Prisons Crowding: A Psychological Perspective Paul Paulus, 2012-12-06 This volume is a summary of a 15 year effort to determine the effects of prison crowding and their relationship to the broader realm of crowding phenomena and theories. Although the writing of this volume was for the most part a solitary effort, the data and ideas it is based on were mostly the result of a collaborative effort with Verne Cox and Garvin McCain. Their schedules limited their ability to contribute to this volume, but they provided much constructive feedback and assistance. Cox also wrote a preliminary draft of Chapter 3 and both McCain and Cox made major contributions to Chapter 5 and assisted with several other chapters. I am greatly indebted to these two fine scholars for their efforts and support over the course of our joint research endeavors. In recognition of this fact, the pronoun we is used throughout this volume. This research would not have been possible without the cooperation and support of thousands of inmates and hundreds of prison officials. The unconditional support throughout the project from Director Norman Carlson and former regional research director Jerome Mabli, both of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, is also greatly appreciated. Thanks are due to the National Institute of Justice for financial support during various phases of this project. The support of John Spevacek of the Institute was indispensable. Funds were also provided by the Hogg Foundation, U.S. Department of Justice Civil Rights Division, and the University of Texas at Arlington. Dictionary of Prisons and

For Abolition David Scott, 2020-11-05 According to Jonathan Swift 1667 1745 Laws are like cobwebs which may catch small flies but let wasps and hornets break through Connecting the politics of abolition to wider emancipatory struggles for liberation and social justice this book argues that penal abolitionism should be understood as an important public critical pedagogy and philosophy of hope that can help to reinvigorate democracy and set society on a pathway towards living in a world without prisons For Abolition draws upon the socialist ethics of dignity empathy freedom and paradigm of life to systematically critique imprisonment as a state institution characterised by social death A systematic critique of imprisonment which challenges established views and myths Examines why there still exists so much political and other misguided support for a long failing institution Reviews A thoroughly engaging and passionate challenge to dominant understandings of crime and punishment Prisons are revealed as sites of mental and physical brutality utterly incapable of providing constructive transformative regimes Professor Emma Bell University of Savoie A timely and urgent reminder of the need for Abolition excellently exposes prisons as institutions of domination repression and power A must read for all concerned with the state of prisons Dr Kathryn Chadwick Manchester Metropolitan University A book that should be cherished by scholars students practitioners and activists alike it is rare to find a text so sensitively and empathically composed Dr Alana Barton Edge Hill University Research Handbook on Violent Crime and Society Wendy Regoeczi, Terance Miethe, 2025-09-10 This comprehensive Handbook examines the various forms of violence that occur within and across societies It explores the multiple psychological sociological and environmental causes underlying violence as well as the nature of its distribution across different social groups geographical areas and time periods Report of the Prison Commissioners and the Directors of Convict Prisons, with Appendices Great Britain. Commissioners of Prisons, 1912 The Environmental Psychology of Prisons and Jails Richard E. Wener, 2012-06-18 This book distils thirty years of research on the impacts of jail and prison environments The research program began with evaluations of new jails that were created by the US Bureau of Prisons which had a novel design intended to provide a non traditional and safe environment for pre trial inmates and documented the stunning success of these jails in reducing tension and violence This book uses assessments of this new model as a basis for considering the nature of environment and behavior in correctional settings and more broadly in all human settings It provides a critical review of research on jail environments and of specific issues critical to the way they are experienced and places them in historical and theoretical context It presents a contextual model for the way environment influences the chance of violence Capital Punishment in America Evan Mandery, 2011-02-28 This revised and updated second edition is an overview of capital punishment It offers an examination of the death penalty supported by statistics and Supreme Court cases and followed by pro and con discussions The book addresses every major issue relating to the death penalty including deterrence racial impact arbitrariness its use on special populations and methods of execution This text challenges students to evaluate their beliefs and assumptions on each of the various issues surrounding this controversial subject Each chapter begins with a primer of the issue to be discussed followed by the data and critical documents necessary to make an educated assessment and concludes with essays that offer differing viewpoints by some of the best minds in the country New material added to the second edition includes updated data on deterrence new data and articles on brutalization and cost new cases and articles on the death penalty for juveniles new case and articles on the death penalty for raping a child and a new chapter on methods of execution
