein this study examines the full historical and contemporary possibilities for establishing self governing communities at the edges of the capitalist world system considering the historical forces that often militate against those who try to practice mutual aid in the face of state power and capitalist incursion New Perspectives on Prison Masculinities Matthew Maycock, Kate Hunt, 2018-02-21 This edited collection utilises recent advances in theories on masculinities to explore and analyse the ways in which prisons shape performances of gender both within prison settings and following release from prison The authors assess here how the highly gendered world of the prison where the population is overwhelmingly male in most countries impacts upon the performance of masculinities Including original pieces from England Australia Scotland and the USA as well as contributions which take a broader methodological and conceptual approach to masculinity this engaging and original collection holds international appeal and relevance Cumulatively the chapters illustrate the importance of considering a nuanced understanding of masculinity within prison research and as such will be of particular interest for scholars of penology gender studies and the criminal justice system
