On The Theory And Policy Of Systemic Change Studies In Contemporary Economics

Bruno Dallago, Sara Casagrande

On The Theory And Policy Of Systemic Change Studies In Contemporary Economics:

On the Theory and Policy of Systemic Change Hans-Jurgen Wagener, 2014-01-15      On the Theory and Policy of Systemic Change Hans-Jürgen Wagener, 2012-12-06 Between 1989 and 1992 three colloquia on transformation problems were held at the Ludwig Reimers Stiftung Bad Homburg At the end of the 1980s the collapse of the Soviet type socialist economic system had become clear and hence the necessity to transform these systems into an entirely different economic order Similar processes have happened and still happen in other historical constellations for instance in developing countries It has been the aim of the Transformation Colloquium to gain more theoretical insight into these phenomena The object of research has been transformation defined as transition from a given economic order socialist planned economy e g to a consistent new or der market economy This is a highly complex phenomenon which occurred above all during the 20th century introduction and abolition of socialist systems transition from war economies to peace time market economies Historical experience allows perhaps for certain generalizing abstractions The central problem discussed at all up to now three colloquia is the question whether the object is amenable for theoretical analysis and which approaches eventually are promising      The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union Organised by discipline it covers the arts humanities social sciences life sciences and technology      The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies for 1994 Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 1997-05-31 This text provides a source of citations to North American scholarships relating specifically to the area of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union It indexes fields of scholarship such as the humanities arts technology and life sciences and all kinds of scholarship such as PhDs      An Econometric Analysis of Individual Unemployment Duration in West Germany Eckhard Wurzel, 2012-12-06 In contemporary labor economics increasing attention is paid to the fact that unemployment is not only a stock but also a flow phenomenon The present micro econometric study analyses the impact of important socio economic characteristics on unemployment duration in West Germany Based on a search theoretic framework unemployment duration is considered as a stochastic process whose evolution is influenced by economic and demographic variables like unemployment benefits expected wage offers training and age This is modeled by application of the concept of the hazard rate which denotes the conditional exit rate from unemployment over time given elapsed unemployment duration Contrasting more traditional models a semi parametric approach is chosen which reduces the danger of mis specification of the stochastic duration process This procedure also is particularly suitable for the analysis of grouped observations on unemployment duration typically generated by longitudinal data sets as the German Socio Economic Panel which is utilized for this study Besides deriving a set of empirical results on unemployment duration in West Germany methodological issues of duration analysis are considered with particular attention paid to the impact of the sample design Also important outcomes from search theory and findings from other hazard rate analyses are surveyed

The Shaping of Socio-Economic Systems (RLE Social Theory) Thomas Baumgartner, Tom Burns, Philippe DeVile, 2014-08-07 Actor systems dynamics is an innovative multidisciplinary methodology for investigating and analyzing social struggles over economic resources and the related interplay between economic and socio political institutions and processes The authors sociologists and economists offer a systemic perspective on contemporary socio economic issues such as economic crisis unemployment inflation economic democracy and development in their analyses they identify several of the key factors that drive people to interact to initiate change and transformation as well as to resist such change Major underlying themes in the book are Conflict over the distribution of economic resources and economic policies and institutions the structural bases of economic inequality and conflict the shaping and reshaping of socio economic institutions and the contradictions conflicts and instabilities evoked by such developments the failure of orthodox economic theories including Keynesianism in the face of recurrent economic crises and instabilities the development and application of an open dynamic actor oriented systems theory grounded in the social sciences addressing complex socio economic phenomena in ways diverging substantially from conventional economics All in all the papers collected here deal on the one hand with social power conflict and struggle concerning economic resources and institutions and on the other hand the structural and other factors which drive powering initiatives conflict and social innovation and transformation The book is addressed to a broad spectrum of social and managerial scientists concerned with socio economic issues institutions and development

The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Economic Systems Bruno Dallago, Sara Casagrande, 2022-12-19 The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Economic Systems examines the institutional bases of economies and the different ways in which economic activity can function be organized and governed It examines the complexity of this academic and research field assessing the place of comparative economic studies within economics paying due attention to future perspectives and presenting critically important questions analytical methods and relative approaches This complements the recent revival of the systemic view of economic governance which was accelerated by the COVID 19 pandemic and likely even more the renewed East West clash epitomized by the Russian invasion of Ukraine and the West's reaction to it The Handbook is divided into five parts Each part deals with an issue of relevance for the discipline The first and second parts look at the subject content and approach of the discipline and its comparative method The third part looks at the idiosyncratic nature of different economic systems and their constituent elements The fourth part considers the outcomes that different economic systems generate and how these outcomes change following the evolution and transformation of economic systems The last part takes stock and looks ahead at the challenges from a theoretical and applied perspective and the exogenous and endogenous factors promoting the advancement of the discipline including the interaction between and competition among varied approaches and opposing paradigms The Handbook brings together leading international contributors to reflect on the relevant debates and case or country studies provides a balanced overview of the results achieved and current knowledge as well as evolving issues and new fields of research The book provides researchers students and analysts with a complete critical and forward looking presentation and analysis of the content development challenges and perspectives of comparative economic studies Chapters 4 and 22 of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com Chapter 4 has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license and Chapter 22 has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Innovation System Frontiers Brian Wixted, 2009-06-12 Recent economic transformations in the world economy are progressing in two divergent directions international production fragmentation and industrial agglomeration Based on extensive data analysis and using models of interdependencies between key economies this book analyses innovation systems that cross national borders It is shown that technological complexity is an important factor in the formation of highly specific production networks and why for a number of production systems fragmentation and clustering are two sides of the same coin By outlining the picture of a world economy structured around networks of clusters and joined together through systems of linkages of components people and knowledge flows the author helps to promote a better understanding of recent economic transformations Dictionary of Contemporary Chinese Economics Hong Yinxing, 2025-05-26 This Dictionary provides the theoretical summary and conceptual framework around the milestones obtained through Chinese reform and development and highlights the research achievements of Chinese economics over the past 40 years It also presents Chinese economics to the world featuring the Belt and Road Initiative and the Chinese theory and Chinese system to be known and shared internationally with a Chinese intellectual foundation It sets out to frame the theoretical achievements of extraction and summary of practice experience from Chinese reform and development The choice of entries in the Dictionary seeks to embody the very Chinese characteristics of economics and the combination of theory and practice is illuminated Furthermore the dictionary explores examples of scientific achievements that traditional economics has brought forward and how they fit and unify within both a Chinese as well as an international context

A Disciplinary Blueprint for the Assessment of Information Literacy Dorothy Anne Warner, 2008-06-30 Have you ever worried that literature on library instruction deals more with methods of assessing student attitude than student learning If so you ll be glad to know someone is doing something about it Eight unique disciplinary modules are presented each identifying a series of information literacy objectives developed in accordance with Bloom s Taxonomy of Cognitive Objectives A substantive curriculum map embedded within each module lists the sequence of courses required for the disciplinary major and the level at which the course is taught sophomore junior etc notes whether information literacy instruction is currently taught by the library for that particular course and delineates the specific information literacy learning objectives the students must master in order to fulfill the course assignments Collaborative responsibility for teaching the information literacy skills is also outlined with specific recommendations for ways the library can strengthen its support for the specific discipline In addition assessment methodologies are identified including scoring rubrics designed specifically for the disciplinary information literacy objectives An indispensable resource for academic librarians ready to take the leap from episodic reactive response to programmatic sequenced integration into the curriculum
