Houghton-Walker,2023-04-25 Repetition has connotations of something boring or unoriginal or lacking in poetic skill but repetition in several different senses dominates Wordsworth's poetry This book explores those moments of repetition placing them in the early nineteenth century context from which they emerged and teasing out through extended close attention to the poetry itself the complexities of repetition and recapitulation Drawing on extensive close readings of Wordsworth's poetry the book asks what it means to repeat and how saying things again often in a way which recognises both sameness and difference at the same time is fundamental to Wordsworth's attempt to write what he called sincere verse By analysing instances of repetition and the conjunctions which facilitate recapitulation within Wordsworth's writing the book attempts to understand the context in terms of ideas of repetition from which Wordsworth's works emerge and to consider repetition in a broad range of senses from repeated words and sounds within particular poems to ideas of translation allusion and echo Houghton Walker also argues the importance of the element of difference within even apparently pure repetition Such difference might be in perception attitude or understanding but for Wordsworth the subtle relationship between instances of what seems to be the same experience illuminates the potential for poetry to portray simultaneously the specific and the universal to hold within its lines both immediate and general truths at the same time [The Complete Essays, Lectures & Letters of S. The Golden and the Brazen World John M. Wallace, 2023-11-15 The Golden and the Brazen World: Papers in Literature and History 1650-1800 examines the evolving relationship between literature and history inspired by Sir Philip Sidney's Defence of Poetry Sidney's distinction between poetry's golden world, which idealizes and conveys moral truths, and history's brazen world, focused on detailed but often confusing facts, frames the central theme By the 18th century, this rivalry had softened into a collaborative exchange, with poets drawing on historical subjects for inspiration and historians using narrative techniques to enhance their work This interdisciplinary dialogue reflects their shared roots in moral philosophy and their complementary efforts to illuminate human experience The essays in this collection, based on lectures from the Clark Library, showcase this intersection through specific case studies Topics range from Andrew Marvell's The First Anniversary and its political poetic implications to re-evaluations of John Dryden's Absalom and Achitophel Contributions also include Susan Staves' exploration of legal history in 18th-century marriage and James Chandler's analysis of Edmund Burke's influence on Wordsworth Together, these essays reveal how literature and history shape and inform each other highlighting their combined potential to enrich intellectual and cultural understanding This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1985 ,
