Oops, I Lost My Sense of Humor Lois M. Santalo, Lois Wells Santalo, 2002-11 The doctor said Don't try it you could die on the operating table A scary thought but the alternative was worse waiting a few months for certain death The author decides to go with the riskier option which offers hope for the future In this poignant true story a woman reflects on her life loves family and marriage as she comes to terms with her mortality This memoir shows us older folks as we really are rather than as people perceive us Virginia Welsh teacher MAGNIFICENT The word flow is poetry I wonder if there's an editor with the courage to publish it Howard Fisher author of Salome I'll Meet You in Syracuse Lois Santalo, 2007-07 Just when things seem as bad as they can be with Del torn between a mother who hates Del's Hispanic spouse and a spouse determined to be part of the family Del's daughter makes an announcement which adds new and unsolvable racial tension to the stew pot of problems Mission Impossible turns into Mission Unthinkable In recurring nightmares Del drives but can't see the road ahead Someone has curtained the windshield or she moves through heavy fog or a blinding snowstorm or her headlights won't come on Again she is not driving but riding the train and her spouse climbs off and abandons her promising I'll meet you in Syracuse Something has to be done about the situation but what Is there a solution The Michigan Alumnus, 2003 In v 18 the final number consists of the Commencement annual Night of the Humpbacked Moon Lois Wells Santalo, 2012-09 When Jill Szekely arrives in San Diego to begin a temporary job as director of the EsCa a crisis house for women her first day is anything but normal A strange man claiming to be an artist seeking a model keeps hanging around another rebellious teenager has just showed up at the door and strangest of all the EsCa's founder and patron Estelle Carruthers has just been found murdered As bewildering array of clues point to both clients and staff murder accusations begin to fly Already struggling to handle the demands of an unfamiliar job Jill must now call on the sleuthing skills she never knew she possessed in order to sort out puzzles that grow more complicated by the day The list of suspects seems endless as Jill contemplates whether the murderer is a staff member one of the adult residents or worse one of the vulnerable teenagers seeking refuge from turmoil In this gripping mystery the reputation of the EsCa as well as the young director's future are on the line as a patron's secrets are revealed and a bloodthirsty killer seeks revenge Dorothea in the Mirror Lois Wells Santalo, Wells Santalo Lois Wells Santalo, 2010 Immigrants in flight from Hitler the Szekelys were not part of the huddled masses so often associated with Ellis Island They were highly educated people their gifted son Zoltan had been a concert pianist since the age of eight he had performed with symphony orchestras and entertained the troops in India and Asia during World War II It was hard to think of them in connection with a murder Yet by a twist of fate they find themselves involved and their son stands accused of murder It seems the ultimate irony that refugee Jewish pianist Zoltan Szekely is arrested for the murder of Dorothea Granger Has he escaped Hitler's deadly assault only to become enmeshed in the American legal system The police believe that they have found their murderer they feel they have incontrovertible evidence of Zoltan's guilt Only his estranged wife Jill is in a position to pursue an investigation that might prove his innocence But Jill disillusioned after years of struggling to make their marriage work has left Zoltan Will she ultimately come through for him and be able to prove his innocence

The Reality Slap Russ Harris,2012-03-01 The reality slap takes many different forms Sometimes it s more like a punch the death of a loved one a serious illness a divorce the loss of a job a freak accident or a shocking betrayal Sometimes it s a little gentler Envy loneliness resentment failure disappointment and rejection can sting just as much But whatever form your reality slap takes one thing s for sure it hurts And most of us don t deal with the pain very well The Reality Slap offers a four part path for healing from crises based on acceptance and commitment therapy In these pages you will learn how to Find peace in the midst of your pain Rediscover calm in the midst of chaos Turn difficult emotions into wisdom and compassion Find fulfillment even when you can t get what you want Heal your wounds and emerge stronger than before Unlike some self help books that claim you can have everything you ever wanted in life if you only put your mind to it this book claims that you can t have everything in life The hard truth of this world is that we are all going to experience disappointment frustration failure loss rejection illness injury aging and death at some point However in spite of all this you can still lead a rich and rewarding life Let this book be your guide
